a preeminent Jewish philosopher who examined the epistemological foundations of social science inquiry during the second half of the twentieth century the book undertakes a study of concept formation and change by looking at the four critical terms in anthropology kinship politics parliament and Rousseau's concept of the general will and sociology individualism The author challenges prevailing notions of concept formation and definition specifically assertions by Gottlieb Frege that concepts have fixed clear boundaries that are not subject to change Instead drawing upon arguments by R G Collingwood Goldstein asserts that concepts have a historical dimension with boundaries and meanings that change with their use and context Goldstein's work provides insight for philosophers historians political scientists anthropologists and Judaica scholars interested in the study and meaning of critical concepts within their fields R.
