Evidence for the Patrolman Floyd Nicholas Heffron, 1958 This text is intended to supply the patrolman with the knowledge necessary to assist both the prosecutor and the expert as well as to help himself in successful investigations and prosecutions It is prepared with the thought of providing him with the information necessary to properly perform any assignment he is given to protect the evidence for proper examination and presentation and to prepare himself for advancement in his chosen field Little space will be devoted to the scientific examination of evidence as much has been written in that field and may be used as a supplemental study if desired It is hoped that those who read this text will be better informed as to how to handle evidence and therefore be more successful in the prosecution of cases to which they have been assigned      Police Traffic Services: Student study guide Dunlap and Associates, Inc, 1972      Evidence for the Patrolman Floyd N. National Advisory Commission on Criminal Justice Standards and Goals, 1973 This report provides suggestions for overall improvement in delivery of police services for greater protection against crime The National Advisory Commission on Criminal Justice Standards and Goals considers the patrolman the primary force in reducing and preventing crime and thus directs its report recommendations toward increasing police effectiveness Suggestions for improvements in police functions are presented in the areas of community planning and organization technology and support services fiscal management and coordination with other criminal justice agencies These proposals appear in the form of more than 120 specific standards and recommendations that spell out where why and how these improvements can and should be made in the police segment of the criminal justice system Report on police is a reference work for the practitioner patrolman to police chief as well as for the interested layman Before implementing any of the changes advocated police departments are advised to detail the legal limits of police authority and develop guidelines for the exercise of that authority In order to improve cooperation between the police and the community it is suggested that police agencies establish a specialized unit for maintaining communication with citizens Each police department should encourage and participate in neighborhood security programs and establish procedures to facilitate processing of complaints Suggestions for more effective utilization of manpower include continued consolidation stricter personnel requirements increased employee benefits and the employment of more women minorities and civilians in police work      Patrolman's Manual, Bureau of Police, City of Philadelphia Philadelphia (Pa.).
