Under Wraps Sharra L. Vostral, 2008-03-25 Menstruation provides one of the few shared bodily functions that most women will experience during their lifetimes Yet these experiences are anything but common In the United States for the better part of the twentieth century menstruation went hand in glove with menstrual hygiene But how and why did this occur This book looks at the social history of menstrual hygiene by examining it as a technology In doing so the lens of technology provides a way to think about menstrual artifacts how the artifacts are used and how women gained the knowledge and skills to use them As technological users women developed great savvy in manipulating belts pins and pads and using tampons to effectively mask their entire menstrual period This masking is a form of passing though it is not often thought of in that way By using a technology of passing a woman might pass temporarily as a non bleeder which could help her perform her work duties and not get fired or maintain social engagements like swimming at a summer party and not be marked as having her period How women use technologies of passing and the resulting politics of secrecy are a part of women's history that has remained under wraps The Ultimate Guide for Gay Dads Eric Rosswood, 2017-10-24 If you are thinking of becoming a gay dad or if you are already a gay dad this book is for you Are you ready to have kids More and more gay men are turning to adoption and surrogacy to start their own families An estimated two million American LGBTQ people would like to adopt and an estimated 65 000 adopted children are living with a gay parent In 2016 The Chicago Tribune reported that 10 to 20
