Faithful Living Faithful Dying Anglican Reflections On End Of Life Care:

Faithful Living, Faithful Dying End of Life Task Force of the Standing Commission on National Concerns, The Episcopal Church, 2000-03-01 An important examination of the theological spiritual and ethical issues surrounding death At the end of a life of faithfulness comes our dying To approach it as faithfully as we have our living calls for some serious forethought Because one of the simplest facts of life that we all die seems like the most complicated thing we do Not only have advances in medical technology saved lives but they also have prolonged death and raise a number ethical moral social and theological issues How far should we go to sustain life Is it right to withdraw artificial feeding from the dying Is it wrong to end the lives of those in pain No matter who we are dealing with these sorts of choices near the end of life is difficult to do on our own Faithful Living Faithful Dying Anglican Reflections on End of Life Care brings together the wisdom of a task force created by the 72nd General Convention of the Episcopal Church to study what faithful living and faithful dying mean today The task force s reflections published for the first time in this book assist individuals congregations and the Church as a whole to disentangle the thicket of ethical theological pastoral and policy concerns Attending the Dying Megory Anderson, 2005-08-01 A useful guide to being present and offering comfort to the dying and their families Megory Anderson was called to a vigil at the bedside of a friend who was dying one night That experience was so powerful that she began working with others who needed help attending to those who were dying Today Anderson is the executive director of the Sacred Dying Foundation in San Francisco and trains others in the art of vigiling a way of attending to the needs of the dying This practical and concise handbook provides a brief overview of what to expect and how to respond to the needs of someone who is dying Attending the Dying can be used by and for people of any faith perspective as well as no particular faith Chaplains social workers hospital care workers and friends or family of the dying will all find this a helpful companion for preparing themselves to be present to one of life s most sacred transitions Partnership with the Dying David H. Smith, 2005-03-03 What do physicians nurses chaplains and social workers think about moral and religious issues in care for the dying These professionals live with death including many untimely and difficult deaths on a daily basis Based on intensive interviews with a cross sample of health care professionals David H Smith details how the churches could not only be supportive of these primary caregivers in dealing with end of life issues but how they could enlist their help in informing their own congregations about the realities of death To care for the dying is spiritually demanding work Churches should not let health professionals struggle with religious issues whether of patients families or their own in isolation Smith s respondents offer powerful perspectives on the issue of physician assisted suicide Religious and theological ethics cannot afford to ignore insights and questions that come from those who deal with dying every day Finding meaning in the face of human suffering comes less from doctrine than from living a certain kind of life This book is a clarion call for new practical and vital forms of education support and commitment particularly within the churches in the cause of improving care for the
