Children'S Campfire Stories and Thoughts Robert S. Weil,2013-04-29 Many years ago my family and I would make trips to the mountain campsites for our vacation We found and generally used the campsite in the high country of Yosemite It was named Camp White Wolf There were several other campsites but this was one where there were individual sites large enough to set up our large tent There was what must have been a water runoff nearby although usually dry when we were there At the site there was a picnic table and a rock lined pit for a campfire After we had set up our tent at our campsite we would take walks to see and enjoy the beauty of the comfortable woods The clean cool air felt so very good on our faces The four children had their pleasure in climbing among the huge boulders They would make games among themselves Sometimes they would investigate the many different insects or small animals that they would see I carried a notepad with me I would tell them to draw a picture of what they saw Later we would then check the books we had at home to find out about what they had seen Every year there would be something different One time there was an eagle soaring among the trees not having to flap its wings using the mountains updraft to stay aloft In the city where we lived there were few of these wondrous sights Back at our campsite we would set up a campfire carefully in the evenings The fire pit was arranged so that the fires would be slightly below ground with rocks arranged to contain the fire There was also a place on the picnic table for setting up our propane stove for warming a meal Then we would gather around this campfire and I would begin to relate stories that I knew the children would love to hear I would make up these stories with certain moral parts that would give them a meaning to life The children seemed to love to hear these stories I enjoyed having their undivided attention Later after we returned home in the city I would take time to write down these stories from the campfire I would have a different story each year I dedicated each different story to one of the children They enjoyed having their very own story I would tell the children to then draw a picture of what they thought the animal or insect might look like a picture that came from their own mind then compare their pictures with those of the others and talk about the differences they might see in the pictures They seemed to enjoy these exercises

Rainbow's Hidden Treasures Kyle Walker, 2011-05 Just like the rainbow has no end God's promise has no end Just like the rainbow will last forever I want us to last Forever in a bond of unbreakable love sent from the Father in Heaven There is more to the rainbow than the pot of gold at the end What if we have been looking at the wrong place and the treasure that we seek is not at the end of the rainbow but within the rainbow itself Join Kyle Walker on a journey to find this true treasure as he explores themes of faith and love in inspirational verse

The Tangled Web Frances Hewlett Morris, 2020-06-30 This book is a memoir of the author's struggle to survive racism and poverty during the Civil Rights Era Her mother called her Francie Mae She and her family lived in a world that was confusing painful and difficult to understand She lived her entire childhood in poverty and shares her journey of survival She was a curious child and sought answers to her many questions about inequality She took a journey through a land showing the dark side while searching for her piece of the American dream She learned to rely on her faith to help her navigate the rough roads ahead She became socially conscious and advocated for justice She prevailed She was inspired to write the book when her young granddaughter began asking questions about race She and many other children are living in a similar world now Racism and poverty exists and children should know why they exist Racism is a learned behavior and we owe it to our children to teach them it is wrong Racism may lead to poverty These are difficult topics to discuss yet we owe it to our children to engage in age appropriate conversations As they struggle to understand the world around them they may have unanswered questions If not answered children come to their own conclusions and their conclusions may not be correct Parents shouldn't remain silent Avoiding talking about race and poverty will not make it go away Francie Mae's parents listened to her questions and provided answers in ways she could understand Many ideologies were formed many years ago The way people felt and thought became twisted together like a web If not challenged the web tangles more It is time to join together and untangle the web We owe it to our current and future generations The Saturday Evening Post, 1929

Out of the Blue Mary Terhune, 2015-11-17 In this fascinating book Mary Terhune shares her personal journey of spiritual awakening mystical encounters and visions as well as the universal truths revealed to her in the process During a life crisis she spontaneously received revelations from Jesus that transformed her conscious awareness changing her life forever A profound experience of self realization brought her the message that divinity is humankind's natural state one we need to reclaim She then had an encounter during meditation that showed her beyond any shadow of doubt that birth and dying are actually illusions Mary went on to have an amazing introduction to homeopathy which expanded her training as a registered nurse into a different understanding and approach to disease prevention curing and healing Mary urges us all to become mindful of our omniscient essence and embrace paradigm shifts in preventive and curative medicine as we awaken to consciousness as the primary force of life Out of the Blue inspires every reader to live as an awakened being and a knowledgeable master of one's own destiny and well being Television Variety Shows David M. Inman, 2014-12-03 For the few hundred television viewers in 1946 a special treat on the broadcast schedule was the variety show called Hour Glass It was the first TV program to go beyond talking heads cooking demonstrations and sporting events featuring instead dancers comics singers and long commercials for its sponsor Chase and Sanborn coffee Within two years another variety show Texaco Star Theatre became the first true television hit and would be credited with the sales of thousands of television sets The variety show formula was a staple of television in its first 30 years in part because it lent itself to a medium where everything had to be live and preferably inside a studio Most of the early television stars including Jackie Gleason Milton Berle Sid

Caesar Ed Sullivan Red Skelton Dinah Shore and Arthur Godfrey rose to prominence through weekly variety shows In the 1960s major stars such as Jerry Lewis Dean Martin Judy Garland and Danny Kaye were hosting variety shows By the 1970s the format was giving way to sitcoms and dramas but pop music stars Sonny and Cher Tony Orlando and Dawn and Donny and Marie Osmond hosted some of the last of the species This book details 57 variety shows from the 1940s through the 1990s A history of each show is first provided followed by a brief look at each episode Air date guest stars sketches performed and a listing of songs featured are included

Everybody Needs Love Bruce Schurman,2024-03-01 Eddie was a black man in a white man s body No one I ve ever worked with or heard had any more Soul than Eddie did His guitar playing was always tasteful strong and distinctive his voice grabbed you and pulled you in so that you not only heard it but you felt it and were mesmerized by it He had a beautiful smile but behind it were some inner thoughts that had to do with some deep pain that he kept hidden inside That was one of the things that made him so intriguing so interesting and so powerful Chuck Leavell piano player for the Rolling Stones and the Allman Brothers Band among many others MusicMaster Paul C. Global Perspectives on Research, Theory, and Practice Philip Brownell,2015-04-01 Over a decade in the making this volume brings together some of the richest thinking about gestalt therapy theory and practice that emerged in the lead up to the 21st century In 1996 the internet was breaking out of its shell and the first electronic journal for gestalt therapy appeared as a hybrid of the text based discussion group Gstalt L and the graphically rich web based journal itself The journal supported by a community at St Johns University was titled Gestalt Its vision was to stimulate a global discussion of gestalt therapy using the electronic medium that has now become so common and essential and it did just that Gestalt was free It was quick Those working with the journal were focused on substance over style The editors have ensured this relevant and playful attitude shines through in this collection There are errors in form because the editors have maintained many in order to provide a realistic feel for what the journal was like Although it no longer exists this book reclaims the journal s great historical value and still significant ideas
