Excavations At Jalame:

Excavations at Jalame Gladys Davidson Weinberg, 1988 Excavations at Jalame 1964 - 1967, 1968 Excavations at Tall Jawa, Jordan James R. Battenfield, Susan Ellis, Peter R.W. Popkin, 2016-08-01 In Excavations at Tall Jawa Jordan Volume 5 the authors present their research in the areas of regional survey salvage excavation zooarchaeology ceramic typology experimental archaeology and ethnoarchaeology This work illustrates areas threatened and later destroyed by modern development and is a contribution to heritage documentation These studies illuminate aspects of family and town life in the Iron Age Roman Byzantine and Late Ottoman Early Mandate periods in central Jordan Testament of Time University of Missouri--Columbia. Museum of Art and Archaeology. Palestinian Antiquities, Andrea Berlin, 2004-04 This illustrated catalogue presents 190 objects from the Collection of Palestinian Antiquities in the Museum of Art and Archaeology at the University of Missouri Columbia Covering the 4th millennium BC to the 8th century AD the artefacts are presented in ten thematic sections These cover such subjects as death and burial in the early Bronze Age war the domestic world in the Bronze and Iron Ages the wider world religion in the late Bronze and Iron Ages Hellenistic and Byzantine trade the villa at Tel Anafa technology everyday life in the hellenistic Roman and Byzantine periods and pagans Jews and Christians Each section begins with a discussion followed by a full description and discussion of the objects themselves all of which are illustrated Many types of object are represented including ceramics and lamps personal implements and tools religious figurines and carvings jewellery bone items toilet implements scarabs armour and weapons intaglio gems and ossuaries The book begins with a brief discussion of changing attitudes and practice in the archaeology of the Holy Land Serçe Limani, Vol 2 George F. Bass, Berta Lledo, Sheila Matthews, Robert H. Brill, 2009-07-20 For almost a millennium a modest wooden ship lay underwater off the coast of Ser e Limani Turkey filled with evidence of trade and objects of daily life The ship now excavated by the Institute of Nautical Archaeology at Texas A M University trafficked in both the Byzantine and Islamic worlds of its time Known as the Glass Wreck it bore cargo that included three metric tons of glass cullet including broken Islamic vessels and eighty pieces of intact glassware along with various artifacts of ship life This second volume of the discovery s investigation focuses on the excavation conservation and study of the glass found in the wreckage The extensive catalog will be a valuable tool for archaeologists and scholars of Islamic glass and Islamic trade Further the systematic methodology and presentation of such a large undertaking will serve as a model for future study across many disciplines The Science and Archaeology of Materials Julian Henderson, 2013-04-15 The Science and Archaeology of Materials is set to become the definitive work in the archaeology of materials Henderson s highly illustrated work is an accessible and fascinating textbook which will be essential reading for all practical archaeologists With clear sections on a wide range of materials including ceramics glass metals and stone this work examines the very foundations of archaeological study Anyone interested in ancient technologies especially those involving high temperatures kilns and furnaces will be able to follow in each chapter how raw materials are refined transformed and shaped into objects This description is then followed by appropriate case studies which provide a new chronological and geographical example of how scientific and archaeological aspects can and do interact They include Roman pale green and highly decorated glass 17th Century glass in Britain and Europe the effect of the introduction of the wheel on pottery technology the technology of Celadon ceramics early copper metallurgy in the Middle East chemical analysis and lead isotope analysis of British Bronzes early copper alloy metallurgy in Thailand the chemical analysis of obsidian and its distribution the origins of the Stonehenge bluestones This book shows how archaeology and science intersect and feed off each other Modern scientific techniques have provided data which when set within a fully integrated archaeological context have the potential of contributing to mainstream archaeology This holistic approach generates a range of connections which benefits both areas and will enrich archaeological study in the future

Studies in historical geography and biblical historiography [electronic resource] Zekharyah Kallai, Gêrşôn Gâlîl, Moshe Weinfeld, 1994 This book contains a collection of studies in Historical Geography and Biblical Historiography It is presented to Professor Zecharia Kallai one of the leading scholars of Historical Geography of the Bible and is concluded with a list of his publications The Menorah, the Ancient Seven-armed Candelabrum Râhêl Hâklîlî, The Menorah the ancient seven armed candelabrum was the most important and dominant symbol in Jewish art both in the Land of Israel and the Diaspora The prominent position of the menorah in Jewish art emphasizes its significance The book will present the menorah history origin its unique form and significance during the Second Temple period and in the Late Antiquity The Land of Benjamin Izchak Magen, Noga Haimovich-Carmin, 2004 This title deals with one of the most important areas in the Land of Israel during the Second Temple period It was to this area that most Jews returned from the Babylonian Exile and it was here that the Hasmonean state with its religious and military heritage was formed and flourished At the core of this book is the description of the discovery of two agricultural settlements and the finds unearthed there which illuminate Jewish rural life during the Second Temple period Most important is the unearthing of a synagogue dating from before the destruction of the Temple which is the first synagogue discovered from that period to date in the Land of Benjamin Glass of the Roman World Justine Bayley, Ian Freestone, Caroline Jackson, 2015-07-31 Glass of the Roman World illustrates the arrival of new cultural systems mechanisms of trade and an expanded economic base in the early 1st millennium AD which in combination allowed the further development of the existing glass industry Glass became something which encompassed more than simply a novel and highly decorative material Glass production grew and its consumption increased until it was assimilated into all levels of society used for display and luxury items but equally for utilitarian containers windows and even tools These 18 papers by renowned international scholars include studies of glass from Europe and the Near East The authors write on a variety of topics where their work is at the forefront of new approaches to the subject They both extend and consolidate aspects of our understanding of how glass was produced traded and used throughout the Empire and the wider world drawing on chronology typology patterns of distribution and other methodologies including the incorporation of new scientific methods Though focusing on a single material the papers are firmly based in its archaeological context in the wider economy of the Roman world and consider glass as part of a complex material culture controlled by the expansion and contraction of the Empire The volume is presented in honor of Jenny Price a foremost scholar of Roman glass

Modern Methods for Analysing Archaeological and Historical Glass Koen H. A. Janssens, 2013-03-18 The first scientific volume to compile the modern analytical techniques for glass analysis Modern Methods for Analysing Archaeological and Historical Glass presents an up to date description of the physico chemical methods suitable for determining the composition of glass and for speciation of specific components This unique resource presents members of Association Internationale pour l'Histoire du Verre as well as university scholars with a number of case studies where the effective use of one or more of these methods for elucidating a particular cultural historical or historical technical aspect of glass manufacturing technology is documented

Roman Artefacts and Society Ellen Swift, 2017-02-09 In this book Ellen Swift uses design theory previously neglected in Roman archaeology to investigate Roman artefacts in a new way making a significant contribution to both Roman social history and our understanding of the relationships that exist between artefacts and people Based on extensive data collection and the close study of artefacts from museum collections and archives the book examines the relationship between artefacts everyday behaviour and experience The concept of affordances features of an artefact that make possible and incline users towards particular uses for functional artefacts is an important one for the approach taken This concept is carefully evaluated by considering affordances in relation to other sources of evidence such as use wear archaeological context the end products resulting from artefact use and experimental reconstruction Artefact types explored in the case studies include locks and keys pens shears glass vessels dice boxes and finger rings using material mainly drawn from the north western Roman provinces with some material also from Roman Egypt The book then considers how we can use artefacts to understand particular aspects of Roman behaviour and experience including discrepant experiences according to factors such as age social position and left or right handedness which are fostered through artefact design The relationship between production and users of artefacts is also explored investigating what particular production methods make possible in terms of user experience and also examining production constraints that have unintended consequences for users The book examines topics such as the perceived agency of objects differences in social practice across the provinces cultural change and development in daily practice and the persistence of tradition and social convention It shows that design intentions everyday habits of use and the constraints of production processes each contribute to the reproduction and transformation of material culture
