Photographs by B.A.KING • Text by JONATHAN ELA

An aerial photograph showing a rugged coastline. A narrow strip of land, densely covered with green forest, runs diagonally from the top left towards the bottom right. The land is characterized by a series of dark, jagged rock formations or cliffs that protrude into the water. The water on the left is a vibrant turquoise color, while the water on the right is a deeper blue. The sky is a clear, pale blue.
