An Intellectual History for India Shruti Kapila, 2010-05-31 This volume addresses the power of ideas in the making of Indian political modernity As an intermediate history of connections between South Asia and the global arena the volume raises new issues in intellectual history It reviews the period from the emergence of constitutional liberalism in the 1830s through the swadeshi era to the writings of Tilak Azad and Gandhi in the twentieth century While several contributions reflect on the ideologies of nationalism the volume seeks to rescue intellectual history from being simply a narration of the nation state It does not seek to create a canon of political thought so much as to show how Indian concepts of state and society were redrawn in the context of emergent globalized debates about freedom the constitution of the self and the good society in the late colonial era In so doing the contributions here resituate an Indian intellectual history that has long been eclipsed by social and political history These essays were originally published in a Special issue of the journal Modern Intellectual History CUP April 2007
