Samuel Ibn Tibbon's Commentary on Ecclesiastes James T. Robinson, 2007 Samuel Ibn Tibbon c 1165-1232 the eminent translator philosopher and exegete is most famous for his Hebrew translation of Maimonides' Guide of the Perplexed However he wrote original works as well and laid the foundations for a distinctive philosophical exegetical movement what is today called Maimonideanism James T Robinson's book includes a first English translation of Ibn Tibbon's commentary on Ecclesiastes which was the foundational work of the Maimonidean tradition The translation with full annotation is accompanied by an introduction which provides relevant historical philosophical and exegetical background explains difficult passages and identifies Ibn Tibbon's important contributions to the emergence of Maimonideanism The author analyzes Ibn Tibbon's sources and influences in Jewish philosophy and exegesis and in Graeco-Arabic philosophy especially al-Farabi and Averroes discusses his theory and method of exegesis and explains the main arguments and allegories of the work which relate to the problem of human perfection

Responding to and developing the various positions of his time especially the infamous view of al Farabi that immortality of the soul is nothing but an old wife s tale Ibn Tibbon argues that conjunction with the active intellect is possible but rare only one man in a thousand can attain it Thus while the elite few should pursue it through a life of study and contemplation the many should focus on perfection in this world they should eat drink and show the soul good Storytime in India Helen Priscilla Myers, Umesh Chandra Pandey, 2019-06-14 An American ethnomusicologist and her Indian collaborator recount their experiences researching Bhojpuri wedding songs in India Stories are the backbone of ethnographic research During fieldwork subjects describe their lives through stories Afterward ethnographers come home from their journeys with stories of their own about their experiences in the field Storytime in India is an exploration of the stories that come out of ethnographic fieldwork Helen Priscilla Myers and Umesh Chandra Pandey examine the ways in which their research collecting Bhojpuri wedding songs became interwoven with the stories of their lives their work together and their shared experience reading The Eustace Diamonds by Anthony Trollope Moving through these intertwined stories the reader learns about the complete Bhojpuri wedding tradition through songs sung by Gangajali and access to the original song recordings and their translations In the interludes Pandey reads and interprets The Eustace Diamonds confronting the reader with the ever present influence of colonialism both in India and in ethnographic fieldwork Interwoven throughout are stories of the everyday highlighting the ups and downs of the ethnographic experience Storytime in India combines the style of the Victorian novel with the structure of traditional Indian village tales in which stories are told within stories This book questions how we can and should present ethnography as well as what we really learn in the field As Myers and Pandey ultimately conclude writers of scholarly books are storytellers themselves and scholarly books are a form of art just like the traditions they study The British Study Edition of the Urantia Papers Book [A4 PDF] , The Prophet of Fire John Ross Macduff, 1864 The Quarterly Journal of Science, Literature, and the Arts , 1820 The Hebraic Tongue Restored and the True Meaning of the Hebrew Words Re-established and Proved by Their Radical Analysis Antoine Fabre d'Olivet, 1921 The Journal of Science and the Arts , 1820 Includes proceedings of the Royal Society of London Royal Society of Edinburgh etc Quarterly Journal of Science, Literature, and the Arts , 1820
