Facing The Figures What Is Really Happening To The National Health Service:

A National Health Service? John Mohan, 1995-03-20 This book contrasts the proposals of the Royal Commission of the late 1970s with the very different set of priorities enshrined in the 1989 White Paper and describes how the changes between the two documents came about. It argues that the NHS reforms should be seen not as the inevitable product of technical developments nor as a consensus response to narrowly managerial difficulties within the NHS but rather as part of a wider political strategy towards state provision of welfare. The book strongly emphasises the uneven geographical impacts of post 1979 changes, a topic usually underplayed by analysts of social policy and draws heavily on previously unpublished material.

The New Politics of Welfare Jo Campling, Michael McCarthy, 1989-11-20 The principles and value framework of the postwar welfare consensus were called into question with the general election of 1979. This book assesses developments in key areas of the welfare state providing a comprehensive appraisal of the impact of Thatcherism. The contributors also examine the prospects for the new welfare into the 1990s.

Beyond Economic Interests Keiko Yasukawa, Stephen Black, 2016-02-10 Over the last two decades an increasingly economic discourse has dominated discussions about adult literacy and numeracy. This book provides critiques of and alternative narratives to the dominant discourse. Authors provide tools and methodologies of critique including ways of seeing how policies in the countries of focus come to be captured almost completely by the interests of business and industry as well as how to critically interpret the data that policy makers use to justify their priorities. But adult literacy and numeracy practitioners and learners find spaces and places to pursue learning that matters for the lived experiences of adults and their communities. Beyond Economic Interests presents the struggles and achievements of practitioners and learners that lead the readers of the book to critically appreciate that a counter narrative to the purely economic discourse of adult literacy and numeracy is much needed and possible.

Data in Society Jeff Evans, Sally Ruane, Humphrey Southall, 2019-08-21 Statistical data and evidence based claims are increasingly central to our everyday lives. Critically examining Big Data, this book charts the recent explosion in sources of data including those precipitated by global developments and technological change. It sets out changes and controversies related to data harvesting and construction, dissemination and data analytics by a range of private, governmental and social organisations in multiple settings. Analysing the power of data to shape political debate, the presentation of ideas to us by the media and issues surrounding data ownership and access, the authors suggest how data can be used to uncover injustices and to advance social progress.
