Essence Of My Desire:

Somatic Desire Christine Rojcewicz, Richard Kearney, Sarah Horton, Stephen Mendelsohn, 2019-01-17 The essays in this volume all ask what it means for human beings to be embodied as desiring creatures and perhaps still more piercingly what it means for a philosopher to be embodied In taking up this challenge via phenomenology psychoanalysis hermeneutics and the philosophy of literature the volume questions the orthodoxies not only of Western metaphysics but even of the phenomenological tradition itself We miss much that has philosophical import when we exclude the somatic aspects of human life and it is therefore the philosopher's duty now to rediscover the meaning inherent in desire emotion and passion without letting the biases of any tradition determine in advance the meaning that reveals itself in embodied desire Continental philosophers have already done much to challenge binary oppositions and this volume sets out a new challenge we must now also question the dichotomy between being at home and being alienated Alterity is not simply something out there separate from myself rather it penetrates me through and through even in my corporeal experience My body is both my own and other I am other than myself and therefore other than my body Additionally this book is a conversation not a presentation of a new orthodoxy Thus the hope is that these essays will open the way for further dialogue that will continue to radically rethink our understanding of embodied desire Gathered together here are twelve essays that address these issues from deeply

Marion, Love, and Nihilism Matthew C. Kruger,2024-11-19 The foundation of this book is the work of Jean Luc Marion who writes at length about the problems of vanity and nihilism and offers an answer in love specifically Christian love A complication that arises however is that Marion argues that love is absent in the respective responses to nihilism of Friedrich Nietzsche and Martin Heidegger two figures who play a key role in the development of his thought and who also have their own notions of love In Marion Love and Nihilism Matthew C Kruger explores this series of questions by providing first an overview of the responses to nihilism found in these figures then a close reading of Marion s thoughts on the matter before moving to accounts of the concept of love in Nietzsche and Heidegger The book then finishes with a further critique of Marion s work relying on the thought of Nishitani Keiji Kruger argues that while Marion correctly identifies an answer in love as did Heidegger Nietzsche and Nishitani in their own ways Marion s thought ends in world denial and thus fails find a complete answer to nihilism the mutual responsibilities implicit in the actions of reasoning mediating and judging He assesses the relationships among ethics pragmatics and Jewish philosophy The book concludes by looking at the relation of memory and the immemorial emphasizing the need to respond for past actions by confessing seeking forgiveness and making reconciliations In format Gibbs adopts a Talmudic approach interweaving brief citations from primary texts with his commentary He draws these texts from diverse thinkers and sources including Levinas Derrida Habermas Rosenzweig Luhmann Peirce James Royce Benjamin Maimonides the Bible and the Talmud Ranging over philosophy literary theory social theory and historiography this is an ambitious and provocative work that holds profound lessons for how we think about ethics and how we seek to live responsibly
