Davis, 2003-01-30 This second supplement to DALB the Dictionary of American Library Biography 1978 adds 77 notable deceased members of the library and archival communities to the 302 entries in the main volume and the 51 entries in the first supplement 1990 The second supplement includes primarily those figures who died between 1987 and the end of the year 2000 though some 13 entries provide sketches for notable persons whose death dates are somewhat earlier and who were not included in earlier works Among the entries are a number of African Americans and nearly one half of the entries are women Some 80 contributors from the United States and Canada provided sketches many based on original source material This supplement follows the practice and format of the earlier volumes though it allows presidents of the American Library Association to compete for inclusion with other nominations Becoming Confident Teachers Claire

McGuinness,2011-07-26 Becoming Confident Teachers examines the teaching role of information professionals at a time of transition and change in higher education While instruction is now generally accepted as a core library function in the 21st century librarians often lack sufficient training in pedagogy and instructional design consequently finding their teaching responsibilities to be stressful and challenging By exploring the requirements and responsibilities of the role this book guides teaching librarians to a position where they feel confident that they have acquired the basic body of knowledge and procedures to handle any kind of instructional requests that come their way and to be proactive in developing and promoting teaching and learning initiatives In addition this book suggests strategies and methods for self development and fostering a teacher identity giving teaching librarians a greater sense of purpose and direction and the ability to clearly communicate their role to non library colleagues and within the public sphere Specifically examines the causes of stress among teaching librarians zeroing in on recognisable scenarios which are known to zap confidence and increase teacher anxiety among librarians An up to date and easily digestible take on the role and responsibilities of the teaching librarian Identifies the major trends that are transforming the teaching function within professional academic librarianship Leadership in Academic Libraries Today Bradford Lee Eden,Jody Condit Fagan,2014-03-14

Leadership in Academic Libraries highlights model examples of the move from leadership theory into actual practice A consideration of leadership theories provides a working vocabulary to facilitate discussions of abstract concepts while specific topical investigations and case studies illustrate those concepts and show the manner in which theories play out in practice Chapter authors speak from experience as well as theoretical grounding and include practitioners researchers and formal and informal leaders Topics include transformational leadership across generations developing a research agenda in library leadership methodologies for studying library leadership connections between leadership models and library focused research engaging with business psychology and educational administration literature leadership styles organizational culture the role of mentoring in leadership and the role of women in academic library leadership Two chapters highlight the dichotomy between positional leadership and socially constructed leadership roles The research methods used include case study survey and action research Extensive bibliographies for each chapter provide a solid foundation for further research School of Library Science Drexel Institute of Art, Science, and Industry. School of Library Science,1923

Technology-Centered Academic Library Partnerships and Collaborations Doherty, Brian,2016-06-09 In order to meet the needs of a changing and demanding society many academic institutions face great competition for highly coveted yet dwindling resources Traditionally libraries were a centralized focus on any campus however these facilities are now facing budget cuts and decreased resources forcing them to seek out the necessary partnerships to obtain the support needed to continue to provide services to students and staff Technology Centered Academic Library Partnerships and Collaborations examines cooperation efforts employed by librarians allowing them to provide more services and resources to their patrons with an emphasis on the digital tools and resources being used in such collaborations Featuring research on various types of partnerships and institutional relationships as well as the overall benefits of these collaborations this publication is an essential reference source for librarians researchers academic administrators advanced level students and information technology professionals Problems of Library School Administration Sarah Rebecca Reed,1965 Critical Thinking Within the Library Program John Spencer,Christopher Millson-Martula,2014-10-20 While academic librarians frequently discuss critical thinking and its relationship to information literacy the literature does not contain an abundance of sources on the topic Therefore this work provides a current and timely perspective on the possible roles of critical thinking within the library program The work contains a variety of approaches likely to benefit the practicing librarian It begins with a review of the literature followed by theoretical approaches involving constructivism and the Socratic method Readers will find pieces on the integration of critical thinking into the first year experience and course specific case studies as well as a selection on a campus wide critical thinking project In each of the pieces librarians are exploring new ways to meet their instructional goals including the goal of teaching critical thinking skills to students across the curriculum This book was originally published as a special issue of College Undergraduate Libraries
