Excavations At Kolomoki Final Report:

Excavations at Kolomoki William H. Sears, 1956 The Kolomoki site consists of seven earthen mounds within the park were built between 250-950 A.D. by the Swift Creek and Weeden Island Indians. The mounds include Georgia's oldest great temple mound, two burial mounds, and four ceremonial mounds. This site is located in Early County, Georgia, and is now called the Kolomoki Mounds Historic Park.

Excavations at Kolomoki by William H. Sears William H. Sears, 1956 Kolomoki Thomas J. Pluckhahn, 2003-09-18 The first comprehensive and systematic investigation of a Woodland period ceremonial center, Kolomoki, one of the most impressive archaeological sites in the southeastern United States, includes at least nine large earthen mounds in the lower Chattahoochee River valley of southwest Georgia. The largest Mound A rises approximately 20 meters above the terrace that borders it. From its flat-topped summit, a visitor can survey the string of smaller mounds that form an arc to the south and west. Archaeological research had previously placed Kolomoki within the Mississippian period, ca. A.D. 1000.

Histories of Southeastern Archaeology Shannon Tushingham, Jane Hill, Charles H. McNutt, 2002-03-18 This volume provides a comprehensive broad-based overview including first-person accounts of the development and conduct of archaeology in the Southeast over the past three decades. Histories of Southeastern Archaeology originated as a symposium at the 1999 Southeastern Archaeological Conference (SEAC) organized in honor of the retirement of Charles H. McNutt following 30 years of teaching anthropology. Written for the most part by members of the first post-depression generation of southeastern archaeologists, this volume offers a window not only into the archaeological past of the United States but also into the hopes and despairs of archaeologists who worked to write that unrecorded history or to test scientific theories concerning culture. The contributors take different approaches, each guided by experience, personality, and location, as well as by the legislation that shaped the practical conduct of archaeology in their area. Despite the state-by-state approach, there are certain common themes, such as the effect or lack thereof of changing theory in Americanist archaeology, the explosion of contract archaeology and its relationship to academic archaeology, goals achieved or not achieved, and the common ground of SEAC. This book tells us how we learned what we now know about the Southeast's unwritten past. Of obvious interest to professionals and students of the field, this volume will also be sought after by historians, political scientists, amateurs, and anyone interested in the South. Additional reviews: A unique publication that presents numerous historical, topical, and personal perspectives on the archaeological heritage of the Southeast. Southeastern Archaeology

The Archaeology of Villages in Eastern North America Jennifer Birch, Victor D. Thompson, 2018-09-17 This volume highlights the similarities and differences in the historical trajectories of village formation and development in eastern North America, as well as the larger processes by which villages have the power to affect large-scale social transformations. Contributors to this volume employ archaeological and historical evidence to explore the development of villages among eastern North American societies of the deep and recent past.

The Archaeology of Arcuate Communities Martin

Menz, Analise Hollingshead, Haley Messer, 2024-06-03 Provides case studies of social dynamics and evolution of ring shaped communities of the Eastern Woodlands The Historical Turn in Southeastern Archaeology Robbie Ethridge, Eric E. Bowne, 2020-11-03 This volume uses case studies to capture the recent emphasis on history in archaeological reconstructions of America's deep past representing a profound shift in thinking about precolonial and colonial history and helping to erase the false divide between ancient and contemporary America Black Drink Charles M. Hudson, 2004 Until its use declined in the nineteenth century Indians of the southeastern United States were devoted to a caffeinated beverage commonly known as black drink Brewed from the parched leaves of the yaupon holly Ilex vomitoria black drink was used socially and ceremonially In certain ritual purification rites Indians would regurgitate after drinking the tea This study details botanical clinical spiritual historical and material aspects of black drink including its importance not only to Native Americans but also to many of their European American contemporaries Antiquities of the Southern Indians, Particularly of the Georgia Tribes Charles C.
