The Foundations of Linguistic Theory (RLE Linguistics B: Grammar) Nigel Love,2014-02-03 For Roy Harris the fundamental problem about linguistics is that it has been led astray by the fact that we are capable intellectually of decontextualising our own verbal behaviour A whole interlocking system of doctrines about forms meanings and communication has arisen designed to support the idea that one particular kind of decontextualising analysis is a prerequisite for rather than a retrospective reflection on that behaviour Against this in 13 essays collected here for the first time Harris argues for a fresh start which recognises that we create language as we go both as individuals and as communities just as we create our social structures forms of artistic expression moral values and everything else we call civilisation If Harris s thought can be put in a nutshell it is that all utterances whether written or spoken have to appear in a context and that context is an integral part of the utterance There is no such thing as a contextless utterance Readings
