Resources in Education ,2000      Pacific Studies ,1998      Managing International Connectivity, Diversity of Learning and Changing Labour Markets Ka Ho Mok, 2016-08-10 This book examines how major Asian cities have enhanced their global competitiveness by transforming their higher education systems to equip their graduates with global competence It primarily focuses on policy implications and urban governance especially comparing how governments are responding to the growing challenges of international connectivity and are managing the diversity of populations resulting from an increasingly globalized world      Agricultural Management Strategies in a Changing Economy Popescu,

Gabriel, Jean-Vasile, Andrei, 2015-01-31 Research and development in agriculture is a very relevant topic in today's society especially given the evolution of land ownership structures and resources exploitation. These transformations have paved the way for new approaches in the allocation and management of agricultural systems. Agricultural Management Strategies in a Changing Economy brings together emergent research and best practices in the area of agricultural management policy and structures. Highlighting theoretical concepts and empirical research, this book will be an all-encompassing reference source for professionals, researchers, academicians, practitioners, and students in the field of agricultural economics and sustainable development as well as in related disciplines.

Portraits of 21st Century Chinese Universities: Ruth Hayhoe, Jun Li, Jing Lin, Qiang Zha, 2012-12-03 This book examines the ways in which China's universities have changed in the dramatic move to a mass stage which has unfolded since the late 1990s. Twelve universities in different regions of the country are portrayed through the eyes of their students, faculty, and leaders. The book begins with the national level policy process around the move to mass higher education. This is followed by an analysis of the views of 2,300 students on the 12 campuses about how the changes have affected their learning experiences and civil society involvement. The 12 portraits in the next section are of three comprehensive universities, three education-related universities, three science and technology universities, and three newly emerging private universities. The final chapter sketches the contours of an emerging Chinese model of the university and explores its connections to China's longstanding scholarly traditions.

The Changing Role of Schools in Asian Societies John Chi-Kin Lee, 2007-12-05 As Asia faces the challenges posed by the knowledge economy, its schools take on a new and different importance. The Changing Role of the Human Resource Profession in the Asia Pacific Region Jayantee Saha, Chris Rowley, 2014-12-02 The human resource (HR) profession has been on a long and challenging journey. Globalisation and sweeping policy changes have re-defined and re-aligned HR and its role. It is important for HR professionals to develop and become innovators in their respective industries. The Changing Role of the Human Resource Profession in the Asia Pacific Region is based on case studies of retail, tourism, healthcare, security, education, and energy spread across the greater Asia Pacific (AP) region. The book rests on the principle of the laws of attraction that thoughts become things and argues that acknowledging good human resource policies and practices can be a key influence on all aspects of an organisation. After an introduction, five chapters cover key topics: six major industries, changing HR practices across the AP, an insider's view on best practices, the role of HR in sustaining growth across the AP, and a conclusion looking towards the future of HR in the Asian Pacific Region. Based on real and contemporary case studies with a focus on six industries: Retail, Tourism, Healthcare, Security, Education, and Energy spread across the Greater AP region. Highlights industry-specific key HR challenges and suggests ways forward. Records recent developments.

Changing Education Peter D. Hershock, Mark Mason, John N. Hawkins, 2007-12-20 This book responds to the growing unease of educators and non-educators alike about the inadequacy of most current educational systems and programs to sufficiently meet the demands of fast changing societies These systems and programs evolved and were developed in and for societies that have long been transformed and yet no parallel transformation has taken place in the education systems they spawned In the last twenty years or so other sectors of society transportation communication banking health services have radically changed they way they operate but education has continued essentially the same There is no doubt education must change To those ready to accept this challenge this book represents a welcome guide To be sure it is not a how to instruction manual since the shape of change must be particular to the needs and situations of each setting and societies are as varied as they are fast changing Rather than provide specific directions it provides a useful road map for the navigators of change within which each can plot out their specific itineraries towards their goal It illuminates the basic goal of education the total and balanced development of individuals and through them societies and depicts the main features the imperatives the demands and the pitfalls of an ever more interdependent globalized world in which this goal must be pursued My work has exposed me to dozens of international conferences on various education themes and several colleges of education worldwide
