Face to Face with John Freeman British Broadcasting Corporation, 1989 Face to Face with John Freeman John Freeman, 1989 Behind the Public Veil Lewis V. Baldwin, 2016-06-03 What was Martin Luther King Jr really like In this groundbreaking volume Lewis V Baldwin answers this question by focusing on the man himself Drawing on the testimonies of friends family and closest associates this volume adds much needed biographical background to the discussion as Baldwin looks beyond all of the mythic messianic and iconic images to treat King in terms of his fundamental and vivid humanness Special attention is devoted to King s personal insecurities and struggles his humility and affinity to common people his delight in pleasant and passionate conversation his insatiable love for the precious but ordinary things of life his robust appetite for artfully prepared and delicious soul food his enduring appreciation for music and dance his cheerful and playful attitude and spirit his abiding interest in games and sports and his amazing gift of wit humor and laughter King emerges here as an ordinary human being who enjoyed and celebrated life to the fullest but was never bigger than life Here we see the personal qualities of King as a real fleshly human being and also as a man shaped by his social and cultural experiences and locations This book reclaims the man behind the mythology Face to Face with John Freeman ; Interviews from the BBC TV Series Introduced by Joan Bakewell John Freeman, 1989 How to Be Intimate with 15,000,000 Strangers Brett Kahr, 2023-05-31 How to Be Intimate with 15 000 000 Strangers is an investigation into how the fields of mental health and media can work together more collaboratively Drawing upon his extensive experience in media psychoanalysis Brett Kahr explores how a rich collaboration with radio television film and other forms of public outreach can be accomplished while also embracing the weight and gravitas of depth psychology In addition to describing his work as Resident Psychotherapist at the B B C Kahr also examines the ways in which references to the media enter the consulting room and provide clinicians with important insights about hidden aspects of the minds of their patients Moreover he investigates the historical hesitancy of psychoanalysts experts in confidentiality to engage with such a public arena as the media thus providing important insights about how one can collaborate broadly and loudly while also maintaining one s ethical commitment to silence and privacy This book will be of interest to psychoanalysts psychotherapists and anyone intrigued by the intersection between media and psychoanalysis In Confidence Laurie Taylor, 2014-08-29 A study of celebrity based on the seventy odd interviews featured in the Sky Arts television series In Confidence Informants include David Schwimmer Stephen Fry Harry Belafonte Alan Ayckbourn Kathie Burke Michael Frayn Christopher Hitchens Damien Hirst Tracey Emin Sheila Hancock Richard Dawkins Miriam Margolys Tracey Emin and Nigel Kennedy Here you will find everyone from politicians to artists film makers to novelists talking frankly about fame and reputation What the Hell Are the Neurons up To? Graham Collier, 2011-01-19 Know Thyself Such was the advice constantly offered over 2 000 years ago by the famed Greek Oracle of Apollo at Delphi It was given in response to those who sought her counsel regarding the course their destiny was likely to take It is still sound advice for most of us in the modern world To come to really know oneself discover one's distinctive temperament and character requires frequent self scrutiny It is well nigh impossible to know what makes one tick without recognizing the nature of one's attitudes and responses to life in the outside world while also acknowledging the highly personal inner psychological drives of feeling thought and imagination The consciousness that impels us is psychologically deep and wide ranging The search for the essential Self requires a Sherlock Holmes mentality and discipline it's a hell of a job to unify outer and inner consciousnesses This book should help Every chapter can be seen and read as its own story describing an especially significant aspect of consciousness Cumulatively they are meant to help readers attain a sense of their own body mind spirit complexes and who they are as entities unto themselves And then to ask the question as to where reality is to be found in the mental life of thoughts and feelings or in physical encounters with the material world of time and space

So Far and No Further! Jrt Wood, 2012-05 So Far and No Further Rhodesia's Bid for Independence during the Retreat from Empire 1959-1965 Ian Smith's unilateral declaration of independence for Rhodesia now Zimbabwe on 11 November 1965 was seen by many as the act of a rebellious white minority seeking to preserve their privileged position in defiance of Britain's determination to shed her Empire and introduce rule by the African majority as soon as possible However the drama of UDI has long overshadowed and oversimplified the complexities of the preceding years In this account of that time based on sole access to the hitherto closed papers of Ian Douglas Smith and Sir Roy Welensky as well as extensive research at London's Public Record Office and in government and private collections elsewhere Dr J R T Wood chronicles the collision course on which Britain and Rhodesia were set after 1959 complementing his study of the fate of the Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland in his definitive The Welensky Papers A History of the Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland 1953-1963 Britain Wood shows was intent on shedding her Empire as quickly as possible against a backdrop of the Cold War and the rise of Chinese and Soviet sponsored African nationalism She delivered some 600 one man one vote constitutions to her fledgling nations and had no intention of granting Rhodesia independence on different terms Unlike Britain's other African possessions however Rhodesia had enjoyed self governance since 1923 The largely white Rhodesian electorate wary of the consequences of premature and ill prepared majority rule sought instead dominion status akin to that of Canada Australia and New Zealand Their intention was gradually to pave the way for majority rule since 1923 Rhodesia's electoral qualifications had excluded race It was always understood that the African majority would acquire power the concern was the speed and smoothness of that acquisition Culminating in those dramatic days of November 1965 when Ian Smith concluded in the face of resolute British stonewalling that he had no alternative but UDI this unique account is the first in a series which chronicles the course of events that ultimately led to Robert Mugabe's accession to power in 1980 and all that entailed

Television and Consumer Culture Rob Turnock, 2007-07-30 The radical expansion of television broadcasting in the post war years and beyond both reflected and promoted a cultural revolution sweeping across British society Reaching out to a mass audience for the first time the new television industry made visible the transition from drab austerity and seeming cultural consensus to the brash heady glitz and individualism of the new consumer age Television and Consumer Culture explores television's institutional technological and programming developments during this period revealing how genres as different as action adventure series serious dramas situation comedies and quiz and game shows simultaneously promoted both consumer culture and class conflict Drawing on historical analysis and sociological theory and looking at issues such as celebrity scheduling intimacy and sociability Turnock argues that television during this era established and promoted itself as a culturally powerful force a fact that has implications for the way that media power is understood to operate today
