Essays On Individualism Modern Ideology In Anthropological Perspective:

Essays on Individualism Louis Dumont, 1986 Louis Dumont's Essays on Individualism is an ambitious attempt to place the modern ideology of individualism in a broad anthropological perspective. The result of twenty years of scholarship and inquiry, the interrelated essays gathered here not only trace the genesis and growth of individualism as the dominant force in Western philosophy but also analyze the differences between this modern system of thought and those of other nonmodern cultures. The collection represents an important contribution to Western society's understanding of itself and its place in the world.

Identity and Freedom Leondas Donskis, 2003-09-02 Identity and Freedom provides a discursive map of Lithuanian liberal nationalism by focusing on the work of three eminent Lithuanian migr scholars: Vytautas Kavolis, Aleksandras Shtromas, and Tomas Venclova. Presenting these critics of society and also analysing the significant impact of such writers as George Orwell and Czeslaw Milosz on Lithuanian political and cultural dissent, the book elaborates their three models of liberal nationalism as social criticism. Incorporating material which has so far only been available in Lithuanian, Polish, and Russian sources, this book will be invaluable for anyone interested in Central and East European politics, culture, and society.

The Rites of Assent Sacvan Bercovitch, 2014-01-14 The Rites of Assent examines the cultural strategies through which America served as a vehicle simultaneously for diversity and cohesion, fusion and fragmentation. Taking an ethnographic cross-cultural approach, The Rites of Assent traces the meanings and purposes of America back to the colonial typology of mission and specifically in chapters on Puritan rhetoric, Cotton Mather, Jonathan Edwards, and the movement from Revival to Revolution to the legacy of early New England.

Why Spirituality is Difficult for Westerners David Hay, 2017-05-09 Dr David Hay is Honorary Senior Research Fellow at the University of Aberdeen. A zoologist by profession, his research has been guided by the hypothesis that religious or spiritual awareness is biologically natural to the human species and has been selected for in the process of organic evolution because it has survival value. Although naturalistic, this hypothesis is not intended to be reductionist with regard to religion. Nevertheless, it does imply that all people, including those who have no religious belief, have a spiritual life. His research has included a number of national and in-depth surveys of reports of religious or spiritual experience in the United Kingdom.

Religious Individualisation Martin Fuchs, Antje Linkenbach, Martin Mulrow, Bernd-Christian Otto, Rahul Björn Parson, Jörg Rüpke, 2019-12-16 This volume brings together key findings of the long-term research project Religious Individualisation in Historical Perspective. Max Weber Centre for Advanced Cultural and Social Studies, Erfurt University. Combining a wide range of disciplinary approaches, methods, and theories, the volume assembles over 50 contributions that explore and compare processes of religious individualisation in different religious environments and historical periods, in particular in Asia, the Mediterranean, and Europe from antiquity to the recent past. Contrary to standard theories of modernisation which tend to regard religious individualisation as a specifically modern or early modern as well as an essentially Western or Christian phenomenon, the chapters reveal processes of religious individualisation in a large variety of non Western and pre modern scenarios Furthermore the volume challenges prevalent views that regard religions primarily as collective phenomena and provides nuanced perspectives on the appropriation of religious agency the pluralisation of religious options dynamics of de traditionalisation and privatisation the development of elaborated notions of the self the facilitation of religious deviance and on the notion of dividuality The Sea Commands Paulo Mendes,2020-12-09 Azenha do Mar is a fishing community on the southwest coast of Portugal It came into existence around forty years ago as an outcome of the abandonment of work in the fields and of propitious ecological conditions This book looks at the migration processes since the founding of the community and how they relate to the social inequalities for property and labour which prevail today The book also reflects upon the personal experience of the ethnographer in the field balancing the importance of methodology on the one hand and fieldwork as a research process on the other Dynamics of Religion in Southeast Asia Volker Gottowik,2025-10-01 Modernity is surrounded by an almost magic aura that casts a spell over people all over the world To connect with modernity various ways and means are used among them magic practices and religious ideas Dynamics of Religion in Southeast Asia Magic and Modernity deals with the magic in and of modernity and asks about its current significance for the dynamics of religion in Southeast Asia Drawing on recent ethnographic research in this area the contributors to this wide ranging volume demonstrate how religious concepts contribute to meeting the challenges of modernity Against this background religion and modernity are no longer perceived as in contradiction rather it is argued that a revision of the western notion of religion is required to understand the complexity of multiple modernities in a globalised world Dynamics of Religion in Southeast Asia Magic and Modernity is part of the series Global Asia in close collaboration with the International Institute for Asian Studies IIAS Restless Secularism Matthew Mutter,2017-06-27 A scholarly and deeply sensitive study that explores how religion and secularism are tightly interwoven in the major works of modernist literature Matthew Mutter provides a broad survey of modernist literature examining key works against a background of philosophy theology intellectual and social history while tracing the relationship of modernism s secular imagination to the religious cultures that both preceded and shaped it Mutter s provocative study demonstrates how despite their explicit desire to purify secular life of its religious residues Wallace Stevens Virginia Woolf and other literary modernists consistently found themselves entangled in the religious legacies they disavowed Temporary and Gig Economy Workers in China and Japan Huiyan Fu,2023-06-07 While a large number of studies exist on political economic institutional explanations for the prevalence of precarious work few have delved into the elusive yet critical domain of culture This is highly pertinent to China and Japan whose shared tradition of Confucianism broadly defined continues to inform many aspects of society In particular core values such as hierarchy harmony and the subordination of individual interests to collective requirements impinge importantly on the iniquitous patterns of precarious work and its surrounding institutions ranging from state policy and legislation to industrial relations and social welfare The pervasiveness and entrenched nature of culture has been especially evidenced by Japan's distinctly gendered and China's rural urban citizenship based labour market stratifications. By bridging culture and institutions, Temporary and Gig Economy Workers in China and Japan brings a more integrated and nuanced understanding of unequal work, casting fresh light on social change in China, Japan and beyond. Emphasis is placed not only on macro level structural scrutiny but also on micro agency empiricism, i.e. real people's experiences in everyday life. This holistic and comparative approach, as demonstrated by the book, will go a long way towards tackling the negative consequences of precarious work in a wider post pandemic world.

Marcel Gauchet and the Crisis of Democratic Politics Natalie J. Doyle, Sean McMorrow, 2022-02-25 This book presents for the first time in the English language Marcel Gauchet's interpretation of the challenges faced by contemporary Western societies as a result of the crisis of liberal democratic politics and the growing influence of populism. Responding to Gauchet's analysis, international experts explore the depoliticising aspects of contemporary democratic culture that explain the appeal of populism, neo liberal individualism, the cult of the individual and its related human rights and the juridification of all human relationships. The book also provides the intellectual context within which Gauchet's understanding of modern society has developed, in particular his critical engagement with Marxism and the profound influence of Cornelius Castoriadis and Claude Lefort on his work. It highlights the way Gauchet's work remains faithful to an understanding of history that stresses the role of humanity as a collective subject while also seeking to account for both the historical novelty of contemporary individualism and the new form of alienation that radical modernity engenders. In doing so, the book also opens up new avenues for reflection on the political significance of the contemporary health crisis. Marcel Gauchet and the Crisis of Democratic Politics will be of great interest to scholars and postgraduate students of social and political thought, political anthropology and sociology, political philosophy and political theory.

The Subject of Virtue James Laidlaw, 2014 A clearly written, sophisticated summary of and prospectus for a flourishing current field of anthropological research.

Troubled Identity and the Modern World L. Donskis, 2009-05-25 The book maps what Leonidas Donskis terms the troubled identity that is the identity that constantly needs assurance and confirmation. Through an identity building and shifting process, argues Donskis, we can move from political majority to cultural minority or the other way around.

Bioethics, Healthcare and the Soul Henk ten Have, Renzo Pegoraro, 2021-09-16 This thought provoking book explores the connections between health, ethics and soul. It analyzes how and why the soul has been lost from scientific discourses, healthcare practices and ethical discussions, presenting suggestions for change. Arguing that the dominant scientific worldview has eradicated talk about the soul and presents an objective and technical approach to human life and its vulnerabilities, Ten Have and Pegoraro look to rediscover identity, humanity and meaning in healthcare and bioethics. Taking a multidisciplinary approach, they investigate philosophical, scientific, historical, cultural, social, religious, economic and environmental perspectives as they journey toward a new global bioethics, emphasizing the role of the moral imagination. Bioethics, Healthcare and the Soul is an important read for students, researchers and practitioners interested in bioethics and person centred healthcare      Consumer Society and the Post-modern City David B Clarke,2004-03-01 The fact that we inhabit a consumer society has incredibly far reaching implications Working through the often controversial ideas of the consumer society s most influential theorists Jean Baudrillard and Zygmunt Bauman this book assesses the ways in which consumerism is reshaping the nature and meaning of the city It examines the nature of consumption and its increasing centrality to post modern society by considering the development of consumerism as a central facet of social life demonstrating that social inequalities are increasingly structured around consumption uncovering the hidden consequences of consumerism pondering the meaning of lifestyle revealing how the nature of reality is changing in an age of globalization Employing a sustained and engaging theoretical analysis the book ranges across a variety of sometimes unexpected topics It represents an impassioned plea for everyone interested in the social life of cities to take the notion of the consumer society and the arguments of its major theorists seriously      The Routledge Dictionary of
