The Political Economy of Hungary Adam Fabry, 2019-04-03 This book explores the political economy of Hungary from the mid 1970s to the present. Widely considered a poster boy of neoliberal transformation in post communist Eastern Europe until the mid 2000s, Hungary has in recent years developed into a model illiberal regime. Constitutional checks and balances are non functioning, the independent media, trade unions and civil society groups are constantly attacked by the authorities, there is widespread intolerance against minorities and refugees and the governing FIDESZ party led by Prime Minister Viktor Orbán controls all public institutions and increasingly large parts of the country's economy. To make sense of the politico-economical roller coaster that Hungary has experienced in the last four decades, Fabry employs a Marxian political economy approach emphasising competitive accumulation, class struggle both between capital and labour as well as different fractions of capital and uneven and combined development. The author analyses the neoliberal transformation of the Hungarian political economy and argues that the drift to authoritarianism under the Orbán regime cannot be explained as a case of Hungarian exceptionalism but rather represents an outcome of the inherent contradictions of the variety of neoliberalism that emerged in Hungary after 1989.

Mafias on the Move Federico Varese, 2013-02-24 Annotation Organised crime is spreading like a global virus as mobs take advantage of open borders to establish local franchises at will. This book argues that mafiosi often find themselves abroad against their will rather than through a strategic plan to colonise the territories.

Creating Social Trust in Post-Socialist Transition J. Kornai, B. Rothstein, S. Rose-Ackerman, 2004-06-25 Beneficial social and economic exchange relies on a certain level of trust. But trust is a delicate matter, not least in the former socialist countries where illegitimate behaviour by governments made distrust a habit. The chapters in this volume analyse the causes and the effects of the lack of social trust in post socialist countries. The contributions originated in the Collegium Budapest project on Honesty and Trust. Theory and Experience in the Light of the Post Socialist Transition. A second volume entitled Building a Trustworthy State in Post Socialist Transition is being published simultaneously.

History of Transylvania Béla Köpeczi, Zoltán Szász, 2001 These volumes of a three volume history of Transylvania are designed to present Transylvanian history in a European context and with due attention to Transylvania's links to Hungary, the Habsburg Empire, the Romanian Principalities, Turkey and other states of Europe. The comparative approach is also prominent in the presentation of Transylvania's internal affairs in that the authors address the history, demographic, economic, social, political and cultural of the three major national groups: Romanian, Hungarian and Saxon.

The Ideas of the Hungarian Revolution Lee Congdon, Béla K. Király, 2002 Taking as its starting point the long standing characterization of Milton as a Hebraic writer, Milton and the Rabbis probes the limits of the relationship between the seventeenth century English poet and polemicist and his Jewish antecedents Shoulson's analysis moves back and forth between Milton's writings and Jewish writings of the first five centuries of the Common Era collectively known as midrash In exploring the historical and literary implications of these connections Shoulson shows how Milton's text can inform a more nuanced reading of midrash just as midrash can offer new insights into Paradise Lost Shoulson is unconvinced of a direct link between a specific collection of rabbinic writings and Milton's works He argues that many of Milton's poetic ideas that parallel midrash are likely to have entered Christian discourse not only through early modern Christian Hebraicists but also through Protestant writers and preachers without special knowledge of Hebrew At the heart of Shoulson's inquiry lies a fundamental question When is an idea a theme or an emphasis distinctively Judaic or Hebraic and when is it Christian The difficulty in answering such questions reveals and highlights the fluid interaction between ostensibly Jewish Hellenistic and Christian modes of thought not only during the early modern period but also early in time when rabbinic Judaism and Christianity began

Internationale Bibliographie der Rezensionen wissenschaftlicher Literatur, 2003 EIB Papers, 2004 Evolution of the Hungarian Economy, 1848-1998: Paying the bill for goulash-communism János Kornai, 2000 Self-consuming Evolutions Mária Csanádi, 2006 What is the politico economic social logic of the operation and change of party state systems How can we explain their similarities and differences in operation and transformation Why do some party states carry out reforms and others do not Why do some collapse and others do not Why are some transformations accompanied by economic crisis while others by economic growth This book examines these questions both theoretically and empirically in an interdisciplinary way The author introduces the Interactive Party State IPS model as an empirically based comprehensive tool for analyzing and comparing self similarities and differences in the operation and transformation of these systems The model describes the intertwined power network and its variations formed by the interrelationship of individual party state and economic decision makers and the structural inequalities in interest promotion It reveals the structural background of the dynamics of self reproduction and its main traps due to political rationality of economic behavior that leads to self consumption of the system during self reproduction It also lays down the structural background of different operations and transformation paths The model is applied to the birth operation and transformation of the Romanian Hungarian and Chinese party states

Institution globale et marchés financiers Michel Fior, 2008 Cet ouvrage propose une économie politique internationale de la Société des Nations afin de mieux mettre en relief le rôle déterminant qu'a joué l'ancêtre de l'ONU dans la reconstruction économique de l'Europe au lendemain de la Première guerre mondiale Récemment interdisciplinaire l'analyse pose un cadre conceptuel qui permet de comprendre l'émergence des institutions internationales comme un phénomène social situé au croisement de l'économie et du politique L'ouvrage s'articule autour de l'hypothèse selon laquelle la SdN par ses plans de reconstruction mis en œuvre dans plusieurs pays européens a contribué à diffuser une doctrine de discipline monétaire une rigueur budgétaire et une mythologie du marché autorégulateur qui marqueront tout droit la Grande crise des années trente Il se penche sur le réseau des lites financières transnationales qui gravitent autour de la SdN remonte l'origine intellectuelle des programmes de reconstruction et examine leurs répercussions sur les différents pays concernés l'Autriche la Hongrie la Bulgarie et la Grèce parmi d'autres. L'analyse montre l'émergence durant l'entre-deux-guerres d'une gouvernance monétaire et financière dont le Fonds monétaire international FMI sera l'héritier. L'issue du second conflit mondial The Hungarian Agricultural Miracle? Zsuzsanna Varga, 2020-11-09 This book examines Soviet agriculture in post 1945 Hungary. It demonstrates how the agrarian lobby's development following the 1956 revolution led to contact with the West which allowed for the creation of an effective agricultural system. The author argues that this Hungarian agricultural miracle is a hybrid of American technology and Soviet structures was fundamental to the success of Hungarian collectivization.

Forthcoming Books Rose Army, 2000 Genocide in the Carpathians Raz Segal, 2016-05-18 Genocide in the Carpathians presents the history of Subcarpathian Rus, a multiethnic and multireligious borderland in the heart of Europe. This society of Carpatho-Ruthenians, Jews, Magyars, and Roma disintegrated under pressure of state building in interwar Czechoslovakia and during World War II from the onslaught of the Hungarian occupation. Charges of foreignness and disloyalty to the Hungarian state linked antisemitism to xenophobia and national security anxieties. Genocide unfolded as a Hungarian policy and Hungarian authorities committed mass robbery, deportations, and killings against all non-Magyar groups in their efforts to recast the region as part of an ethnocratic Greater Hungary. In considering the events that preceded the German invasion of Hungary in March 1944, this book reorients our view of the Holocaust not simply as a German drive for continent-wide genocide but as a truly international campaign of mass murder related to violence against non-Jews unleashed by projects of state and nation building. Focusing on both state and society, Raz Segal shows how Hungary's genocidal attack on Subcarpathian Rus obliterated not only tens of thousands of lives but also a diverse society and way of life that today, from the vantage point of our world of nation-states, we find difficult to imagine. Nationalisme économique et industrialisation Thomas David, 2009 De la Révolution française à la Seconde Guerre mondiale, les politiques d'industrialisation connaissent trois vagues successives : le proto-nationalisme économique 1789-1860, le nationalisme économique libéral 1860-1914 et le nationalisme économique 1918-1939. Après en avoir fait l'histoire, Thomas David traite des conséquences économiques et sociales de ces politiques. Comparant l'expérience de la Finlande avec celle des nations d'Europe centrale et orientale, il met en exergue comment, durant l'entre-deux-guerres, le nationalisme économique en Europe de l'Est s'est soldé par un échec. Dans la mesure où l'état ne s'appuyait pas sur la société civile, l'ouvrage montre enfin que, dans une perspective historique, le nationalisme économique est profondément lié à la mondialisation. À l'heure où l'on assiste à la résurgence de ces politiques dans de nombreuses régions de la planète, le passé est riche d'enseignements.
