Excavations In Southwark 1973-1976 Lambeth 1973-1979:

Excavations in Southwark 1973-1976, Lambeth 1973-1979 Museum of London. Department of Greater London Archaeology, 1988 Archaeological Sediments and Soils Anthony J Barham, Richard I Macphail, 2016-06-16 A collection of papers focusing on the links between archaeology and the study of geological sediments and soils The Archaeology of Reformation, 1480-1580 David Gaimster, 2018-12-13 Traditionally the Reformation has been viewed as responsible for the rupture of the medieval order and the foundation of modern society Recently historians have challenged the stereotypical model of cataclysm and demonstrated that the religion of Tudor England was full of both continuities and adaptations of traditional liturgy ritual and devoti Archaeology in Greater London, 1965-1990 Andrew Westman, Alan Thompson, Tony Dyson, 1998 Neolithic Archaeology in the Intertidal Zone E. J. Sidell, F. Haughey, 2007-10-16 This volume is based upon a conference which took place in 1999 reflecting the developing interest in intertidal archaeology and concentrating on the Neolithic period as well as elements of associated Mesolithic and Bronze Age archaeology Since then the papers have been revised to include new discoveries and reflect the increasing interest and importance attached to the intertidal zone All papers have supporting environmental data and radiocarbon dates The volume has a wide geographical spread and details the work of archaeologists working in fragile and rapidly eroding environments is evaluated the papers demonstrate the high quality research being undertaken around the British coast to salvage archaeology by record and undertake detailed research to place it in its proper context Caldecote Guy Beresford, 2017-12-02 At just 132 hectares 325 acres the parish of Caldecote is one of the smallest parishes in Hertfordshire Today the settlement comprises the manor house until recently surrounded by a range of traditional farm buildings together with six labourer s cottages and the church To the north lies the site of the old rectory and the earthworks of a medieval settlement In 1973 the Department of Environment and the Deserted Medieval Village Research Group arranged a rescue excavation to examine the earthworks of the medieval village before they were levelled and ploughed Five crofts the old rectory site and much of the moated enclosure were investigated in one of the largest excavations ever conducted on a later medieval rural site in Britain Though the excavations did recover a Bronze Age beaker burial and small quantities of Roman and Iron Age pottery the medieval settlement at Caldecote was probably founded in the 10th century and by the time of the Domesday Survey there was a church a priest and nine villeins A moated site was added in the 13th century A century later Caldecote was granted to the abbots of the Benedictine monastery in St Albans at a time when there were seventeen householders Early in the second half of the 14th century the estate and demesne were subdivided into six farms each complete with a hall house and two or more barns Following the dissolution of the monastery in 1539 the manor was again held by an absentee lord and the farms continued to prosper However the late 16th and early 17th centuries for which there are several surviving wills and inventories saw their gradual abandonment After the desertion of Caldecote Marish in 1698 Caldecote was farmed as a single unit until 1970 when the estate was attached to that adjoining the manor of Newnham Of particular importance from Caldecote is the archaeological evidence for medieval peasant structures the development of the later medieval domestic plan and the structural transformation of post medieval period houses including the insertion of chimneys and second storeys The medieval and later pottery assemblage is of regional importance for its size and the range of fabrics represented The metalwork comprises many objects of personal adornment household utensils and tools for woodwork agriculture and the manufacture of textiles Other finds include copper alloy objects both domestic and agricultural whetstones quernstones mortars and clay pipes Although the economy of Caldecote was always dependant on arable farming the faunal remains elucidate aspects of the medieval diet and details of the livestock maintained on the holdings

Winner of the PROSE Award 2019 for Classics This major new work on Roman London brings together the many new discoveries of the last generation and provides a detailed overview of the city from before its foundation in the first century to the fifth century AD Richard Hingley explores the archaeological and historical evidence for London under the Romans assessing the city in the context of its province and the wider empire He explores the multiple functions of Londinium over time considering economy industry trade status and urban infrastructure but also looking at how power status gender and identity are reflected through the materiality of the terrain and waterscape of the evolving city A particular focus of the book is the ritual and religious context in which these activities occurred Hingley looks at how places within the developing urban landscape were inherited and considers how the history and meanings of Londinium built upon earlier associations from its recent and ancient past As well as drawing together a much needed synthesis of recent scholarship and material evidence Hingley offers new perspectives that will inspire future debate and research for years to come This volume not only provides an accessible introduction for undergraduate students and anyone interested in the ancient city of London but also an essential account for more advanced students and scholars

Ships of the Port of London Peter Marsden,2014-07-15 This report is the first full study of the remains of ships and boats used in the port of London from the first to the eleventh century AD Using evidence from the vessels from the waterfronts and from trade goods Peter Marsden has reconstructed the design and use of these ancient ships and brought together for the first time the accumulated evidence of over 30 years of archaeological research The remains of three substantial vessels are discussed Blackfriars ship 1 the earliest known seagoing sailing ship yet found in northern Europe the New Guy s House boat a river barge from the second century and the County Hall ship discovered in 1910 and dating from the fourth century Using these and fragments of different types of clinker built vessels found in the Thames the author examines the pattern of shipbuilding in northern Europe with the conclusion that London was the meeting point for several shipbuilding traditions of which the primary Roman tradition in northern Europe was Celtic The growth of trade from Roman times to the fifth and sixth centuries when London was deserted and from its renewal in the seventh century to the end of the eleventh century is examined through the evidence of the remains of imported goods together with the changing function of the port and the development of berthing practices
