Evolution Of Life Histories:

Evolution Of Life Histories Derek Roff,1993-05-31 There are many different types of organisms in the world they differ in size physiology appearance and life history The challenge for evolutionary biology is to explain how such diversity arises The Evolution of Life Histories does this by showing that natural selection is the principal underlying force molding life history variation The book describes in particular the ways in which variation can be analyzed and predicted It covers both the genetic and optimization approaches to life history analysis and gives an overview of the general framework of life history theory and the mathematical tools by which predictions can be made and tested Factors affecting the age schedule of birth and death and the costs of reproduction are discussed The Evolution of Life Histories concentrates on those theoretical developments that have been tested experimentally It will interest both students and professionals in evolution evolutionary ecology mathematical and theoretical biology and zoology and entomology

Evolution and Genetics of Life Histories

Hugh Dingle,Joseph P. Hegmann,2013-09-03 Life History Evolution Derek A. Roff,2002 Life History Evolution represents a synthetic approach to the understanding of the evolution of life history variation using the three types of environment constant stochastic predictable as the focus under which the theory is developed and tested First the author outlines a general framework for the study and analysis of life history variation bringing together the approaches of quantitative genetic modeling and optimality analysis Using this framework he then discusses how life histories evolve in the three different types of environments each of which presents unique characteristics The theme of the book is that an understanding of evolutionary change requires analysis at both the genetic and phenotypic levels and that the environment plays a central role in such analyses Intended for graduate students and researchers the book s emphasis is on assumptions and testing of models Mathematical processes are described but mathematical derivations are kept to a minimum Each chapter includes a summary and boxes provide supplementary material

Life History Evolution Michal Segoli,Eric Wajnberg,2025-03-10 Provides a timely and authoritative account of Life History Evolution by a multidisciplinary team of scholars and researchers from around the world Life History Evolution Traits Interactions and Applications presents a cutting edge synthesis of the mechanisms driving life history strategies that span the breadth of taxa from bacteria to humans Integrating classical and contemporary perspectives this comprehensive volume addresses how organisms evolve traits in response to diverse ecological pressures Editors Michal Segoli and Eric Wajnberg bring together leading experts to explore the intersection of evolutionary biology ecology and applied research focusing on the evolving complexity of life history traits and their implications In depth yet accessible chapters cover a broad spectrum of life history traits from classical traits of lifespan and reproduction to more complex interactions like social behaviour predator prey dynamics and human induced evolutionary processes The contributing authors explain essential concepts identify critical knowledge gaps discuss future research directions and demonstrate the relevance of life history evolution in addressing climate change species invasion pollution and more Providing a well balanced understanding of life history traits and their implications Life History Evolution Incorporates recent advances in evolutionary theory including eco evolutionary feedback loops and anthropogenic impacts Offers diverse perspectives and original research from leading experts in fields such as evolutionary biology ecology entomology zoology agriculture and veterinary medicine Discusses life history evolution in the context of co evolved interactions such as predator prey parasite host plant herbivore and endosymbiont host relationships Provides an overview of the foundational theory recent developments and current thinking in the field Features numerous case studies that highlight real world applications in biological control wildlife management climate change adaptation and others Revealing how life history traits shape the evolutionary strategies of organisms Life History Evolution Traits Interactions and Applications is an essential resource for undergraduate and graduate students researchers industry professionals and policymakers in ecological science It is an ideal textbook for courses in evolutionary ecology evolutionary biology conservation biology environmental science and environmental management The Evolution of Life Histories Stephen C. Evolution and Genetics in Life Histories H. Dingle,J. P. Hegmann,2012-12-06 This volume is the result of a symposium entitled Variation in Life Histories Genetics and Evolutionary Processes sponsored by the Program in Evolutionary Ecology and Behavior of the University of Iowa and held in Iowa City on October 13 and 14 1980 Prompted by a recent upsurge of interest in the evolution of life histories we chose this topic because of the obvious association between life history traits and Darwinian fit ness If such an association were to be fruitfully investigated it would require the closer cooperation of population and evolutionary ecologists and quantitative and population geneticists To encourage such an association our symposium had four major aims first to facilitate intellectual exchange across disciplines among an array of biologists studying life histories second to encourage exploration of genetic variance and covari ance for life history traits third to consider the ecological background for genetic vari ability and finally to facilitate a comparative overview both within and among species Obviously such broad aims cannot be met totally in a single volume but we think we have succeeded reasonably well in providing a representative and nourishing intel lectual feast We see this book as a stimulus to the coordination of future efforts in an important and expanding area of inquiry We have divided the book into six sections

Early Life History and Recruitment in Fish Populations R.C. Chambers, Edward A. Trippel, 2012-12-06 Many of the processes influencing recruitment to an adult fish population or entry into a fishery occur very early in life The variations in life histories and behaviours of young fish and the selective processes operating on this variation ultimately determine the identities and abundance of survivors This important volume brings together contributions from many of the world's leading researchers from the field of fish ecology The book focuses on three major themes of pressing importance in the analysis of the role that the early life history of fishes plays in the number and quality of recruits the selective processes at play in their early life history the contributions of early life history to the understanding of recruitment

Primate Life Histories and Socioecology Peter M. Kappeler, Michael E. Pereira, 2003-02 We know a great deal about roles the environment plays in shaping survival reproductive success and even social systems among primates But how do primate life histories affect social systems and vice versa Do baboons patterns of growth for example help to structure their societies Does fission fusion sociality interact with predator pressure to influence the timing of maturation in chimpanzees Exploring these issues and many others the contributors to Primate Life Histories and Socioecology provide the first systematic attempt to understand relationships among primate life histories ecology and social behavior conjointly Topics covered include how primate life histories interact with rates of evolution predator pressure and diverse social structures how the slow maturation of primates affects the behavior of both young and adult caregivers and reciprocal relationships between large brains and increased social and behavioral complexity The first collection of its kind this book will interest a wide range of researchers from anthropologists and evolutionary biologists to psychologists and ecologists Contributors Paul Michael Agapow Susan C Alberts Jeanne Altmann Robert A Barton Nicholas G Blurton Jones Robert O Deaner Robin I M Dunbar J rg U Ganzhorn Laurie R Godfrey Kristen Hawkes Nick J B Isaac Charles H Janson Kate E Jones William L Jungers Peter M Kappeler Susanne Klaus Phyllis C Lee Steven R Leigh Robert D Martin James F O Connell Sylvia Ortmann Michael E Pereira Andy Purvis Caroline Ross Karen E Samonds Jutta Schmid Stephen C Stearns Michael R Sutherland Carel P van Schaik and Andrea J Webster

Pacific Salmon Life Histories Cornelis Groot, L. Margolis, 1991 Pacific salmon are an important biological and economic resource of countries of the North Pacific rim They are also a unique group of fish possessing unusually complex life histories There are seven species of Pacific salmon five occurring on both the North American and Asian continents sockeye pink chum chinook and coho and two masu and amago only in Asia The life cycle of the Pacific salmon begins in the autumn when the adult female deposits eggs that are fertilized in gravel beds in rivers or lakes The young emerge from the gravel the following spring and will either migrate immediately to salt water or spend one or more years in a river or lake before migrating Migrations in the ocean are extensive during the feeding and growing phase covering thousands of kilometres After one or more years the maturing adults find their way back to their home river returning to their ancestral breeding grounds to spawn They die after spawning and the eggs in the gravel signify a new cycle Upon this theme Pacific salmon have developed many variations both between as well as within species Pacific Salmon Life Histories provides detailed descriptions of the different life phases through which each of the seven species passes Each chapter is written by a scientist who has spent years studying and observing a particular species of salmon Some of the topics covered are geographic distribution transplants freshwater life ocean life development growth feeding diet migration and spawning behaviour The text is richly supplemented by numerous maps illustrations colour plates and tables and there is a detailed general index as well as a useful geographical index

Histories Mary F. Willson,1997 Encyclopedia of Evolutionary Biology ,2016-04-14 Encyclopedia of Evolutionary Biology Four Volume Set is the definitive go to reference in the field of evolutionary biology It provides a fully comprehensive review of the field in an easy to search structure Under the collective leadership of fifteen distinguished section editors it is comprised of articles written by leading experts in the field providing a full review of the current status of each topic The articles are up to date and fully illustrated with in text references that allow readers to easily access primary literature While all entries are authoritative and valuable to those with advanced understanding of evolutionary biology they are also intended to be accessible to both advanced undergraduate and graduate students Broad topics include the history of evolutionary biology population genetics quantitative genetics speciation life history evolution evolution of sex and mating systems evolutionary biogeography evolutionary developmental biology molecular and genome evolution coevolution phylogenetic methods microbial evolution diversification of plants and fungi diversification of animals and applied evolution Presents fully comprehensive content allowing easy access to fundamental information and links to primary research Contains concise articles by leading experts in the field that ensures current coverage of each topic Provides ancillary learning tools like tables illustrations and multimedia features to assist with the comprehension process

Insect Life History Patterns R. F. Denno,H. Dingle,2012-12-06 This volume results from a symposium entitled Species and Ufe History Patterns Geographic and Habitat Variation held during the National Meeting of the Entomo logical Society of America in Denver Colorado USA in November 1979 The stimu lus to assemble papers on this theme emerged from continuing discussions with col leagues concerning controversies in ecology and evolutionary biology namely those associated with plant herbivore interactions life history theory and the equilibrium status of communities The study organisms used in this series of reports are all either herbivorous insects or those intimately associated with plants In this volume we stress the variation found in life history traits and address some of the problems inherent in current life history theory We include as life history traits not only traditional variables such as fecundity size of young and age to first and peak reproduction but also diapause and migration traits that synchronize reproduction with favorable plant resources Because life history traits of phytophagous insects are influenced in part by spatial and temporal variation in the quality and availability of their host plants we also consider the role that discontinuities in plant quality play in reducing insect fitness. Lastly, much of the traditional life history theory concerns itself with differences between the evolution of traits or constellations of traits when populations incur primarily density independent compared to density dependent mortality. Consequently, we address this issue and attempt to shed light on the equilibrium status of several phytophagous insect communities.

Ache Life History Kim Hill, A. Magdalena Hurtado, 2017-09-08. The Ache whose life history the authors recount are a small indigenous population of hunters and gatherers living in the neotropical rainforest of eastern Paraguay. This is part exemplary ethnography of the Ache and in larger part uses this population to make a signal contribution to human evolutionary ecology.

Reproduction and Fitness in Baboons: Behavioral, Ecological, and Life History Perspectives Larissa Swedell, Steven R. Leigh, 2006-11-25. The editors will address the questions of life history and reproduction by attempting to isolate the various components of reproductive success and fitness in baboons. This requires assembling research interests in morphology, behavior, ecology, and endocrinology of the five subspecies of Papio baboons. By synthesizing studies of reproduction, life history, growth, parenting, ecology, mate choice, and mating success, this volume will shed light on general features of life history traits and reproductive strategies that have made baboons successful. These findings have broad applications to understanding the evolution of complex life history adaptations such as those characteristic of other primates and humans in particular. Many of the top researchers on the field are contributing to this volume.

The Enigmatic Realm of Evolution Of Life Histories: Unleashing the Language is Inner Magic

In a fast-paced digital era where connections and knowledge intertwine, the enigmatic realm of language reveals its inherent magic. Its capacity to stir emotions, ignite contemplation, and catalyze profound transformations is nothing in short supply of extraordinary. Within the captivating pages of Evolution Of Life Histories a literary masterpiece penned by a renowned author, readers set about a transformative journey, unlocking the secrets and untapped potential embedded within each word. In this evaluation, we shall explore the book's core themes, assess its distinct writing style, and delve into its lasting affect the hearts and minds of those who partake in its reading experience.
