Cho, 2010-01-08 Cancer is a chronic disease There are increasing cancer survivors after curative cancer treatment and this makes supportive cancer care an important area that more attention is needed Chinese medicine has a long history of practice it has aroused much interest from both Oriental and Western countries A number of laboratory evidences and clinical trials demonstrated the effectiveness and efficacies of Chinese medicine for supportive cancer care This book attempts to take a comprehensive approach to overview the different areas of Chinese medicine for supportive cancer care This book not only serves as an introduction to novices to the area and a useful reference for those already involved but also serves as a stimulus to these and others to employ alternative approaches to current cancer care Hong Kong William C S Cho December 2009 v Contents 1 Supportive Cancer Care Using Chinese Medicine 1 Raimond Wong and Stephen M Sagar 2 Supportive Cancer Care with Acupuncture 39 Jaung Geng Lin and Yi Hung Chen 3 Chinese Medicinal Herbs Use in Managing Cancer 55 Peter Dorsher and Zengfu Peng 4 Supportive Cancer Care with Qigong 77 Myeong Soo Lee Kevin W Chen and Edzard Ernst 5 Traditional Chinese Medicine in the Reduction of Discomfort and Side Effects of Surgery 95 Kok Yang Tan Xiaoxiu Wu and Francis Seow Choen 6 Increasing Therapeutic Gain and Controlling Radiation Induced Injuries with Asian Botanicals and Acupuncture 109 Stephen M Sagar and Raimond K

Wong 7 Controlling Chemotherapy Related Side Effects with Chinese Medicine Cancer Care in Countries and Societies in Transition Michael Silberman, 2016-02-02 This is a rare compilation of clinically focused chapters on the practice of oncology in more than 25 countries and areas around the world that experience ongoing or intensifying ethnic religious and nationalistic conflict Each chapter is written by an internationally respected local physician or nurse Topics include the relationship between local culture and the local practice of mainstream modern medicine critical clinical issues faced by local physicians and options for when and how to incorporate palliative care The book ends with chapters on the United States current initiatives on promoting cancer care training in these regions and another on clinical concepts for Western clinicians undertaking oncology practice in emerging countries The audience includes oncologists around the world those practicing medicine in similarly extreme circumstances Western oncologists organizing or preparing for medical missions and Western oncologists who wish to learn from the experiences of oncologists who practice under radically different conditions Cancer Care Issues in the United States United States. President's Cancer Panel, 1998 Health Services for Cancer Survivors Michael Feuerstein, Patricia A. Ganz, 2011-06-15 Health has been conceptualized by world and national health organizations WHO CDC Healthy People 2010 as more than the absence of disease It involves a focus on physical psychosocial and functional aspects of life as well as the prevention of future illnesses At this point in the development of quality health care for cancer survivors there is sufficient knowledge and expert opinion to push efforts forward to improve the health of cancer survivors Clearly there is more research in the most prevalent forms of cancers e g breast cancer than others that provide us with guidance on how to optimize their health but there are data on other forms of cancers that can also better inform practice There may also be general care practices that can cut across cancer types There has been an emergence of epidemiological and clinical research in cancer survivors that can form the basis for a revolution in the quality and nature of health care that survivors receive This book not only provides the reader with diverse perspectives and data but also integrates this information so it can serve as the foundation necessary to improve and maintain the health of cancer survivors Reporting of symptoms to health care providers is a complex multi determined problem influenced not only by the pathophysiology but also as we have learned over the years through pain research by societal cultural and biobehavioral factors This book will consider this important aspect of follow up for millions of cancer survivors because of the strong reliance on symptom reporting for clinical decision making In order for us to generate meaningful and effective treatment we need to better understand the symptom experience in cancer survivors This book provides much information that will assist us to better understand and manage this complicated end point The presenting problems need to be articulated and conceptualized as clearly as possible by both parties so appropriate actions can be taken Since health care costs are a major concern for patients payers and providers this area will also be addressed in all the relevant sections In taking an interdisciplinary perspective this book illustrates the importance of a team approach to the improvement of health care and associated health well being and functioning in cancer survivors The 17 chapters cover critical topics of which physicians and providers of all types must be aware in order to provide the most comprehensive and responsive care for cancer survivors All of the clinical care chapters include case studies to illustrate the real world application of these approaches in cancer survivors Information about sources of referral both within and outside the traditional health care communities will be provided in tabular form There is no other text that provides both an overview of the problems and their challenges case illustrations of direct application and the reality of reimbursement for such care The editors hope that there may be no need for the clinician or the survivor to adapt to a new normal if the presenting problems are understood and handled from an interdisciplinary perspective as outlined here

A New Deal for Cancer Abbe R. Gluck, Charles S Fuchs, 2021-11-16 An unprecedented constellation of experts leading cancer doctors policymakers cutting edge researchers national advocates and more explore the legacy and the shortcomings from the fifty year war on cancer and look ahead to the future The longest war in the modern era longer than the Cold War has been the war on cancer Cancer is a complex evasive enemy and there was no quick victory in the fight against it But the battle has been a monumental test of medical and scientific research and fundraising acumen as well as a moral and ethical challenge to the entire system of medicine In A New Deal for Cancer some of today's leading thinkers activists and medical visionaries describe the many successes in the long war and the ways in which our deeper failings as a society have held us back from a more complete success Together they present an unrivaled and nearly complete map of the battlefield across dimensions of science government equity business the patient provider experience and more documenting our emerging understanding of cancer's many unique dimensions and offering bold new plans to enable the American health care system to deliver progress and hope to all patients
