Briggs, 2005-04-08 Examines trends in the mathematics scores of different racial ethnic groups over time and analyzes how changes in family school and schooling measures help explain changes in the test score gaps Although there were few positive changes between schools the within school experiences of black and Latino students changed for the better compared with white students when measured by student self reported academic track placement

The Educator's Handbook for Understanding and Closing Achievement Gaps Joseph Murphy, 2010 Beginning with a remarkably comprehensive and accessible analysis of the gap s causes the book offers a refreshingly balanced evidence based state of the art outline of productive solutions that should inform the work of all educational stakeholders Ken Leithwood Professor OISE University of Toronto No one is better positioned than Joseph Murphy to provide lessons for education leaders on this important topic Andrew Porter George and Diane Weiss Professor of Education University of Pennsylvania For too long the achievement gap has been proclaimed discussed and then dismissed as a subject of despair Seldom has it been systematically defined placed in historical perspective or positively addressed Through thorough scholarship comprehensive knowledge and creativity this book fills that void James W Guthrie Patricia and Rodes Hart Professor of Educational Leadership and Public Policy Vanderbilt University While offering no simple pathway to progress this book reminds us how much more we can do to close achievement gaps Michael S Knapp Director Center for the Study of Teaching Policy University of Washington Distinguished researcher Joseph F Murphy has gathered and analyzed the most up to date research and data to help headteachers understand what the achievement gap is why it persists and what teachers can do about it This comprehensive handbook Examines external factors that contribute to achievement gaps such as socioeconomic status family environment racism and individual differences Covers internal factors such as instruction school culture and school support Provides strategies for addressing both internal and external factors to make an impact The Anatomy of Achievement Gaps Jaekyung Lee, 2016 Through the lens of interdisciplinary and systems perspectives The Anatomy of Achievement Gaps offers an expert critical analysis of the underachievement problems plaguing the American education system today By providing a blueprint to meet these challenges Jaekyung Lee both evaluates and informs American educational policies with a new model of achievement for preschool through college aged students Commemorating the 50th Anniversary of brown V. Board of Education: Kenneth K. Wong, 2014-04-04 This special issue commemorates and reassesses the educational effects of the Brown decision The articles are grounded in theories and methods of several disciplines including law philosophy economics political science sociology and public policy The researchers examine the way the Court frames racial inequality and whether the proposed remedy is consistent with the institutional and legal context at the time of the ruling In addressing these questions the authors pay particular attention to the nature of the constitutional argument use of social evidence in shaping judicial decisions the political economy of policy development and implementation in addressing racial desegregation and the ongoing challenge of ensuring equality of schooling opportunity for the increasingly diverse student population

International Studies in Educational Inequality, Theory and Policy Richard Teese, Stephen Lamb, Marie Duru-Bellat, 2007-05-18 Inequality is a marked and persistent feature of education systems both in the developed and the developing worlds Major gaps in opportunity and in outcomes have become more critical than in the past thanks to the knowledge economy and globalization The pursuit of equity as a goal of public policy is examined in this book through a series of national case studies The book covers many different global contexts from the wealthiest to some of the poorest nations on earth It therefore offers a broad range of different theoretical and methodological approaches and brings together extensive international experience in equity policy

Incentives Equity and Adequacy in School Finance Financing of Higher Education Key Concepts in the Economics of Education Private and Social Returns to Human Capital Investments Production and Costs of Schooling Revenue and Aid for Schools Statistical Methods in the Economics of Education Teachers and Teacher Labor Markets Current Literature on Science of Science ,2005 Steady Gains and Stalled Progress Katherine Magnuson,Jane Waldfogel,2008-10-09 Addressing the disparity in test scores between black and white children remains one of the greatest social challenges of our time Between the 1960s and 1980s tremendous strides were made in closing the achievement gap but that remarkable progress halted abruptly in the mid 1980s and stagnated throughout the 1990s How can we understand these shifting trends and their relation to escalating economic inequality In Steady Gains and Stalled Progress interdisciplinary experts present a groundbreaking analysis of the multifaceted reasons behind the test score gap and the policies that hold the greatest promise for renewed progress in the future Steady Gains and Stalled Progress shows that while income inequality does not directly lead to racial differences in test scores it creates and exacerbates disparities in schools families and communities which do affect test scores Jens Ludwig and Jacob Vigdor demonstrate that the period of greatest progress in closing the gap coincided with the historic push for school desegregation in the 1960s and 1970s Stagnation came after efforts to integrate schools slowed down Today the test score gap is nearly 50 percent larger in states with the highest levels of school segregation Katherine Magnuson Dan Rosenbaum and Jane Waldfogel show how parents level of education affects children s academic performance as educational attainment for black parents increased in the 1970s and 1980s the gap in children s test scores narrowed Sean Corcoran and William Evans present evidence that teachers of black students have less experience and are less satisfied in their careers than teachers of white students David Grissmer and Elizabeth Eiseman find that the effects of economic deprivation on cognitive and emotional development in early childhood lead to a racial divide in school readiness on the very first day of kindergarten Looking ahead Helen Ladd stresses that the task of narrowing the divide is not one that can or should be left to schools alone Progress will resume only when policymakers address the larger social and economic forces behind the problem Ronald Ferguson masterfully interweaves the volume s chief findings to highlight the fact that the achievement gap is the cumulative effect of many different processes operating in different contexts The gap in black and white test scores is one of the most salient features of racial inequality today Steady Gains and Stalled Progress provides the detailed information and powerful insight we need to understand a complicated past and design a better future Tracing Racial Parity in Choice and Completion of Science, Math and Engineering Majors Jill Emily Bowdon,2008 The Minimum Core for Numeracy: Knowledge, Understanding and Personal Skills Sheine Peart,2009-06-02 The teacher training framework introduced in September 2007 requires all teachers in the post 16 sector to possess knowledge understanding and personal skills to at least level 2 in the minimum core for numeracy Coverage and assessment of the core have to be embedded in all Certificate and Diploma courses leading to QTLS and ATLS status This book is a practical guide to numeracy
