Antoine Halff, Benjamin K. Sovacool, Jon Rozhon, 2014-11-27 This edited volume looks at energy poverty an issue whose pivotal role in the fight for human development is only now being recognised by policymakers Nearly one quarter of humanity still lacks access to electricity Close to one third rely on traditional fuels like firewood and cow dung for cooking at great cost to their health and welfare While most prevalent in parts of Africa and Asia energy poverty is a global problem which concerns us all This book which brings together economists policymakers entrepreneurs and other practitioners from all over the world is dedicated to a single goal finding a solution to this haunting problem It is part history part economics part political analysis part business case review and part field handbook Part One focuses on defining and measuring the problem and benchmarking progress in solving it an obvious prerequisite to any successful energy access policy Part Two reviews past and current energy access programs with an eye towards finding out what worked and what didn't and what can be replicated elsewhere These case reviews are told as seen on the ground China's experience by top Chinese officials and Africa's by African regulators and scholars Based in part on those cases the book's last more forward looking section aims to present practitioners with a tool kit a menu of options to speed up their efforts The energy access agenda is gaining traction at a time of rising concerns about climate change and resource constraints This book shows that bringing modern energy to those who lack it not just a moral imperative but will likely benefit the world as a whole without harming the environment or unduly stretching finite resources PAIS International in Print Catherine Korvin, 2003-05 This book contains bibliographic references with abstracts and subject headings to public and social policy literature and to world politics published in print and electronic formats international focus THE INDIAN LISTENER All India Radio (AIR), New Delhi , 1945-05-07 The Indian Listener fortnightly programme journal of AIR in English published by The Indian State Broadcasting Service Bombay started on 22 December 1935 and was the successor to the Indian Radio Times in English which was published beginning in July 16 of 1927 From 22 August 1937 onwards it was published by All India Radio New Delhi In 1950 it was turned into a weekly journal Later The Indian listener became Akashvani in January 5 1958 It was made a fortnightly again on July 1 1983 It used to serve the listener as a Bradshaw of broadcasting and give listener the useful information in an interesting manner about programmes who writes them take part in them and produce them along with photographs of performing artists It also contains the information of major changes in the policy and service of the organisation NAME OF THE JOURNAL The Indian Listener LANGUAGE OF THE JOURNAL English DATE MONTH YEAR OF PUBLICATION 07 05 1945 PERIODICITY OF THE JOURNAL Fortnightly NUMBER OF PAGES 96 VOLUME NUMBER Vol X No 10 BROADCAST PROGRAMME SCHEDULE PUBLISHED PAGE NOS 14 15 17 19 21 25 88 ARTICLE 1 Will the Jap Fleet Give Battle 2 The Indian Soldier 3 Houses of Town Planning AUTHOR 1 K D Ghosh 2 Brig K M Carriappa 3 Rai Bahadur R C Misra KEYWORDS 1 Napoleonic War Japanese Navy President Roosevelt Air bombardment of Formosa Marshal Chian Kai shek Rai Uma Nath Bali 2 Indian Soldier Training Centre School British Commonwealth Brig K M Carriappa British Commonwealth of Nations Axis Powers 3 Land Cultivation Public accommodation Town planning Act Communal accommodation Document ID INL 1944 45 D J Vol I 10

Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 1983 Faith in Asia's Poor Mae H. Esterline, 1990 This book offers the brief biographies of ten dedicated men of seven nationalities who have introduced imaginative easily applicable technologies to people of rural South Southeast and Northeast Asia Their unifying philosophy is that sustained social and economic progress can be achieved only through self help Includes a man in India planting forests an Indonesian engineer developing water and fuel resources an American missionary evolving a system of slope farming in the Philippines and a Bangladeshi professor of economics organizing a banking system for the poor and landless in his country Offers insight into the role of micro economic programs in overall national developmental planning and illustrates the need to build upon traditional patterns and strengthen the concept of self help Doing Development Richard Holloway,2013-11-05 The absolutely poor who are mostly rural people are a large part of the developing world s population and their numbers are growing Government development programmes aided by the big donors have made the poor poorer and have rendered them more powerless in relation to the rest of society They have done this by sustaining and reinforcing existing exploitative economic social and political structures Yet people s movements religious organizations voluntary groups universities and so on have often devised alternative development strategies whose programmes are specifically intended to empower the powerless and selectively enrich the poorest These groups lack the funds and the political punch to make much more than a dent in the situation This book brings together some of these workers from the South who describe the problems and provide the answers They are a challenge to the received wisdom of the North Originally published in 1989

The Impact of the World Economic Crisis on Poverty and Rural Development in Western Asia SINGH A.,United Nations. Economic and Social Commission for Western Asia,1985

Rural Poverty in Asia M. G. Quibria,Muhammad Ghulam Quibria,1993 Rural poverty constitutes the most important development challenge in many Asian developing economies but much still remains unclear about the characteristics causes and possible remedies of rural poverty This book an outcome of an Asian Development Bank study on rural poverty presents a collection of economic essays highlighting the major issues affecting rural poverty It includes a summary of the papers included in this volume and a short synthesis of in depth country studies which are to be published in forthcoming separate volumes

Rural Poverty in Developing Asia M. G. Quibria,1996 Pathways Out of Poverty During an Economic Crisis Neil McCulloch,Julian Weisbrod,C. Peter Timmer,2012 Most poor people in developing countries still live in rural areas and are primarily engaged in low productivity farming activities Thus pathways out of poverty are likely to be strongly connected to productivity increases in the rural economy whether they are realized in farming in rural nonfarm enterprises or by way of rural urban migration The authors use cross sectional data from the Central Statistical

Board for 1993 and 2002 as well as a panel data set from the Indonesia Family Life Survey for 1993 and 2000 to show which pathways out of poverty were most successful over this period The findings suggest that increased engagement of farmers in rural nonfarm enterprises is an important route out of rural poverty but that most of the rural agricultural poor that exit poverty still do so while remaining rural and agricultural So changes in agricultural prices wages and productivity still play a critical role in moving people out of poverty Rural poverty, incomes and malnutrition Asian Development Bank,1978
