Reinventing Romantic Poetry Diana Greene, 2004-01-15 Reinventing Romantic Poetry offers a new look at the Russian literary scene in the nineteenth century While celebrated poets such as Aleksandr Pushkin worked within a male centered Romantic aesthetic the poet as a bard or sexual conqueror nature as a mother or mistress the poet's muse as an idealized woman Russian women attempting to write Romantic poetry found they had to reinvent poetic conventions of the day to express themselves as women and as poets Comparing the poetry of fourteen men and fourteen women from this period Diana Greene revives and redefines the women's writings and offers a thoughtful examination of the sexual politics of reception and literary reputation The fourteen women considered wrote poetry in every genre from visions to verse tales from love lyrics to metaphysical poetry as well as prose works and plays Greene delves into the reasons why their writing was dismissed focusing in particular on the work of Evdokiia Rostopchina Nadezhda Khvoshchinskaia and Karolina Pavlova

Greene also considers class as a factor in literary reputation comparing canonical male poets with the work of other men whose work like the women's was deemed inferior at the time. The book also features an appendix of significant poems by Russian women discussed in the text. Some found in archival notebooks are published here for the first time and others are reprinted for the first time since the mid nineteenth century.

A History of Women's Writing in Russia Adele Marie Barker, Jehanne M. Gheith, 2002-07-11. A History of Women's Writing in Russia offers a comprehensive account of the lives and works of Russia's women writers. Based on original and archival research, this volume forces a re-examination of many of the traditionally held assumptions about Russian literature and women's role in the tradition. In setting about the process of reintegrating women writers into the history of Russian literature, contributors have addressed the often surprising contexts within which women's writing has been produced. Chapters reveal a flourishing literary tradition where none was thought to exist. They redraw the map defining Russia's literary periods; they look at how Russia's women writers articulated their own experience and they reassess their relationship to the dominant male tradition. The volume is supported by extensive reference features including a bibliography and guide to writers and their works.

A New Word on The Brothers Karamazov Robert Louis Jackson, 2004. Clear and compelling new readings of Dostoevsky's last and greatest novel.

The Ethics of the Poet Ute Stock, 2005. This study rehabilitates Tsvetaeva as a serious innovative ethical thinker who developed an ethics for the poet that could dispense with universal value guarantees. For Tsvetaeva, ethical judgements had to be individual rather than universal, open to revision rather than permanent. Examining her ideational background, the study sheds new light on the pre-exile years when Tsvetaeva suffered from a profound uncertainty about the moral nature and duty of the poet. It identifies the experience of exile as a catalyst for the development of her ethical thought that culminated in Iskusstvo pri svete sovesti. Considering Tsvetaeva's application of her ethics in her life, this study reveals her emphasis on the personal to be the direct result of her ethical belief in individual judgements. Her conscious effort persistently to counteract dominant political ideologies similarly stems from her ethical suspicion of any kind of claim on universal truth. Finally, the study assesses the significance of Tsvetaeva's suicide, revealing it to be the inevitable terrifying consequence of her ethical self-definition, her commitment to individual freedom and the pursuit of higher truths.

Love for Sale Colleen Lucey, 2021-09-15. Love for Sale is the first study to examine the ubiquity of commercial sex in Russian literary and artistic production from the nineteenth century through the fin de siècle. Colleen Lucey offers a compelling account of how the figure of the sex worker captivated the public's imagination through depictions in fiction and fine art, bringing to light how imperial Russians grappled with the issue of sexual commerce. Studying a wide range of media from little-known engravings that circulated in newspapers to works of canonical fiction, Lucey shows how writers and artists used the topic of prostitution both to comment on women's shifting social roles at the end of tsarist rule and to express anxieties about the incursion of capitalist transactions in relations of the heart. Each of the book's chapters focus on a type of commercial sex, looking at how the street walker brothel worker demimondaine kept woman impoverished bride and madam traded in sex as a means to acquire capital Lucey argues that prostitution became a focal point for imperial Russians because it signaled both the promises of modernity and the anxieties associated with Westernization Love for Sale integrates historical analysis literary criticism and feminist theory and conveys how nineteenth century beliefs about the fallen woman drew from medical judicial and religious discourse on female sexuality Lucey invites readers to draw a connection between rhetoric of the nineteenth century and today s debate on sex workers rights highlighting recent controversies concerning Russian sex workers to show how imperial discourse is recycled in the twenty first century

A Double Life Karolina Pavlova,2019-08-06 An unsung classic of nineteenth century Russian literature Karolina Pavlova s A Double Life alternates prose and poetry to offer a wry picture of Russian aristocratic society and vivid dreams of escaping its strictures Pavlova combines rich narrative prose that details balls tea parties and horseback rides with poetic interludes that depict her protagonist s inner world and biting irony that pervades a seemingly romantic description of a young woman who has everything A Double Life tells the story of Cecily who is being trapped into marriage by her well meaning mother her best friend Olga and Olga s mother who means to clear the way for a wealthier suitor for her own daughter by marrying off Cecily first Cecily s privileged upbringing makes her oblivious to the havoc that is being wreaked around her Only in the seclusion of her bedroom is her imagination freed each day of deception is followed by a night of dreams described in soaring verse Pavlova subtly speaks against the limitations placed on women and especially women writers which translator Barbara Heldt highlights in a critical introduction Among the greatest works of literature by a Russian woman writer A Double Life is worthy of a central place in the Russian canon

A History of Russian Literature Andrew Kahn,Mark Naumovich Lipovet[s]kiĭ,Irina Reyfman,Stephanie Sandler,2018 Russia possesses one of the richest and most admired literatures of Europe reaching back to the eleventh century A History of Russian Literature provides a comprehensive account of Russian writing from its earliest origins in the monastic works of

Kiev up to the present day still rife with the creative experiments of post Soviet literary life The volume proceeds chronologically in five parts extending from Kievan Rus in the 11th century to the present day The coverage strikes a balance between extensive overview and in depth thematic focus Parts are organized thematically in chapters which a number of keywords that are important literary concepts that can serve as connecting motifs and case studies in depth discussions of writers institutions and texts that take the reader up close and Visual material also underscores the interrelation of the word and image at a number of points particularly significant in the medieval period and twentieth century The History addresses major continuities and discontinuities in the history of Russian literature across all periods and in particular bring out trans historical features that contribute to the notion of a national literature The volume s time range has the merit of identifying from the early modern period a vital set of national stereotypes and popular folklore about boundaries space Holy Russia and the charismatic king that offers culturally relevant material to later writers This volume delivers a fresh view on a series of key questions about Russia s literary history by providing new mappings of literary history and a narrative that pursues key concepts rather more than individual authorial careers This holistic narrative underscores the ways in which context and text are densely woven in Russian literature and demonstrates that the most exciting way to understand the canon and the development of tradition is through a discussion of the interrelation of major and minor figures historical events and literary politics literary theory and literary innovation

The Same Solitude Catherine Ciepiela, 2018-09-05 Still we have the same solitude the same journeys and searching and the same favorite turns in the labyrinth of literature and history Boris Pasternak to Marina Tsvetaeva One of the most compelling episodes of twentieth century Russian literature involves the epistolary romance that blossomed between the modernist poets Marina Tsvetaeva and Boris Pasternak in the 1920s Only weeks after Tsvetaeva emigrated from Russia in 1922 Pasternak discovered her poetry and sent her a letter of praise and admiration Tsvetaeva's enthusiastic response began a decade long affair conducted entirely through letters This correspondence written across the widening divide separating Soviet Russia from Russian migrants in continental Europe offers a view into the overlapping worlds of literary creativity sexual identity and political affiliation Following both sides of their conversation Catherine Ciepiela charts the poets changing relations to each other to the extraordinary political events of the period and to literature itself The Same Solitude presents the first full account of this affair of letters and poems from its beginning in the summer of 1922 to its denouement in the 1930s Drawing on many previously untranslated letters and poems Ciepiela describes the poets mutual influence both in the course of their lives and the development of their art Neither poet saw any separation between a poet's life and work and Ciepiela treats each poet's letters and poems as a single text She discusses the poets' famous triangular correspondence with Rainer Maria Rilke in 1926 and she addresses the profound significance of Tsvetaeva for Pasternak who is often perceived mistakenly Ciepiela asserts as the more detached partner Further this book expands our understanding of poetic modernism by showing how the poets worked through ideas about gender and writing in the context of what they themselves called a literary marriage

Pushkin's Tatiana Olga Peters Hasty, 1999 ONE OF THE most discussed and elusive female characters in the Russian literary tradition Pushkin's Tatiana Larina is the progenetrix of an impressive list of heroines ranging from Tolstoy's Anna Karenina to Pasternak's Lara Guishar in Doctor Zhivago In this provocative new book Olga Hasty offers the first study of Pushkin's novel in verse Eugene Onegin that focuses systematically on Tatiana A major revisionist reading of one of the central texts of the Russian canon Hasty's Tatianacentric approach to Eugene Onegin revitalizes our understanding of both Pushkin's heroine and the novel in which she appears Hasty shows with elegance and psychological insight how Tatiana is able to realize her imaginative potential in a context full of real risk and constraint Tatiana emerges as a new literary psychological and cultural model who enacts precisely those creative tensions and possibilities on which Pushkin himself drew Pushkin's Tatiana recovers the erotic energy self control and expressivity of Pushkin's most beloved heroine freeing her from the clichéd image of self-sacrificial woman Hasty concludes with an insightful exploration of Tatiana's subsequent role in the self-presentations of the Russian poets Karolina Pavlova and Marina Tsvetaeva
