Ex Familia Colleen Leahy Johnson, 1988 CASE STUDIES IN INTERNATIONAL RELATIONSHIPS IN DIVORCED FAMILIES

Grandparenting in Divorced Families Ferguson, Neil, Gillian Douglas, 2004-01-07 This book is the first in depth exploration of grandparents relationships with adult children and grandchildren in divorced families It asks what part grandparents might play in public policy and whether measures should be taken to support their grandparenting role Do they have a special place in family life that ought to be recognised in law This ground breaking book is intended for a wide readership Grandparents and parents in divorced families will identify with many of the thoughts feelings and experiences reflected here Academics in social science and law departments will encounter new thinking about the nature of the grandchild grandparent relationship Policy makers will find out more about recent policy initiatives and their strengths and limitations

The Psychosocial Interior of the Family Gerald Handel, 2018-04-17 Drawing upon findings from many disciplines including sociology communication family studies human development psychology and anthropology this book provides the first composite study of the whole family and of the complex interplay between self and collectivity in family life It departs sharply from the traditional two person cause effect models used in conventional studies and attempts to delineate a social psychology of the family This book undertakes to define and understand the nature of families to point out ways of discerning different family characters and to comprehend the processes by which these characters are established and maintained by so doing it introduces a new dimension into the study of family behavior and provides a framework within which meaningful investigations and practical applications can be pursued This long awaited fourth edition continues the goal of preceding editions to understand families in terms of the kinds of interaction through which family life is constructed Contributors drawn from a wide variety of disciplines sociology communication family studies human development psychology anthropology and social work provide a range of authoritative and up to date sources on the family and interpersonal relations including newly emergent forms of family organization In providing a new framework for fruitful investigation and practical application this volume contains the best available interdisciplinary work on the social psychology of the family

Lesbian Mothers Ellen Lewin, 2018-03-15 Within a society that long considered lesbian motherhood a contradiction in terms what were the experiences of lesbian mothers at the end of the twentieth century In this illuminating book lesbian mothers tell their stories of how they became mothers how they see their relationships with their children relatives lovers and friends and with their children s fathers and sperm donors how they manage child care arrangements and financial difficulties and how they deal with threats to custody Ellen Lewin s unprecedented research on lesbian mothers in the San Francisco area captured a vivid portrait of the moment before gay and lesbian parenting moved into the mainstream of U S culture Drawing on interviews with 135 women Lewin provided her readers with a new understanding of the attitudes of individual women the choices they made and the texture of their daily lives

Regulating Family

Responsibilities Mr Craig Lind, Ms Heather Keating, Ms Jo Bridgeman, 2013-02-28 This collection brings together some of the most eminent and exciting authors researching family responsibilities to examine understandings of the day to day responsibilities which people undertake within families and the role of the law in the construction of those understandings. The authors explore a range of questions fundamental to our understanding of responsibility in family life. To whom and to what ends are family members responsible? Is responsibility primarily a matter of care? Can we fulfil our family responsibilities by paying those to whom we owe responsibility? Or by paying others to fulfil our caring obligations for us? In each of these circumstances the chapters in this collection explore what it means to have family responsibilities, what constitutes an adequate performance of such responsibilities and the point at which the state intervenes. At the heart of this collection is an interest in the way in which the changing family affects people's perception and exercise of their family responsibilities and how the law attempts to regulate and understand those responsibilities. The essays range across intact and separated or fragmented families from lone and shared parenting in single homes to caring across households and even across international boundaries to reflect on the actual caring responsibilities of family members and on the fulfilment of financial responsibilities in families. This collection seeks to advance our understanding of the attempts of the law and its limits in regulating the responsibilities which family members take for each other. Families, Sport, Leisure and Social Justice

Dawn E. Trussell, Ruth Jeanes, 2021-04-15 Through a social justice and equity lens this book examines how families sport and leisure connect to broader social issues in society. It goes beyond describing oppression and disadvantaged identities and focuses on advocacy and ways forward to challenge the status quo. Adopting an interdisciplinary approach the book draws upon different theories to present important new work on topics as diverse as the role of parents and siblings within youth sport, the family in sport for development and peace and grandparent-grandchild relationships in sport, leisure and family tourism. Several topics also bring attention to the multiplicity of family lives such as LGBTQ older adults as well as children and young people in the care of the state. Together these studies provide important insight into how sport and leisure reflect and refract key contemporary social issues within the context of familial lives. This is fascinating reading for any student or researcher with an interest in sport, leisure, education, development, sociology, social work or social policy. Families Ties and Aging Ingrid Arnet Connidis, Amanda E. Barnett, 2018-10-05 Providing an integrated and thorough representation from current research and contemporary society Families Ties and Aging shows how pressing issues of our time, an aging population, changing family structures and new patterns of work-family balance are negotiated in the family lives of middle-aged and older adults. Focusing on key questions such as: How do current trends and social arrangements affect family relationships? and What are the implications of what we know for future research, theory, practice and policy? authors Ingrid Arnet Connidis and Amanda E. Barnett explore groups and relationships that are typically overlooked including the unique family situations of older single and childless persons, sibling ties, older lesbian and gay adults and new forms of intimate relationships. The Third Edition is thoroughly updated to include the latest research and theoretical developments recent media coverage of related issues and new information on intimate relationships in later life and elder neglect abuse Handbook of Aging and the Family Rosemary Blieszner, Victoria Hilkevitch Bedford, 1996-07-30 No other reference provides such a comprehensive and timely overview of theory and research on family relationships the contexts of family life and major turning points in late life families It includes many suggestions for theoretical and practical applications for future research on a score of important topics This multidisciplinary survey is an invaluable library reference and teaching resource intended for upper level undergraduate and graduate students teachers and practitioners for gerontologists family scholars psychologists sociologists historians social workers health care providers and policy makers The Commercialization of Intimate Life Arlie Russell Hochschild, 2003-04-24 Looking at a series of intimate moments that affect people the author of three New York Times Notable Books offers fresh essays on how everyday lives are shaped by modern capitalism 2 charts

Regulating Family Responsibilities Jo Bridgeman, 2016-04-08 This collection brings together some of the most eminent and exciting authors researching family responsibilities to examine understandings of the day to day responsibilities which people undertake within families and the role of the law in the construction of those understandings The authors explore a range of questions fundamental to our understanding of responsibility in family life To whom and to what ends are family members responsible Is responsibility primarily a matter of care Can we fulfil our family responsibilities by paying those to whom we owe responsibility Or by paying others to fulfil our caring obligations for us In each of these circumstances the chapters in this collection explore what it means to have family responsibilities what constitutes an adequate performance of such responsibilities and the point at which the state intervenes At the heart of this collection is an interest in the way in which the changing family affects people's perception and exercise their family responsibilities and how the law attempts to regulate and understand those responsibilities The essays range across intact and separated or fragmented families from lone and shared parenting in single homes to caring across households and even across international boundaries to reflect on the actual caring responsibilities of family members and on the fulfilment of financial responsibilities in families This collection seeks to advance our understanding of the attempts of the law and its limits in regulating the responsibilities which family members take for each other Population Issues Leo J.G. van Wissen, Pearl A.

Dykstra, 2012-12-06 This volume marks the end of an eight year program of research on population issues launched in 1990 by the Netherlands Organization for Scientific Research The NWO Priority Program on Population Issues Initiatives for this program of research were taken over ten years ago by Hans Van Ginkel who became the first program chair and Dirk Van De Kaa The Dutch community of population scientists is deeply indebted to them for their early efforts At the time the program carried the name Between Individual Development and Social Solidarity Population and Society in a Period of Transition The goals of the Priority Program were threefold To reduce the fragmentation of research on population issues to increase collaboration among population researchers with different disciplinary backgrounds and to strengthen the position of population studies in Dutch academe and in international forums Looking back over eight years of programmed research we can safely say that the Priority Program has given an enormous impetus to population research in the Netherlands as this volume attests This program of research could not have been carried out successfully without the valuable contributions and constructive input of a large group of scientists The scope and the focus of the Priority Program were defined by a preparatory committee chaired by Gerard Frinking

AGEING SOCIETIES Sarah Harper, 2014-05-01 Demographic ageing is a reality within 25 years half the population of Western Europe will be over 50 one quarter over 65 and the Less Developed Countries will contain one billion elderly people Ageing Societies examines the myths challenges and opportunities behind these figures Ageing Societies explores three areas the growing necessity for extending economic activity into later life and the implications of societal ageing for the intergenerational contract and the provision of social security the changes in modern families and the implications the changes have for the provision of support and care for the ageing population the biggest demographic challenge of all ageing in the Less Developed Countries where there is little or no infrastructure to provide long term care or social security Combining bio demography sociology economics and development studies Ageing Societies highlights the opportunities of an ageing population for a mature society Age integrated and flexible workforces increased labour mobility intergenerational integration age equality and politically stable age integrated societies are the potential benefits of a demography which will be with us for the majority of this century

Brave New Families Judith Stacey, 1998-07-15 A study of how the traditional nuclear family has been supplanted by a variety of new relationships that are not defined by blood ties and traditional gender roles The text explores the boundaries of the American family and the relationship between family and work

The Way We Never Were Stephanie Coontz, 2016-03-29 The definitive edition of the classic myth shattering history of the American family Leave It to Beaver was not a documentary a man's home has never been his castle the male breadwinner marriage is the least traditional family in history and rape and sexual assault were far higher in the 1970s than they are today In The Way We Never Were acclaimed historian Stephanie Coontz examines two centuries of the American family sweeping away misconceptions about the past that cloud current debates about domestic life The 1950s do not present a workable model of how to conduct our personal lives today Coontz argues and neither does any other era from our cultural past This revised edition includes a new introduction and epilogue exploring how the clash between growing gender equality and rising economic inequality is reshaping family life marriage and male female relationships in our modern era More relevant than ever The Way We Never Were is a potent corrective to dangerous nostalgia for an American tradition that never really existed

Recognizing Ourselves Ellen Lewin, 1998 The author offers a comprehensive account of lesbian and gay weddings in modern America through interviews resulting in a series of detailed profiles which show how new traditions and ultimately new families are emerging within contemporary America

Changing Britain Susan McRae, 1999 Major changes have happened in households and people's lives in most countries in the developed world Marriage rates have fallen divorce has risen women are having fewer children and later in life and there has been a rise in childbearing outside marriage One in four families is headed by a lone parent We are all getting older These changes have significance that goes beyond the individual families with implications for housing demand social security benefits labour force participation health and social services Changing Britain provides a comprehensive portrait of British families and households at the end of the 20th Century The book examines more generally the nature of economic and labour market change Britain's place in Europe and changing attitudes towards family life Specifically the book also deals with issues such as older people's lives non heterosexual families one person households young mothers and single parents and divorce

The American Ritual Tapestry Mary Jo Deegan, 1998-09-24 American rituals are vital to the creation and renewal of cultural meanings and rules for social interaction These rituals are rooted in tradition yet are rapidly changing a contradiction of hyper modern society This phenomenon was first explored by Professor Deegan in her 1989 study American Ritual Dramas The theory examines both participatory rituals and mass media rituals to show how everyday people become attached to and alienated from other rituals Elaborating on the critical dramaturgy theory the essays in this collection show how patterns can be changed to create a more emancipatory and celebratory society The topics covered in the collection include an analysis of Santa Claus skinheads hate crimes and strip dancing among other topics Each contributor has participated in these rituals and many examine related cultural artifacts such as music brochures and so forth As the essays show postmodern theory has greatly underestimated the power and coherence of these events An important study for scholars and other researchers involved with sociological theory social psychology and popular culture

Changing Families, Changing Responsibilities Marilyn Coleman, Lawrence Ganong, 1999-05 This volume explores attitudes and beliefs concerning intergenerational family responsibilities with special focus on families affected by divorce and or remarriage For developmentalists family studies specialists sociologists and policy makers
