Rethinking Postmodernism(s) Katrin Amian, 2008 Rethinking Postmodernism s revisits three historical sites of American literary postmodernism the early postmodernism of Thomas Pynchon s V 1961 the emancipatory postmodernism of Toni Morrison s Beloved 1987 and the late or post postmodernism of Jonathan Safran Foer s Everything Is Illuminated 2002 For the first time it confronts these texts with the pragmatist philosophy of Charles Sanders Peirce staging a conceptual dialogue between pragmatism and postmodernism that historicizes and recontextualizes customary readings of postmodern fiction The book is a must read for all interested in current reassessments of literary postmodernism in new critical dialogues between seminal postmodern texts and in recent attempts to theorize the post postmodern moment

Novel Subjects Leah A. Milne, 2021-07-01 How does contemporary literature contend with the power and responsibility of authorship particularly when considering marginalized groups How have the works of multiethnic authors challenged the notion that writing and authorship are neutral or universal In Novel Subjects Leah Milne offers a new way to look at multicultural literature by focusing on scenes of writing in contemporary works by authors with marginalized identities These scenes she argues establish authorship as a form of radical self care a term we owe to Audre Lorde who defines self care as self preservation and an act of political warfare In engaging in this battle the works discussed in this study confront limitations on ethnicity and nationality wrought by the institutionalization of multiculturalism They also focus on identities whose mere presence on the cultural landscape is often perceived as vindictive or willful Analyzing recent texts by Carmen Maria Machado Louise Erdrich Ruth Ozeki Toni Morrison and more Milne connects works across cultures and nationalities in search of reasons for this recent trend of depicting writers as characters in multicultural texts Her exploration uncovers fiction that embrace unacceptable or marginalized modes of storytelling such as plagiarism historical revisions jokes and lies as well as inauthentic invisible and unexceptional subjects These works ultimately reveal a shared goal of expanding the borders of belonging in ethnic and cultural groups and thus add to the ever evolving conversations surrounding both multicultural literature and self care At Home with the Holocaust Lucas F. W. Wilson, 2025 Based on analyses of literature and oral histories of children of survivors At Home with the Holocaust reveals how the material conditions of survivor family homes along with household practices and belongings rendered these homes as archives of trauma that in turn traumatized the children of Holocaust survivors The presence of memories in Jonathan Safran Foer's "Everything is Illuminated" Virginie Vökler, 2007-07-13 Seminar paper from the year 2007 in the subject American Studies Literature grade 1.0 University of Rostock Amerikanistik Anglistik course Global Plots Transnationality in Contemporary American Literature language English abstract The haunting ghost of history can be found everywhere in our existence The past might be gone but the memory of it will stay alive in peoples minds history books museums and in the developing society as well One can recognise that a lot of people try to keep their memories of the past alive in one or the other way Some go through family photos while listening to their grandparents telling stories about the past others take photos and videos themselves to preserve their own memories Also attending history class in school watching television programs about the past or reading books with that topic are a way of learning about the personal heritage During their work on popular history making Rosenzweig and Thelen discoursed that a high percentage of the people asked about their experience of handling past and heritage visit museums or historic sites to find a path back to their ancestors or national identity Many also collect anything related to the past which includes everything one can imagine from photos personal belongings of family members to antique china or souvenirs from places reminding them of past events While recollecting their past people have different motives for their searching some just want to find their own roots creating a family tree others are more interested in their national identity and the history of the country they live in A few start to write a journal or diary to remember things which happened to them or others Most of them are interested in finding where they come from meaning not only their nationality but also the religious community and culture they originally come from and their family heritage Children are shaped by their parents either in a good or bad way people can learn from other family members friends society historical events and the memories passed on to them by older generations so that they become who they are Memories are carried along a life time and are passed over to the following generations to keep them alive sometimes they are only very personal memories which are passed on to the next generation Other memories influence not only one person but a whole generation like war Here collective memories about past events spread over a bigger audience of people who try to cope with them in different ways some pass information on so that people who were not there know what happened while others want to forget and never mention it again because it hurts to remember or they feel guilty ashamed or regret to what has happened in the past Altogether it is to say that memories in any ways are important for finding yourself and to develop
