The Evolution of Political Society Morton Herbert Fried, 1967 The Evolution of Political Society Morton H. Fried, 1967-01 The Evolution of Political Systems Steadman Upham, 1990-09-20 Political Anthropology Donald V Kurtz, 2018-02-13 The field of political anthropology is complicated by a breadth and depth of interests that include every kind of ethnographically and historically represented political community and nearly every kind of recorded political practice behavior and organization To make sense of this array of information political anthropologists examine political topics and issues in the context of research paradigms that include structural functionalism processualism political economy political evolution and arguably post modernism In Political Anthropology Donald V Kurtz examines how anthropologists think about politics political organizations and problems fundamental to political anthropology He explores the ideas with which they address universal political concerns the paradigms that direct political research by anthropologists and political topics of special interest Warfare and the Dynamics of Political Control Brian R. Billman, 2025-06-17 Warfare and the Dynamics of Political Control draws on a wealth of interdisciplinary perspectives to explore how conflict shapes the establishment and maintenance of political institutions from small scale societies to expansive empires The book examines the material and ideological factors that drive warfare the organization of combatants the ways leaders use violence to consolidate power and how groups resist political domination in times of conflict By posing critical questions about the efficacy of strategies and the varied outcomes of conflict driven power struggles this volume offers profound insights into the dynamics of political control throughout history Bringing together case studies from diverse regions and time periods Warfare and the Dynamics of Political Control illuminates the multifaceted nature of political violence The volume includes discussions of human sacrifice slave taking ideological signaling and military strategy and tactics The case studies reveal how different forms of political violence influence societal structures From the fortifications of the M ori in New Zealand to the city walls of early historic India each contribution provides a detailed analysis of how warfare has been used to both to challenge and to establish political hierarchies Featuring examples from small foraging communities to large empires across various regions and time periods the book offers a wide ranging exploration of how different groups have used and resisted political violence This essential work contributes to our understanding of the intersections between conflict and political power making it a vital resource for scholars of anthropology archaeology political science and history Oxford Studies in Political Philosophy, Volume 3 David Sobel, Peter Vallentyne, Steven Wall, 2017 This is the third volume of Oxford Studies in Political Philosophy The series aims to publish some of the best contemporary work in the vibrant field of political philosophy and its closely related subfields including jurisprudence normative economics political theory in political science departments and just war theory Marx's Ghost Thomas C. Patterson, 2020-08-06 How did our current society come into being and how is it similar to as well as different from its predecessors These key questions have transfixed archaeologists

anthropologists and historians for decades and strike at the very heart of intellectual debate across a wide range of disciplines Yet scant attention has been given to the key thinkers and theoretical traditions that have shaped these debates and the conclusions to which they have given rise This pioneering book explores the profound influence of one such thinker Karl Marx on the course of twentieth century archaeology Patterson reveals how Australian archaeologist V Gordon Childe in the late 1920s was the first to synthesize discourses from archaeologists sociologists and Marxists to produce a corpus of provocative ideas He analyzes how these ideas were received and rejected and moves on to consider such important developments as the emergence of a new archaeology in the 1960s and an explicitly Marxist strand of archaeology in the 1970s Specific attention is given to the discussion arenas of the 1990s where archaeologists of differing theoretical perspectives debated issues of historic specificity social transformation and inter regional interaction How did the debates in the 1990s pave the way for historical archaeologists to investigate the interconnections of class gender ethnicity and race In what ways did archaeologists make use of Marxist concepts such as contradiction and exploitation and how did they apply Marxist analytical categories to their work How did varying theoretical groups critique one another and how did they overturn or build upon past generational theories Marx's Ghost Conversations with Archaeologists provides an accessible guide to the theoretical arguments that have influenced the development of Anglophone archaeology from the 1930s onwards It will prove to be indispensable for archaeologists historians anthropologists and social and cultural theor

Understanding Early Civilizations Bruce G. Trigger, 2003-05-05 This book offers the first detailed comparative study of the seven best documented early civilizations ancient Egypt and Mesopotamia Shang China the Aztecs and adjacent peoples in the Valley of Mexico the Classic Maya the Inka and the Yoruba Unlike previous studies equal attention is paid to similarities and differences in their sociopolitical organization economic systems religion and culture Many of this study's findings are surprising and provocative Agricultural systems technologies and economic behaviour turn out to have been far more diverse than was expected These findings and many others challenge not only current understandings of early civilizations but also the theoretical foundations of modern archaeology and anthropology The key to understanding early civilizations lies not in their historical connections but in what they can tell us about similarities and differences in human behaviour

Prehispanic Domestic Units in Western Mesoamerica Robert S. Santley, Kenneth G. Hirth, 1992-11-23 Prehispanic Domestic Units in Western Mesoamerica presents different analytical approaches for interpreting household composition and cultural site formation processes in prehispanic western Mesoamerica Archaeological data collected using both stratigraphic and reconnaissance methods are combined with and interpreted using a combination of ethnohistoric ethnographic and ethnoarchaeological information The result is a richer and more complete picture of prehispanic household structure than any single analytic approach could produce on its own The book is organized into several sections based on common theme and geographic area The first three chapters provide a broad discussion of conceptual and methodological difficulties that archaeologists must resolve in the study of prehispanic households Subsequent chapters present case studies which examine households from two areas of western Mesoamerica the Central Mexican highlands and the Gulf Coast of Mexico Eight case studies from the Central Mexican highlands provide a longitudinal perspective on changing household composition Four of these examine households during the late Formative Classic Epiclassic and Early Postclassic periods 650 B C A D 1200 while four others focus specifically on household structure during the century immediately preceding the Spanish Conquest Two additional case studies provide comparative information on household organization in the South Gulf Coast region during the Classic period Prehispanic Domestic Units in Western Mesoamerica Studies of the Household Compound and Residence will be an excellent reference for all anthropologists and archaeologists interested in prehispanic western Mesoamerica

African Political Systems Revisited Aleksandar Bošković, Günther Schlee, 2022-04-08 Reexamining a classical work of social anthropology African Political Systems 1940 edited by Fortes and Evans Pritchard this book looks at the colonial and academic context from which the work arose as well as its reception and its subject matter and looks at how the work can help with analysis of current politics in Africa This book critically reflects upon the history of anthropology It also contributes to a political anthropology which is aware of its antecedents self reflexive as a discipline conscious of pitfalls and biases and able to locate itself in its academic social and political environment

The Oxford Handbook of African Archaeology Peter Mitchell, Paul Lane, 2013-07-04 This Handbook provides a comprehensive synthesis of African archaeology covering the entirety of the continent s past from the beginnings of human evolution to the archaeological legacy of European colonialism It includes a mixture of key methodological and theoretical issues and debates and situates the subject s contemporary practice

The Fabric of History Diana Vikander Edelman, 1991-09-01 Six scholars explore the nature of history and historical reconstruction and the place of history within biblical studies The uncritical use of both text and artifact that continues to dominate histories of Israel and Judah testifies to the need for a wider grassroots awareness of the basic issues involved in doing history as a biblical scholar A growing number of scholars are questioning the theoretical underpinnings of the main schools of research and are calling for an approach that makes a more critical evaluation of both textual and artifactual material before using it in historical reconstruction These essays were first presented at the annual SBL ASOR meeting in 1989 in a symposium entitled The Role of History and Archaeology in Biblical Studies

Warfare and Society Ton Otto, Henrik Thrane, Helle Vandkilde, 2006-11-01 This book straddles the disciplines of archaeology and social anthropology Its 25 contributions divided into 6 sections with separate introductions successively scrutinise the concept of war in philosophy social theory and the history of anthropological and archaeological research discuss warfare in pre state and state societies and assess its relationship to rituals social identification and material culture

Greed Unbound: Official Misdeeds in Political Economies of Kin Groups and Chiefdoms (Volume 1) Eugene L Mendonsa, Ph.D., 2016-02-10 The first volume of Greed Unbound is about the ways elites siphoned off value from workers in the early

Neolithic farming and herding societies In the broadest terms it highlights the consequences of greed in officialdom the offices of kin groups cults secret societies and chiefdoms Greed in all of these groups has consistently led to severe inequality Prior to the Agricultural Revolution inequality had been held in check being restricted to such things as respect for the elderly and male chauvinism In the mild inequality of the Long Paleolithic no one person or faction could siphon value from the labor of others But all that changed once food was stored in farming societies allowing greedy chiefs to exploit the common people in stark contrast to the egalitarian nature of life before the development of stored wealth With the change exploitation flourished as did warfare and mystical institutions that functioned to mislead and appease the masses The Clash of Cultures on the Medieval Baltic Frontier Alan V. Murray, 2009 The conversion of the lands on the southern and eastern shores of the Baltic Sea by Germans Danes and Swedes in the period from 1150 to 1400 represented the last great struggle between Christianity and paganism on the European continent but for the indigenous peoples of Finland Livonia Prussia Lithuania and Pomerania it was also a period of wider cultural conflict and transformation This collection explores the theme of clash of cultures from a variety of perspectives discussing the nature and ideology of crusading in the medieval Baltic region the struggle between Catholicism and Orthodoxy and the cultural confrontation that accompanied the process of conversion

On the Process of Civilisation in Japan Wai Lau, 2022-11-03 Winner of the Norbert Elias Book Prize 2023 This book charts the process of civilisation in Japan Using the theory of civilising processes developed by Norbert Elias the author examines the complex underlying structural and psychological processes from the seventh century to the twentieth century Furthermore by drawing on rich historical data the author illustrates how these complex processes led the Japanese to see themselves as more civilised than their forebears and neighbouring countries Although the theory serves as an important reference point the author draws on other works to address different complex questions surrounding Japanese development Therefore this book presents three key themes first it gives an alternative understanding of the complex developments of Japanese society second it intercedes into an ongoing debate about the applicability of Elias's theory in a non Western context and third it expands Elias's theory
