Music, Management, Marketing, and Law Phil Graham,2019-03-25 This collection of interviews captures a period of historic change for the global music business along with a wealth of professional knowledge that extends from the late 1960s through to late 2012 when the interviews were conducted They record the experiences and insights of people who helped to shape a global business that is quickly passing into history and transforming into something entirely new often because of decisions the interviewees have been directly involved in making The material includes the aesthetic artistic technical commercial legal and strategic aspects of the music industry What is said is timeless in its historical significance for the music business and in its relevance for researchers engaged in studies on the dynamics of change in the global commercial music landscape

Emotionless Camila Fernandez Gomez,2016-09-09 In the Government City emotions were blocked in order to ensure a better future for humankind Everything and everybody is perfect or at least that s how it should be Where there are humans there are mistakes and sometimes you re so unlucky that the mistake that was made is you That s what Aliana L Keenan believed She had her life planned out she knew where her life began and how it was going to end However all that changed when Samirah her fraternal twin sister left Heartbroken by her sister s loss Aliana decides to leave the Government leaving behind all that she had ever known What Aliana didn t know is that in her desperate efforts of saving her sister she will be running towards the one thing she has been trying to run away from the truth

Refugees and Housing Philip Brown,Santokh Gill,Jamie P. Halsall,2024-11-15 Housing has always had a close association with the lives refugees lead in exile and the settlement of refugees is at its core a housing issue Refugees move from their home perhaps through various other places to finally arrive in a nation state which provides them with security of status and the promise of assistance to continue their lives At the foundation of this promise of refuge is the provision of a safe and secure home Despite this the knowledge base about housing and its significance in the lives of refugees is not fully understood and this risks understating the enormous impact housing has on the settlement of refugees more broadly This book makes an important contribution to the literature on the relationship between sanctuary and housing It draws on new empirical research to examine how refugees have transitioned through the housing system over the last three decades and how changes in policy and the routes into refugee status has mediated these experiences      In Bed with the Atlantic Kitiara Pascoe, 2018-09-11 In Bed with the Atlantic is a travel memoir of a young woman Kitiara Pascoe as she goes from never having stepped on a yacht to sailing over 18 000 miles across the Atlantic around the Caribbean and then back in three years with her partner At first she was dogged by doubt a belief that she wasn't a sailor never would be and that she was in no way capable of such an undertaking She believed that the ocean was out to get her that weather needed to be battled with and that she would forever be ruled by anxieties that plagued her Woven into the narrative of the journey's progression are stories from Kit's childhood and life before the voyage explaining her battles with anxiety and the feelings of being lost as a graduate in post recession Britain The book also relays her struggle with reconciling a life of travel with the expectations and experiences of those back home at an age when most of her contemporaries were starting corporate careers and families In her courage to leave everything she knows behind she learns the history of the islands and their people swims with turtles explores strange cave systems and learns to forage for food straight from the sea But she also encounters hardships like running out of food and water battling against storms trying not to be struck by lightning and discovering the crippling loneliness of sailing an ocean for months on end Sailing back to the UK after three years Kit realises the colossal difference that sailing has made to her life and understanding of the world She ponders how easy it is not to do something to protect ourselves from risks and ridicule and everything that makes us uncomfortable But now appreciates that it is only when we take the risk that we get the reward and that we connect not just with the world at large but also with ourselves      Christian Advocate and Journal and Zion's Herald ,1903
