Meaning of Otherness

Why does it happen that a person in our modern open society still feels alone and alien? The first reason is that you feel that people who surround you cannot understand you.

Thus, you retreat in yourself. It is a very dangerous condition because the others do not know that you need help. However, you are afraid to reveal your emotions to the society because you think that people will treat you as a social outcast. You understand your otherness and try to hide it under a mask of normality.

However, pretending to be someone will not help you to live a normal life. Many people feel the same in some extend. The second reason is when society makes a person to be an alien and exclude him/her. People do not even want to help in this case because they are not eager to understand someone who is different.

People are proud to announce that everyone is unique, that's why the society should appreciate each one's individuality and personal opinion.

However, these are empty words when it goes about otherness. But there is still a way out of this situation. People should learn empathy. Gines (2003) emphasizes that "Empathy dissolves alienation. The person feels that he is no longer an isolate because someone is able to understand him." (p. 372). Thus, empathy is a real art that people should master to help to bring piece to this world.

Subversion and Desire Manu Bazzano,2023-06-07 This book presents the importance of subversion in psychotherapy and reevaluates the positive role of desire as an integrating force in the individual and collective psyche The text provides a solid philosophical frame which helps to expand the scope of contemporary psychotherapy at a time when it is being curtailed by a reductionist neoliberal zeitgeist The latter emphasizes cognition over motivation behaviour over emotion consciousness over the unconscious the self over the organism and tends to reframe psychotherapeutic practice as a reprogramming of individuals In response this book outlines concerted acts of soft subversion which can undermine the status quo and open new possibilities of individual and collective transformation The author also retraces and reassesses some of the more inspiringly subversive legacies in psychoanalysis with a view to sketching a life affirming psychology wedded to broadminded political engagement Covering psychotherapy politics art and literature and social and cultural theory this book will appeal to anyone interested in understanding how psychotherapy and philosophy can be more radical and subversive endeavours

The Architecture of Psychoanalysis Jane Rendell,2017-03-01 In this thought provoking book Jane Rendell explores how architectural space registers in psychoanalysis She investigates both the inherently spatial vocabulary of psychoanalysis and ideas around the physical setting of the psychoanalytic encounter with reference to Sigmund Freud D W Winnicott and Andre Green Building on the innovative writing methods employed in Art and Architecture and Site Writing she also addresses the concept of architecture as social condenser a Russian constructivist notion that connects material space and community relations Tracing this idea's progress from 1920s Moscow to 1950s Britain Rendell shows how interior and exterior meet in both psychoanalysis and architectural practice Illuminating a novel field of interdisciplinary enquiry this book breathes fresh life into notions of social space

Parents and Children in the Mid-Victorian Novel Madeleine Wood, 2020-10-30 This book produces an original argument about the emergence of trauma in the nineteenth century through new readings of Dickens Emily and Charlotte Brontë Collins Gaskell and Eliot Madeleine Wood argues that the mid-Victorian novels present their protagonists in a state of damage provoked and defined by the conditions of the mid-century family the cross-generational relationship is presented as formative and traumatising By presenting family relationships as decisive for our psychological state as well as our social identity the Victorian authors pushed beyond the contemporary scientific models available to them Madeleine Wood analyses the literary and historical conditions of the mid-century period that led to this new literary emphasis and which paved the way for the emergence of psychoanalysis in Vienna at the fin de siècle Analysing a series of theoretical texts Madeleine Wood shows that psychoanalysis shares the mid-Victorian concern with the unequal relationship between adult and child focusing her reading through Freud's early writings and Jean Laplanche's general theory of seduction

The Choreopolitics of Alain Platel's les ballets C de la B Christel Stalpaert, Guy Cools, Hildegard De Vuyst, 2020-02-06 Les Ballets C de la B was founded by Alain Platel in 1984 Since then it has become a company that enjoys great success at home and abroad Over the years Platel has developed a unique choreographic oeuvre His motto This dance is for the world and the world is for everyone reveals a deep social and political commitment Through the three topics of emotions gestures and politics this book unravels the choreopolitics of Platel's Les

Ballets C de la B His choreopolitics go beyond conveying a political message because rather than defending one opinion Platel is more concerned about the exposure of the complexity within the debate itself Highly respected scholars from different fields contribute to this book to provide an interdisciplinary perspective on the intense emotions the damaged narratives and the precarious bodies in Platel's choreographic oeuvre Revealing Whiteness Shannon Sullivan, 2006-03-28 A lucid discussion of race that does not sell out the black experience Tommy Lott author of The Invention of Race Revealing Whiteness explores how white privilege operates as an unseen invisible and unquestioned norm in society today In this personal and selfsearching book Shannon Sullivan interrogates her own whiteness and how being white has affected her By looking closely at the subtleties of white domination she issues a call for other white people to own up to their unspoken privilege and confront environments that condone or perpetuate it Sullivan's theorizing about race and privilege draws on American pragmatism psychology race theory and feminist thought As it articulates a way to live beyond the barriers that white privilege has created this book offers readers a clear and honest confrontation with a trenchant and vexing concern

Good White People Shannon Sullivan, 2014-05-08 Winner of the 2016 Society of Professors of Education Outstanding Book Award presented by the Society of Professors of Education 2014 CHOICE Outstanding Academic Title Building on her book Revealing Whiteness Shannon Sullivan identifies a constellation of attitudes common among well meaning white liberals that she sums up as white middle class goodness an orientation she critiques for being more concerned with establishing anti racist bona fides than with confronting systematic racism and privilege Sullivan untangles the complex relationships between class and race in contemporary white identity and outlines four ways this orientation is expressed each serving to establish one's lack of racism the denigration of lower class white people as responsible for ongoing white racism the demonization of antebellum slaveholders an emphasis on colorblindness especially in the context of white childrearing and the cultivation of attitudes of white guilt shame and betrayal To move beyond these distancing strategies Sullivan argues white people need a new ethos that acknowledges and transforms their whiteness in the pursuit of racial justice rather than seeking a self righteous distance from it Speculative Formalism Tom Eyers, 2017-03-15 Speculative Formalism engages decisively in recent debates in the literary humanities around form and formalism making the case for a new nonmimetic and antihistoricist theory of literary reference Where formalism has often been accused of sealing texts within themselves Eyers demonstrates instead how a renewed speculative formalism can illuminate the particular ways in which literature actively opens onto history politics and nature in a connective movement that puts formal impasses to creative use Through a combination of philosophical reflection and close rhetorical readings Eyers explores the possibilities and limits of deconstructive approaches to the literary the impact of the digital humanities on theory and the prospects for a formalist approach to world literature The book includes sustained close readings of Baudelaire Mallarmé Yeats and Wallace Stevens as well as Alain Badiou Paul de Man and Fredric Jameson Contemporary Theatres in Europe Joe Kelleher, Nicholas

Ridout,2006-09-27 With specific examples and case studies by specialist writers academics and a new generation of theatre researchers this collection of specially commissioned essays is the perfect introduction to contemporary theatre practices in Europe

Psychoanalysis and the Unrepresentable Agnieszka Piotrowska,Ben Tyrer,2016-09-19 Psychoanalysis and the Unrepresentable opens a space for meaningful debate about translating psychoanalytic concepts from the work of clinicians to that of academics and back again Focusing on the idea of the unrepresentable this collection of essays by psychoanalysts psychotherapists counsellors artists and film and literary scholars attempts to think through those things that are impossible to be thought through completely Offering a unique insight into areas like trauma studies where it is difficult if not impossible to express one's feelings the collection draws from psychoanalysis in its broadest sense and acts as a gesture against the fixed and the frozen Psychoanalysis and the Unrepresentable is presented in six parts Approaching Trauma Sense and Gesture Impossible Poetics Without Words Wounds and Suture and Auto Fiction The chapters therein address topics including touch and speech adoption the other and grief and examine films including Gus Van Sant's Milk and Michael Haneke's Amour As a whole the book brings to the fore those things which are difficult to speak about but which must be spoken about The discussion in this book will be key reading for psychoanalysts including those in training psychotherapists and psychotherapeutically engaged scholars academics and students of culture studies psychosocial studies applied philosophy and film studies filmmakers and artists

The Ethical Seduction of the Analytic Situation Viviane Chetrit-Vatine,2018-05-11 According to Jacques Andre the patient's encounter with the analyst is a scene of seduction the seductive statement being that of the fundamental rule or the invitation to address that which is most intimate or personal to a complete stranger But the practice of psychoanalysis can only unfold if there is a strict respect for ethics The words seduction and ethics which at first sight seem mutually exclusive are thus as the author shows at the heart of the analytic perspective The author takes as her starting point an encounter which is not necessarily consensual between Emmanuel Levinas thought and his conception of philosophy as ethics ethics understood as responsibility for the other and that of the psychoanalyst Jean Laplanche who posits the first adult other as a seducer of the young psyche from the outset due to the transmission of enigmatic messages compromised by his or her unconscious The analyst's ethical position is re-examined and with it the feminine maternal origins of the human capacity for responsibility for the other

After Melancholia Delphine Munos,2013-10-10 Mindful of the tunnel vision sometimes created by the privileging of hybridity talk and matters of culture in discussions of texts by minority writers Delphine Munos in After Melancholia reads the work of the Bengali American celebrity author Jhumpa Lahiri against the grain by shifting the ground of analysis from the cultural to the literary With the help of psychoanalytic theories ranging from Sigmund Freud through Andr Green and Nicolas Abraham to Jean Laplanche this study re evaluates the complexity of Lahiri s craft and offers major insights into the author s representation of second generation diasporic subjectivity an angle hitherto neglected by critics working from the narrower theoretical boundaries of transnationalism diaspora studies postcolonial theory and Asian American studies alike Via interdisciplinary incursions into the domains of literary and psychoanalytic criticism as well as into those of trauma and diaspora studies Munos takes up Hema and Kaushik the triptych of short stories included in Unaccustomed Earth 2008 as exemplary texts in which Lahiri redefines notions of belonging and arrival regarding the Bengali American second generation not in terms of cultural assimilation which would hardly make sense for characters born in the USA in the first place but in terms of a resymbolization of the gaps in the parents migrant narratives Munos in depth reading of Lahiri s trilogy is concerned with exploring how Hema and Kaushik signifies on the absent presences haunting transgenerational relationships within the US diasporic family of Bengali descent Bringing to the forefront such negative categories as the gap the absent the unsaid the melancholically absented mother After Melancholia reveals that the second generation Mother Diaspora is no less haunting than her first generation counterpart Mother India Calling for a re assessment of Lahiri s work in terms of a dialectical relationship between transgenerational mourning and melancholia Munos provides a compelling reading grid by means of which underrepresented aspects of the rest of Lahiri s work especially her novel The Namesake 2003 gain new visibility Delphine Munos is a F R S FNRS postdoctoral researcher in the Department of English and American Literatures at the University of Li ge Belgium She has published in the field of American and postcolonial literature diaspora studies and South Asian studies
