

The background of the book cover is a painting of an industrial scene. In the foreground, a steam locomotive is on the tracks, emitting a plume of white smoke from its chimney. The locomotive's side is dark with some white lettering, including 'HCM'. To the right of the locomotive, a group of four men in dark uniforms are standing. In the background, there are large, cylindrical storage silos or grain elevators, some with metal ladders or scaffolding. A multi-story building is visible behind the silos. The overall style is that of a historical painting, with a focus on industrial infrastructure.
