the advent of postmodernism has brought the limits of modernism to light it has done nothing to establish the rationality of religion other than to treat religion as a cultural phenomenon along with science This book conceives fundamental theology as a discipline that seeks religious truth in the midst of diverse perspectives ranging from militant atheism to violent religious fanaticism Muslim View Of Christianity (a) Irfan A. Religious Diversity--What's the Problem? Rita M. Gross,2014-04-24 Once upon a time on grounds of both religion and common sense people assumed that the earth was flat and that the sun literally rose and set each day When newly developing knowledge made those beliefs untenable giving them up was difficult Today the belief that only one of the world s various religions is true for all people on earth is equivalent to the belief in a flat earth Both notions have become untenable given contemporary knowledge about religion Even though many people are still troubled by the existence of religious diversity today that diversity is a fact of life Religious diversity should be no more troubling to religious people than the fact that the earth is round and circles the sun This provocative book based on the author's longtime practice of Buddhism and comparative study of religion provides tools with which one can truly appreciate religious diversity as a gift and resource rather than as a deficiency or a problem to be overcome After we accept diversity as inevitable and become comfortable with it diversity always enriches life both nature and culture Hospitality and the Other Author, Amos Yong, 2015-03-04

Probing the Depths of Evil and Good Jerald D. Gort, Henry Jansen, H. M. Vroom, 2007 In the few years since the attack on the World Trade Center on September 11 2001 evil has become a central theme in the media and human consciousness the evil of terrorism the evil of secular culture concern for poverty and climate change Yet different cultures and religious traditions have different ideas of what evil is and what its root causes are Although there is no massive clash of cultures many disagreements and also conflicts in the world arise from the deep differences in views of evil This volume explores religious views of evil Scholars from different religions and from various parts of the world describe how people probe the depths of evil and by necessity that of good from their own background in various worldviews In their explorations almost all address the need to go beyond morality and beyond legalistic definitions of evil and of good They point to the radical depths of evil in the world and in human society and reinforce our intuition that there is no easy solution But if we can gain a better understanding of what people from other worldview traditions and cultures consider evil we are that much closer to a more peaceful world Postcolonial Theology of Religions Jenny Daggars, 2013-07-18 This original and ambitious book considers the terms of engagement between Christian theology and other religious traditions beginning with criticism of Christian theology of religions as entangled with European colonial modernity Jenny Daggars covers recent efforts to disentangle Eurocentrism from the meeting of the religions and investigates new constructive possibilities arising in the postcolonial context In dialogue with Asian and feminist theologies she reflects on ways forward for relations between the religions and offers a particularist model for theology of religions standing within a classical Trinitarian framework Faith as

Remembering Paul O. Ingram, 2017-11-06 Memories seldom happen in straight lines with chronological precision but occur most often in spirals Paul Ingram's essays collected in Faith as Remembering were created from memories These memories often in unpredictable ways pushed him to new insights about the nature of Christian faith insights often not desired always unexpected and always toward new directions of theological reflection Theologians all too often write with an unintentional and sometimes intentional universalism Ingram does not intend to write this way These essays reflect his memories and are the sources of the theological conclusions he draws as a historian of religions who now finds himself a practicing process theologian As a process theologian Ingram does not even argue that the conclusions drawn here will be ones he will affirm in the future All human knowledge is incomplete and there are always new surprises for anyone practicing the art of theological reflection But Ingram's hope is that the essays gathered together in Faith as Remembering will inspire readers to engage their memories as the foundation for drawing their own unique conclusions Crucified Wisdom S. Heim, 2018-12-04 Winner of the Frederick Streng Book Award for Excellence in Buddhist Christian Studies This work provides the first systematic discussion of the Bodhisattva path and its importance for constructive Christian theology Crucified Wisdom examines specific Buddhist traditions texts and practices not as phenomena whose existence requires an apologetic justification but as wells of tested wisdom that invite theological insight With the increasing participation of Christians in Buddhist practice many are seeking a deeper understanding of the way the teachings of the two traditions might interface Christ and the Bodhisattva are often compared superficially in Buddhist Christian discussion This text combines a rich exposition of the Bodhisattva path using ntideva s classic work the Bodhicaryavatara and subsequent Tibetan commentators with detailed reflection on its implications for Christian faith and practice Author S Mark Heim lays out root tensions constituted by basic Buddhist teachings on the one hand and Christian teachings on the other and the ways in which the Bodhisattva or Christ embody and resolve the resulting paradoxes in their respective traditions An important contribution to the field of comparative theology in general and to the area of Buddhist Christian studies in particular Crucified Wisdom proposes that Christian theology can take direct instruction from Mahayana Buddhism in two respects deepening its understanding of our creaturely nature through no self insights and revising its vision of divine immanence in dialogue with teachings of emptiness Heim argues that Christians may affirm the importance of novelty in history the enduring significance of human persons and the Trinitarian reality of God even as they learn to value less familiar nondual dimensions of Christ s incarnation human redemption and the divine life Crucified Wisdom focuses on questions of reconciliation and atonement in Christian theology and explores the varying interpretations of the crucifixion of Jesus in Buddhist Christian discussion The Bodhisattva path is central for major contemporary Buddhist voices such as the Dalai Lama and Thich Nhat Hanh who figure prominently as conversation partners in the text This work will be of particular value for those interested in dual belonging in connection to these traditions

Faith Comes by Hearing Christopher W. Morgan, Robert A. Peterson, 2009-09-20 What about those who have never heard The debate swirls and feelings run deep What is the fate of the unevangelized The traditional position that apart from an explicit faith in Jesus no one is saved seems to have fallen out of favor with many evangelicals Here is a passionate but irenic response to the arguments of those who believe that the unevangelized can or might be saved apart from knowledge of Jesus Christ Building on the insights of others nine scholars introduce readers even those with little background to the ongoing discussion Key questions Is general revelation sufficient Are other religions salvific Do holy pagans exist Must faith be explicit Is exclusivism unjust are probed and answered from a biblical theological and historical perspective The book s positive thrust is summed up by editors Robert Peterson and Christopher Morgan God is passionately engaged in gathering people to know love and worship him from every tribe language people and nation And he has called us to join him on this mission
