Branley, 1998-01-03 Moonlight is really sunlight. Did you know that the moon doesn't make its own light. Instead it receives light from the sun and reflects it to us on the Earth. Read and find out about how the sun, the stars, and light bulbs make light so we can see. Did you know that moonlight is really sunlight. The moon can't make its own light so it receives light from the sun and then sends it to us here on the Earth. Any child who's ever wondered about the fascinating properties of light will want to read this classic science title. Readers will even learn how fast light can travel from the moon to the Earth in less than three seconds. Veteran science author Franklyn M. Branley's lively text and Stacey Schuett's new illustrations combine fun facts and hands-on activities in this accessible introduction to the science of light. That's the sound crickets make. You've probably heard them chirp on a summer evening. But did you know that they make their chirping sounds by rubbing their wings together and that only male crickets can chirp. Inside this book you'll learn about crickets and even how to tell the temperature by counting a cricket's chirps. Melvin Berger and Megan Lloyd have created a wonderful introduction to a fascinating insect, the cricket. Chirrrp, chirrrp, chirrrp. That's the sound of crickets on a summer evening. A male cricket makes this sound by rubbing his legs against a bumpy vein on his wing. Find out more about crickets, including how they hear with their knees, in this stunningly illustrated introduction to the cricket. The Moon Seems to Change Franklyn M. Branley, 1987-07-24 Because the moon revolves around Earth, it seems to grow and shrink. Children can read about the phenomena of the moon's phases and, with an experiment using an orange, a pencil, and a flashlight, they can see why the moon looks different at different times of the month. A welcome addition to science collections for young children. SLJ
