Everything To Live For A Story From Northern Ireland

Tanya Higgins, Nancy Brown Diggs

Everything To Live For A Story From Northern Ireland:

Everything to Live for Stewart Ross, 2002 A collection of fictional stories about young people caught up in real life conflicts and disasters Divided Lives Neil Tonge, Stewart Ross, 2002-12 Thirteen year old Lizzie McCallum is a Protestant living in Northern Ireland She has seen her fair share of the troubles and she is used to being taunted by the boys from the local Catholic school Lizzie's family hates Catholics especially since Uncle Jim was killed On an ordinary Saturday in August 1998 Lizzie's world is blown apart when she finds herself at the centre of a tragic bombing incident in the high street Lizzie has always thought she was on the right side but she finds out that bombs do not discriminate they kill innocent people from both sides Life as a Migrant Muslim Woman in Sectarian Northern Ireland Amanda J. Lubit, 2025-04-01 The lives of migrant Muslim women in divided post conflict Northern Ireland both before and after the pandemic are full of diverse stories and experiences of belonging This book explores how women strive to belong and create a home despite pervasive hatred sexism and racism Under these circumstances women employ various strategies to connect with people and places around them Using personal stories this book considers the relationships migrant Muslim women develop the places they spend time and the activities they engage with These stories are used to demonstrate the interconnectedness of gender visibility movement and placemaking as analytical concepts How Not To Be Afraid Gareth Higgins, 2021-04-29 We live in a time where we seem more afraid than ever The rise of populism polarization and aggression in politics the media and popular culture and the climate crisis have coincided with the collapse of previously cherished norms and expectations about economic stability community life and even the future of the planet And all this before the pandemic struck No wonder we are overwhelmed by anxiety Popular speaker storyteller and activist Gareth Higgins exposes the root causes of fear and shows how we can break its power through life giving stories simple spiritual exercises and practical steps to take as individuals and communities He contends that it's time to tell ourselves new stories about the world in which we live stories that will liberate the greater forces of love courage and joy Reflecting on his experience of growing up during the Troubles in Ireland he shares authentic wisdom that can enable us not only to find calm in the storm but even to calm the storm itself

Belfast, A Novel of the Troubles Douglas Clark, 2004-08 The Republic of Ireland came into being in 1921 at the end of a bloody insurrection against the British However the treaty left the northern six counties under British sovereignty Since that time the Protestant majority has dominated the poorer Catholic populace with support from the British Army In 1972 British troops fired on demonstrators launching more than twenty five years of sectarian violence and terror from both sides Mason Devereux an American freelance photojournalist is drawn into doing a project on the violence while visiting Northern Ireland Devereux makes contact with the Irish Republican Army The I R A is interested in publicity showing Protestant paramilitaries violence against Catholics A deal is struck and Devereux is given access to extraordinary photo opportunities Devereux accepts the I R A's assistance but finds his own way to get incriminating photographs of the I R A's own violence

On the verge of a negotiated end of the violence with the British government a renegade faction of the Irish Republican Army lead by seventies legendary gunman Michael Flynn derails that movement toward peace Flynn and Devereux cross paths in a sequence of violent events that continues the tragedy of Northern Ireland's Troubles Writing Resistance in Northern Ireland Aimée Walsh, 2024-04-02 Writing Resistance in Northern Ireland is an examination of feminist republicanism's in the north of Ireland between 1975 and 1986 Republican prison protest was rife during this period and fractures opened up between the feminist and republican movements Despite their shared objective of self determination the two movements did not achieve a natural or total congruence While it has been argued that there is a disjuncture between feminism and nationalism this book argues for a new perspective on feminist republicanism's in the north and tells the story of a niche collective of republican feminists who came to the fore during the Troubles and sought bodily political and economic autonomy The book examines source material including historical narratives jail writings journalism documentary film and literary texts and paints a vivid picture of a movement of republican feminist women's writing concerned with political crisis gender and the nation Aimée Walsh uses the plural republicanism's as a way of encapsulating the varied iterations of nationalist feminism from militant republicanism in Armagh Gaol to a non violent literary nationalist feminism This examination of the interaction between nationalism and gender shows how the study of women's writing can offer a paradigm shift in the history of the Troubles as seen through a feminist lens Living with the Dead Laura King, 2025-01-29 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4.0 International licence It is free to read on the Oxford Academic platform and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations The dead are everywhere in family life From a great grandmother's recipe made time and again to a dog eared black and white photo of a family on a beach and from a carefully curated family bible to a much told story of a family fleeing their home many decades ago families are made by their pasts This book examines the relationship between the living and the dead within family life charting the way families create afterlives for their ancestors It asks who and what gets to be remembered and why Considering different points of connection with the dead in each chapter through graves homes things photos writing research and stories this book demonstrates how death and the dead remain a crucial presence within family life Through an innovative methodology of collaborative critical family history Living with the Dead features interviews personal archives and the results of a collaboration with fifteen family historians including the author's own family What results is a unique way of exploring family pasts of charting not only how families have remembered their dead and passed on their histories over time but the mechanisms of how histories are constructed and shared Living with the Dead reveals how crucial the dead and stories of them are within families and provides new ways for historians to unpick the way history is intimately made

Political Dialogue in Northern Ireland D. Bloomfield, 1998-01-19 In 1991 the politicians of Northern Ireland sat down at the formal negotiating table for the first time in seventeen years This book tells the fascinating story of the Initiative's three years of painstaking political deals in an enlightening and entertaining narrative using the words of many of the participants It shows how the Initiative laid the necessary groundwork for the subsequent Irish peace process and how its failures also illuminate current events Understanding Colum McCann John Cusatis,2012-08-24 The first critical approach to the literary career of the 2009 National Book Award winner Understanding Colum McCann chronicles the Irish born writer's journey to literary celebrity from his days as a teenage sportswriter for the Irish Press in the 1970s through the publication of his award winning first story Tresses in 1990 to his winning the 2009 National Book Award in fiction for the international bestseller Let the Great World Spin In this first critical study of McCann's body of work John Cusatis provides an introduction to McCann's life and career an overview of his major themes style and influences and close readings of his two short story collections and five novels Cusatis traces McCann's redefinition of the Irish novel exploring the author's propensity for transcending aesthetic cultural ethnic geographical and social boundaries in his ascent from the status of Irish novelist to international novelist In the process this study illuminates the various incarnations of McCann's perennial subject exile both geographical and emotional Cusatis also delineates how the influences of McCann's Irish upbringing penchant for international travel and exhaustive and eclectic reading of literature manifest themselves in his fiction Close attention is given to McCann's stylistic trademarks such as his poetic voice use of Christian symbolism Irish and classical mythology intertextuality multiple viewpoints nonlinear plot structure and the merger of what McCann deems factual truth and textual truth Understanding Colum McCann makes use of the existing body of published interviews profiles and critical articles as well as a decade of correspondence between Cusatis and McCann With international interest in McCann on the rise this first full length study of his career to date serves as an ideal point of entrance for students scholars and serious readers and offers the biographical and critical foundation necessary for a deeper understanding of McCann's fiction The Art of Cycling, Living, and Dying D. Stephen Long,2021-11-17 Forty years of avid bicycling came to a conclusion for D Stephen Long in early October 2020 Fearing his own imminent death required Long to reflect on life on its beginnings middle and endings This work uses the lessons learned from cycling and the experience of the rapid onset of illness to discuss God friendship racism sexuality justice virtues vices and much more It offers a moral theology but one more in keeping with how we take it up not through theories but in the practices that make up everyday life Attention to everyday life can help us live well and in so doing prepare us to die well The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2003 ThirdWay ,2002-07 Monthly current affairs magazine from a Christian perspective with a focus on politics society economics and culture A Look at Life in Northern Ireland-- how Do Women Live in a Culture Driven by Conflict? Tanya Higgins,Nancy Brown Diggs,2000 This study written from an anthropological viewpoint focuses on women's lives in Northern Ireland It examines the lives and work of a range of women and illustrates some of the historical and political backdrop It discusses a number of women's initiatives in the voluntary sector to illustrate the work they are doing to achieve a peaceful outcome to the age old problems Interviews were conducted with women ecumenical groups Belfast City Council members Ian Paisley Gerry Adams and human rights activists The book should interest those involved in women s studies peace studies and Irish studies A Radiant Life Nuala O'Faolain,2011-03-01 Writings from the 1 New York Times bestselling author of Are You Somebody on topics from Catholicism to feminism to Irish American culture and more Curious and funny tender and scathing Nuala O Faolain s columns in the Irish Times were never less than trenchant and always passionate Through the prism of casual everyday encounters O Faolain digs into her subjects in ways that transcend topicality Taken together her years of commentary form a historical narrative a chronicle of Ireland s transformation by one of its sharpest observers and canniest critics Covering a vast array of subjects A Radiant Life includes more than seventy entries showcasing the unequivocal voice of Nuala O Faolain hailed by Irish Times literary editor Fintan O Toole as one of the greatest columnists to ever inhabit the English language O Faolain writes with such precision and individuality that she could make the copy on the back of a cornflakes packet compelling The Guardian on Almost There Conversations with Colum McCann Earl G. Ingersoll,Mary C. Ingersoll,2017-07-13 Conversations with Colum McCann brings together eighteen interviews with a world renowned fiction writer Ranging from his 1994 literary debut Fishing the Sloe Black River to a new and unpublished interview conducted in 2016 these interviews represent the development as well as the continuation of McCann s interests The number and length of the later conversations attest to his star power Let the Great World Spin earned him the National Book Award and promises to become a major motion picture His most recent novel TransAtlantic has awed readers with its dynamic yoking of the 1845 1846 visit of Frederick Douglass to Ireland the 1919 first nonstop transatlantic flight of Alcock and Brown and Senator George Mitchell s 1998 efforts to achieve a peace accord in Northern Ireland An extensive interview by scholar Cecile Maudet is included here as is an interview by John Cusatis who wrote Understanding Colum McCann the first extensive critical analysis of McCann s work An author who actually enjoys talking about his work McCann b 1965 offers insights into his method of writing what he hopes to achieve as well as the challenge of writing each novel to go beyond his accomplishments in the novel before Readers will note how many of his responses include stories in which he himself is the object of the humor and how often his remarks reveal insights into his character as a man who sees the grittiness of the urban landscape but never loses faith in the strength of ordinary people and their capacity to prevail Northern Ireland--a Role for the United States? Joshua Eilberg,Hamilton Fish,1979 Sport and Ireland Paul Rouse,2015-10-08 This is the first history of sport in Ireland locating the history of sport within Irish political social and cultural history and within the global history of sport Sport and Ireland demonstrates that there are aspects of Ireland s sporting history that are uniquely Irish and are defined by the peculiarities of life on a small island on the edge of Europe What is equally apparent though is that the Irish sporting world is unique only in part much of the history of Irish sport is a shared history with that of other societies Drawing on an unparalleled range of sources government archives sporting institutions private collections and more than sixty local national and international newspapers this volume offers a unique insight into the history of the British Empire in Ireland and examines the impact that political partition has had on the organization of sport there Paul Rouse assesses the relationship between sport and national identity how sport influences policy making in modern states and the ways in which sport has been colonized by the media and has colonized it in turn Each chapter of Sport and Ireland contains new research on the place of sport in Irish life the playing of hurling matches in London in the eighteenth century the growth of cricket to become the most important sport in early Victorian Ireland and the enlistment of thousands of members of the Gaelic Athletic Association as soldiers in the British Army during the Great War Rouse draws out the significance of animals to the Irish sporting tradition from the role of horse and dogs in racing and hunting to the cocks bulls and bears that were involved in fighting and baiting

'Gifted Children' in Britain and the World Jennifer Crane, 2025-02-13 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4.0 International licence It is free to read on Oxford Academic and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations The idea that a child is intellectually gifted has a social and cultural history This book analyses that social history at multiple scales and makes the voices of the gifted young themselves central through examination of their poetry letters and life writing In daily encounters those labelled gifted sometimes loved this label and felt special in comparison to peers at school and siblings at home For others gifted was a silly or embarrassing label and many questioned the idea of separating off young people in terms of intelligence as well as the specific forms of testing being used Ideas of the gifted child also reshaped family lives parents dedicated time to providing special leisure spaces for those thought of as gifted running them in their own homes and taking their children significant distances to spend time with others that were also gifted Voluntary organisations were critical here as the network through which young people and adults encountered the term gifted and lived and created it relationally through interactions with one another Voluntary organisations looking to gain attention and visibility also critically shaped the idea that the gifted young were elites of the future central to answering challenges of economic decline global warfare or humanitarian aid The hopes placed on gifted children between the 1960s and the 1990s were often sky high yet many gifted young still felt that the community wasted their talents and did not support them This book then provides new perspectives on the tensions between elitism and equality in modern Britain It also offers vivid stories of optimism hope disappointment and criticism in which young people themselves play a central role
