Davis,Jennifer Lynn Kilgo,Michael Gamel-McCormick,2005 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,1998 Travelling in Different Skins Dúnlaith Bird,2012-07-05 D nlaith Bird argues that vagabondage a physical and textual elaboration of gender identity in motion emerges as a totemic concept in European women s travel writing from 1850 For travellers including Olympe Audouard Isabella Bird Isabelle Eberhardt and Freya Stark vagabondage is a means of pushing out the physical geographical and textual parameters by which women are defined Travelling in Different Skins explores the negotiations of European women travel writers from 1850 1950 within the traditionally male oriented discourses of colonialism and Orientalism Moving from historical overview to close textual reading it traces a complex web of tacit collusion and gleeful defiance These women improvise access to the highly gendered imaginative geography of the Orient Tactics including cross dressing commerciality and the effacement of their male companions are used to carve out a space for their unconventional and often sexually hybrid constructions Using a composite theoretical basis of the later critical work of Judith Butler and Edward Said this comparative study of British and French colonial empires and gender norms draws out the nuances in these travellers constructions of gender identity Women travel writers are shown to play an important role in the legacy of sexual experimentation and self creation in the Orient traditionally associated with male writers including Gide and Pierre Loti and now ripe for critical re evaluation This study demonstrates how these women use lived experiences of restriction and negotiation to elaborate advanced theories of motion and gender construction presaging the concerns of twenty first century feminism and post colonialism Exceptional Lives Rud Turnbull,2004 This best selling volume is widely recognized for its innovation and accessibility it equips the reader with principles values and practices that support teaching the majority of students with disabilities within the scope of general education programs The authors showcase real students with real disabilities letting their stories illustrate as nothing else could the challenges faced by people with exceptionalities and the myriad factors those working with them must consider when making decisions about how where and what to teach Through four engaging themes universal design for learning inclusion collaboration and multicultural awareness this book explores the processes necessary for using best practices to achieve the goals set forth by the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act of 1997 Packaged with a CD ROM that contains more than an hour of actual classroom footage this book actually puts the reader in the classroom This engaging book addresses general learning disabilities emotional or behavioral disabilities attention deficit hyperactivity disorder giftedness mental retardation severe and multiple disabilities autism physical disabilities traumatic brain injury communication disorders hearing loss and visual impairments For special education educators curriculum planners therapists school administration employees and parents of children with special needs
