G. Collingwood, 1967 Essays in the Philosophy of History R. G. Collingwood, 1967 Philosophy in History Richard Rorty, Jerome B. Schneewind, Quentin Skinner, 1984-11-08 Lectures delivered as a series at Johns Hopkins University during 1982-83 Objectivity, Method, and Point of View Willem J. van der Dussen, Lionel Rubinoff, 1991 The essays collected together in this volume originated with a symposium which addressed a variety of issues associated with the publications of Professor W H Dray in the philosophy of history In this expanded version of the original symposium to which Professor Dray has provided a critical response a group of prominent philosophers and historians address the central questions posed by contemporary philosophy of history such as the logic and methodology of historical explanation the selection and uses of evidence the fact value relationship the nature of historical causation the question of conflicting interpretations and their possible resolution the idea of history as a school of practical wisdom and the question whether history has any discernable pattern or meaning These issues are approached from the experience of both historians and philosophers and represent an important increment to the long standing and continuing debates concerning the nature and aims of the practice and philosophy of history Essays in the Philosophy of History Tadeusz Buksiński, 1994 Heretical Essays in the Philosophy of History Jan Patočka, 1996 History begins inseparably with the birth of the polis and of philosophy Both represent a unity in strife History is life that no longer takes itself for granted To speak then of the meaning of history is not to tell a story with a projected happy or unhappy ending as Western civilization has hoped at least since the French Revolution History's meaning is the meaning of the struggle in which being both reveals and conceals itself Technological society represents both the triumph of historicity and its implosion since here humans turn from reaching for the sacrum imperium life lived in the perspective of truth and justice to the mundane satisfaction of mundane needs to life lived for the sake of catering to life Historical Experience David Carr, 2021-03-30 This volume brings together a collection of recent essays on the philosophy and theory of history This is a field of lively interdisciplinary discussion and research to which historians philosophers and theorists of culture and literature have contributed The author is a philosopher by training and his inspiration comes primarily from the continental phenomenological tradition Thus the influence of Husserl Heidegger Merleau Ponty and Ricoeur can be discerned here This background opens up a unique perspective on the issues under discussion Phenomenology differs from other philosophical approaches like metaphysics and epistemology Phenomenology asks of anything that exists or may exist how is it given how does it enter our experience what is our experience of it like Very broadly we can say phenomenology is about experience At first glance this approach may seem ill suited to history In our language history usually means either 1 what happened i e past events or 2 our knowledge of what happened We can t experience past events and whatever knowledge we have of them must come from other sources memory testimony physical traces But the author maintains that we actually do experience historical events and these essays explain how this is so Sitting at the intersection of philosophy and history and divided into three parts Historicity Narrative and Time Teleology and History and Embodiment and Experience this is the ideal volume for those interested in experience from a philosophical and historical perspective Studies in the Philosophy of History George H. Nadel,1965 The Sense of the Past Bernard Williams,2006 This collection of historical essays range from the 6th century BC to the 20th century AD from Homer to Collingwood by way of Socrates Plato and Aristotle Descartes Hume and Nietzsche This is the history of philosophy written philosophically Insights into the past counteract blind acceptance of present assumptions Philosophy, History and Biology: Essays in Honour of Jean Gayon Pierre-Olivier Méthot,2023-06-26 This book builds on recent scholarship highlighted in the edited collections Philosophie histoire biologie m langes offerts Jean Gayon Merlin Huneman 2018 and Knowledge of Life Today Gayon Petit 2018 2019 While honoring the career and the thought of Jean Gayon 1949 2018 this book showcases the continued relevance of Gayon s interdisciplinary work and illustrates his central place in the community of historians and philosophers of the life sciences Chapters in this book address Jean Gayon s intellectual trajectory from historical epistemology to the philosophy of biology the nature and scope of his philosophical approach to the history of science and his unique contributions to the history and epistemology of biological concepts and theories Drawing on published and unpublished sources the book explores some of Gayon s most significant contributions to the philosophy history and social studies of biology History as a Science Jan van der Dussen,2020-05-11 Since its appearance in 1981 History as a Science by Jan van der Dussen has been welcomed as a coherent and comprehensive study of the many aspects of Collingwood s philosophy of history including its development and reception The book was the first to pay attention to Collingwood s unpublished manuscripts and to his work as an archaeologist and historian herewith opening up a new angle in Collingwood studies The republication of this volume meets an increasing demand to make the book available for future Collingwood scholars and people interested in Collingwood s philosophy The present edition of History as a Science includes updated references to the published manuscripts and an added preface History and Theory: Studies in the Philosophy of History Carey B.
