Edited by Sir Joseph Hutchinson Sir Joseph Burt Hutchinson, 1965 Evolutionary Studies in World Crops Sir Joseph Burt Hutchinson, 1974-04-25 An account of the evolution and principles involved in breeding crops grown in the tropics This book developed from a symposium held in New Delhi in 1970 at the Indian Agricultural Research Institute It begins with a consideration of the history of agriculture Recent techniques make it possible to set crop plant evolution against the time scale of agricultural development enabling the rate of evolution to be determined with some precision Throughout the account the studies stress the range of material and changes and improvements in crops with special reference to their importance not only in the tropics but also to world agriculture This book brings to the notice of geneticists and breeders in western countries the work undertaken in India in elucidating the evolution and recent improvement of crop plants of world wide importance It is also an authoritative account for students of plant breeding in the tropics taking courses in universities in institutes and colleges of agriculture who need to have within the covers of one book a comprehensive yet concise text that clearly sets out the principles involved in the breeding of crops grown in the tropics Food Crops: Evolution, Diversity and Advances D.A. Patil, 2019-01-10 The treatise presents a wide range of information on different facets of world food crops It justifies the present state of knowledge with reference to crop history initial and latest developments with evolutionary approach based on karyotaxonomic and geographical evidence The author has endeavored to dilate attempts for crop domestication and cultivation by worldwide human societies These are supported by various considerations like ethnology philology ancient and religious treatises archaeological evidence works of pioneers various human affairs etc He further based his writing on botanical conclusions accrued from distribution number of varieties occurrence of wild types agro botanical characteristics time and place of origin and worldwide usage of each crop species The treatise is a highly acclaimed source of information of crop plants useful to degree and post graduate students of botany agriculture and food science as a main text and reference work for researchers It is recommendable for use in any country especially in the English speaking world It will also appeal to the general reader being rich in contents In a nutshell this treatise is a history of development of food crops And therefore a humble attempt has been made first to ascertain what was actually done or said and second to emphasize the causes of success or failure Truly it is the study of causes that makes history more fruitful and a basis for evaluating the future events with confidence Evolution of Crop Plants Norman Willison Simmonds, 1976 Ern hrungsgeschichte Kulturpflanzenbau Regionale Geographie Corn C. Wayne Smith, Javier Betrán, Edward C. A. Runge, 2004-03-08 Your all in one guide to corn This book provides practical advice on planting techniques and rates seed production treating plant diseases insect infestation and weeds harvesting processing and worldwide utilization This is the fourth and final volume in the series of comprehensive references on the major crops of the world Covers new biotechnology techniques for plant breeding and pest management Provides practical advice on planting techniques and rates seed production treating plant diseases insect infestation and weeds harvesting processing and worldwide utilization PLANT BREEDING METHODS MAHABAL RAM,2014-10-01 This comprehensive book provides a detailed account of the plant breeding methodology covering particularly pre and post Green Revolution era It elaborates on plant breeding and gene manipulation utilization of self incompatibility in developing hybrids different plant breeding methods for development of crop varieties and hybrids in self and cross pollinated crops nature of gene action and genotype environment interaction The text discusses gene manipulation in the crop plant and transfer of genes from wild species to cultivated crops application of biotechnology in plant breeding and genetic engineering and transgenic molecular markers as breeding tools and their limitations It concludes with a discussion on physiologic breeding approach and new plant ideotype concepts which are new and emerging areas of interest in plant breeding research The book will be of immense use to undergraduate and postgraduate students of Agricultural Sciences and Botany for their course study Besides research scholars and professionals will also find the book as an excellent source of reference Bibliography of Agriculture ,1965

The Origin and Domestication of Cultivated Plants C. Barigozzi,2012-12-02 This book consists of the proceedings of a symposium organized by the Accademia Nazionale dei Lincei Rome The proceedings are unusual in that it is a rare event to see archaeologists and geneticists coming together to discuss the connection between historical facts and biological phenomena The aim of the symposium was to discuss the origin of some important cultivated plants wheat maize barley oat legumes and fruit trees not only in relation to genetical mechanisms but also as a complex of historical facts recognizable through archaeological research This international Meeting based on interdisciplinary concepts met with a prompt and positive reaction from all those specialists invited to attend The book itself is an unparalleled contribution to the interdisciplinary knowledge on the origin of crop plants and agriculture Origins of African Plant Domestication Jack R. Harlan,2011-06-24 No detailed description available for Origins of African Plant Domestication Beyond the Green Revolution Kenneth Dahlberg,2012-12-06 This book which is the result of an intellectual odyssey began as an attempt to explore and map the environmental and cross cultural dimensions of the continuing spread of the green revolution that package of high yielding varieties of grain fertilizers irrigation and pesticides that constitutes the core of modern industrial agriculture In the process of traversing the terrain of several intellectual traditions and cutting through various disciplinary forests and thickets a number of striking observations were made all leading to two sober ing conclusions First most intellectual maps dealing with agriculture fail to recognize it as the basic interface between human societies and their environment Because of this they are little better than the flat earth maps of earlier centuries in helping to understand global realities Second when agriculture is analyzed from a global perspec tive that takes evolution seriously one sees that the ecological risks as well as the energy and social costs of modern industrial agriculture make it largely inappropriate for developing countries Beyond that one can see a great need within industrialized countries to develop less costly less risky and more sustainable agricultural alternatives Early in the journey it became clear that conventional disciplinary approaches were inadequate to comprehend the scope and diversity of global agriculture and that a new multilevel approach was needed It also became clear that any new approach would have to try to correct certain Western biases and blind spots First Images of America, Volume II Fredi Chiappelli, 2023-12-22 Palaeoethnobotany F.A. Lone, M. Khan, G.M. Buth, 2020-08-26 A study of the palaeoethnobotany of Kashmir covering covers the period from 4500 BP to 1000 BP It includes keys to the identification of various species of Triticum Hordeum Avena and Prunus and hard and soft woods and lists the criteria for identification of weed seeds of some 200 species Encyclopedia of Anthropology H. James Bix, 2006 Focuses on physical social and applied anthropology archaeology linguistics and symbolic communication Topics include hominid evolution primate behaviour genetics ancient civilizations cross cultural studies and social theories People, Plants and Genes Denis J Murphy, 2007-07-19 This book provides a comprehensive interdisciplinary overview of human plant interactions and their social consequences from the hunter gatherers of the Palaeolithic Era to the 21st century molecular manipulation of crops It links the latest advances in molecular genetics climate research and archaeology to give a new perspective on the evolution of agriculture and complex human societies across the world Even today our technologically advanced societies still rely on plants for basic food needs not to mention clothing shelter medicines and tools This special relationship has tied together people and their chosen plants in mutual dependence for well over 50 000 years Yet despite these millennia of intimate contact people have only domesticated and cultivated a few dozen of the tens of thousands of potentially available edible plants This limited domestication process led directly to the evolution of the complex urban based societies that have dominated much of human development over the past ten millennia Thanks to the latest genomic studies we can now begin to explain how when and where some of the most important crops came to be domesticated and the crucial roles of plant genetics climatic change and social organisation in these processes Indeed it was their unique genetic organisations that ultimately determined which plants eventually became crops rather than any conscious decisions by their human cultivators The book is aimed at a wide audience ranging from plant specialists such as geneticists molecular biologists and agronomists to a more general readership of archaeologists anthropologists historians and others who wish to explore the complex processes that have shaped the often crucial relationships between plants and human societies over the past hundred millennia Glossator: Practice and Theory of the Commentary Josh Stanley, Thomas Roebuck, 2010 Volume 2 of the journal Glossator Practice and Theory of the Commentary On the Poems of J H Prynne Edited by Ryan Dobran Contents RYAN DOBRAN Introduction JOSH STANLEY Back On Into The Way Home Charm Against Too Many Apples The White Stones 1969 THOMAS ROEBUCK MATTHEW SPERLING The Glacial Question Unsolved A Specimen Commentary on Lines 1
