Ewe Ghana Togo:

Ewe-Stämme Jakob Spieth, 2011 The Ewe of Ghana Togo and Benin have been one of the most documented ethnic groups in West Africa given their encounters with the German French and British colonial administrations In 1906 Jakob Spieth a German Bremen Missionary published Die Ewe Stamme Die Ewe Stamme is one of the most comprehensive treatises on the history religion economic life traditional social structure and indeed the entire spectrum of everyday life of the Ewe Published over 100 years ago the book had limited circulation and became increasingly rare to the extent that it almost became a deified piece of work and source of classified knowledge Additionally Die Ewe Stamme was published in German and old non standard and colloquial Ewe languages It is hoped this translation of Die Ewe Stamme into English and contemporary Ewe might create a revival of interest amongst researchers enhance the understanding for the traditional Ewe culture and become reading material in schools and universities One Thousand Languages Peter Austin, 2008 Presents an overview of the living endangered and extinct languages of the world providing the total number of speakers of the language its history and maps of the geographic areas where it is presently spoken or where it was spoken in the past Kinship and Marriage Among the Anlo Ewe G. K. Nukunya, 1969 Dr Nukunya is one of the few Africans who have worked as trained anthropologists among their own people His book is a study of the Anlo the most numerous of the Ewe peoples who are divided between Ghana and Togo Their descent is remarkable in that a patrilineal ideology is balanced by unusually strong matrilineal ties and descent is traced from genitor whether or not he is the mother's legal husband Dr Nukunya describes the complex system of landholdings that the high density of population make necessary Adjustments are made by the exercise of claims through maternal kin his conclusion contradicts the argument that patrilineal claims are asserted more strongly where there is pressure on land He also discusses the changes in household structure that result from the absence of parents on trading or fishing expeditions or in wage employment A Handbook of Eweland Benjamin Nicholas Lawrance, 2005 Coordinated by the West African Organisation for Research on Eweland this publication constitutes a first and much needed English language survey of the history and cultures of the Ewe peoples in the former French colonies Benin and Togo The colonial legacy has meant discontinuity in the research conducted on and by the Ewe peoples in Ghana with the Ewe peoples in the Francophone countries a more or less ethnically and linguistically homogenous people Hence this book aims to be a step towards re connecting knowledge and scholarship about the Ewe across the linguistic and geographical divide in the postcolonial period Charting the history development politics and economies activities of the Ewe in Benin and Togo the work brings together new sociological cultural historical and linguistic data most of which is primary research previously unpublished in any form Indigenous Peoples Victoria R. Williams, 2020-02-24 The book is an essential resource for those interested in investigating the lives histories and futures of indigenous peoples around the world Perfect for readers looking to learn more about cultural groups around the world this four volume work examines approximately 400 indigenous

E. K. Amenumey,1989 This publication is the result of research undertaken for the Ph D degree at the University of Manchester England It is a study of the vicissitudes of the demand for the unification of a homogeneous ethnic group that came to be divided into three political units Encyclopedia of the Peoples of Africa and the Middle East Jamie Stokes,2009 Encyclopedia of the Peoples of Africa and the Middle East is a two volume A to Z reference to the history and culture of the peoples of Africa and the Middle East Food and Identity in Nineteenth and Twentieth Century Ghana Brandi Simpson Miller,2022-01-11 This book investigates how cooking eating and identity are connected to the local micro climates in each of Ghana s major eco culinary zones The work is based on several years of researching Ghanaian culinary history and cuisine including field work archival research and interdisciplinary investigation The political economy of Ghana is used as an analytical framework with which to investigate the following questions How are traditional food production structures in Ghana coping with global capitalist production distribution and consumption How do land climate and weather structure or provide the foundation for food consumption and how does that affect the separate traditional and capitalist production sectors Despite the post WWII food fight that launched Ghana s bid for independence from the British empire Ghana s story demonstrates the centrality of local foods and cooking to its national character The cultural weight of regional traditional foods their power to satisfy and the overall collective social emphasis on the proper meal have persisted in Ghana irrespective of centuries of trade with
