Ethnic

Dignity and the Ulster-Scots Movement in Northern Ireland Peter Gardner, 2019-12-11 In this book Peter Gardner contends that the production of narratives of ethnic peoplehood is an attempt to regain a sense of collective dignity among the previously dominant. After introducing the concept of ethnic dignity and locating its place within postconflict identity politics, Gardner focuses his analysis on the Ulster Scots story of peoplehood. Drawing on a wealth of primary data, the chapters explore a variety of core issues including ethnopoltics, social class, political economic ideology, colonialism and heteromascularity. The book concludes by taking a global view of post conflict ethnic dignity among the once dominant, analysing the New Afrikaans movement in South Africa, white pride and ethnic whiteness studies and Maronite Phoenicianism in Lebanon. This will be an important contribution for students and scholars of ethnicity, divided societies and more broadly political sociology.

Asian Cities in an Era of Decentralisation Fiona Buckley, Yvonne Galligan, 2016-02-08 This book explores the relationship between women, the state and democratic politics in Ireland today. It highlights the conservatism of the political culture shared by all traditions on the island and how this culture circumscribes women's political agency in Northern Ireland and Ireland. The book explores the opportunities and obstacles to women's participation and representation on each side of the border. The chapters take the view that public decision making institutions and processes are subject to rules and practices that reinforce the gendered foundations of democratic politics. They document women's continuing quest for full participation and equal representation in these male gendered arenas. The contributors focus on the marginalised experiences of women in modern politics in Ireland and detail their efforts to challenge the masculinized status quo. The book addresses the classical issues of citizenship, participation, representation and equal rights in a sustained analysis of the political systems on the island. It also deals with modern issues: multiculturalism, peace building, the male gendered legislature and the unequal nature of women's citizenship in constitutional, institutional and policy contexts. The book is completed by a comprehensive appendix of all women elected to political office on the island from 1918-2013. This book was published as a special issue of Irish Political Studies.

Pathways to Reconciliation Cleo Fleming, 2016-12-05 Reconciliation: what makes it possible, what impedes it, how to foster and promote it and how to build the social conditions in which it can flourish. These are pressing questions for an increasingly significant concept in community and international relations. This book is a creative engagement with the central terms of reconciliation: forgiveness, nationhood, conflict resolution, justice and memory, and with approaches to questions of listening and understanding the other. It is premised on the view that an essential pathway to the achievement of reconciliation lies in developing and disseminating critical concepts that capture the nuances of practice Drawing on fields in the social sciences and humanities including post structuralism hermeneutics subaltern studies and social theory and elaborated in relation to contemporary sites of conflict and peace making this collection brings together a unique range of perspectives on the complex issue of reconciliation while offering responses to the key questions being asked of it today

Identity, Reconciliation and Transitional Justice Nevin Aiken, 2013-04-15 Building upon an interdisciplinary synthesis of recent literature from the fields of transitional justice and conflict transformation this book introduces a groundbreaking theoretical framework that highlights the critical importance of identity in the relationship between transitional justice and reconciliation in deeply divided societies Using this framework Aiken argues that transitional justice interventions will be successful in promoting reconciliation and sustainable peace to the extent that they can help to catalyze those crucial processes of social learning needed to transform the antagonistic relationships and identifications that divide post conflict societies even after the signing of formal peace agreements Combining original field research and an extensive series of expert interviews Aiken applies this social learning model in a comprehensive examination of both the South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission and the uniquely decentralized approach to transitional justice that has emerged in Northern Ireland By offering new insight into the experiences of these countries Aiken provides compelling firsthand evidence to suggest that transitional justice interventions can best contribute to post conflict reconciliation if they not only provide truth and justice for past human rights abuses but also help to promote contact dialogue and the amelioration of structural and material inequalities between former antagonists Identity Reconciliation and Transitional Justice makes a timely contribution to debates about how to best understand and address past human rights violations in post conflict societies and it offers a valuable resource to students scholars practitioners and policymakers dealing with these difficult issues

Politics and Gender in Ireland Fiona Buckley, Yvonne Galligan, 2016-02-08 This book explores the relationship between women the state and democratic politics in Ireland today It highlights the conservatism of the political culture shared by all traditions on the island and how this culture circumscribes women s political agency in Northern Ireland and Ireland The book explores the opportunities and obstacles to women s participation and representation on each side of the border The chapters take the view that public decision making institutions and processes are subject to rules and practices that reinforce the gendered foundations of democratic politics They document women s continuing quest for full participation and equal representation in these male gendered arenas The contributors focus on the marginalised experiences of women in modern politics in Ireland and detail their efforts to challenge the masculinized status quo The book addresses the classical issues of citizenship participation representation and equal rights in a sustained analysis of the political systems on the island It also deals with modern issues multiculturalism peace building the male gendered legislature and the unequal nature of women s citizenship in constitutional institutional and policy contexts The book is completed by a comprehensive appendix of all women elected to political office on the island from 1918 2013 This book was published as a special issue of Irish Political Studies      Teacher Education in Plural Societies (RLE Edu N) Maurice Craft, 2012-04-27 The educational implications of cultural pluralism attracted a good deal of attention in Western societies in the 1970s and 1980s on the grounds of equality and human rights maximising national talent and maintaining social cohesion Maurice Craft and the international contributors to this book highlight the potential of teacher education and in this wide ranging analytical review for its key role in providing for ethnic minority children in respect of access and achievements and also for all children to acquire informed and tolerant attitudes This book makes an important contribution to a small but growing literature concentrating on initial rather than in service teacher education and it brings together papers from experienced specialists from eleven countries worldwide Australia Britain Canada Israel Malaysia Northern Ireland South Africa Spain Sweden The Netherlands and the USA The papers are concerned with the needs both of diverse classrooms and diverse societies and also consider general principles and comparative perspectives Of interest to the specialist and non specialist alike Teacher Education in Plural Societies An International Review deals with an important and timely issue how best to prepare teachers to meet the needs of both minority and majority culture pupils who are growing up in plural societies     The SAGE Handbook of Identities Margaret Wetherell, Chandra Talpade Mohanty, 2010-04-14 Increasingly identities are the site for interdisciplinary initiatives and identity research is at the heart of many transdisciplinary research centres around the world No single social science discipline owns identity research which makes it a difficult topic to categorize The SAGE Handbook of Identities systematizes this complex field by incorporating its interdisciplinary character to provide a comprehensive overview of its themes in contemporary research while still acknowledging the historical and philosophical significance of the concept of identity Drawing on a global scholarship the Handbook has four parts Part 1 Frameworks presents the main theoretical and methodological perspectives in identities research Part 2 Formations covers the major formative forces for identities such as culture globalisation migratory patterns biology and so on Part 3 Categories reviews research on the core social categories which are central to identity such as ethnicity gender sexuality disability and social class and intersections between these Part 4 Sites and Context develops a series of case studies of crucial sites and contexts where identity is at stake such as social movements relationships and family life work places and environments and citizenship     Discrimination in Football Christos Kassimeris, 2021-05-17 While football does not generate discriminatory behaviour it often replicates the very same social issues that concern any given society Evidently football has witnessed an alarming increase in the number of disturbing incidents on the grounds of racism ethnocentrism sectarianism homophobia and sexism Given the variety of forms that discrimination can take it is imperative that football addresses with effect all such anti social phenomena in order to continue to promote notions pertaining to social inclusion equality and cultural diversity all central to the game s philosophy and overall popularity Assessing the nature and causes of discrimination in football is key to identifying the much needed remedies but also because discrimination poses a serious challenge to long established practices deeply rooted in democracy Discrimination in Football provides a comprehensive and in depth investigation into these key issues affecting football today This new book will appeal to academics and students with an interest in social science law sport and humanities as well as football fans and professionals in the football industry     Violence, Law and the Impossibility of Transitional Justice Catherine Turner, 2016-07-07 The field of transitional justice has expanded rapidly since the term first emerged in the late 1990s Its intellectual development has however tended to follow practice rather than drive it Addressing this gap Violence Law and the Impossibility of Transitional Justice pursues a comprehensive theoretical inquiry into the foundation and evolution of transitional justice Presenting a detailed deconstruction of the role of law in transition the book

explores the reasons for resistance to transitional justice It explores the ways in which law itself is complicit in perpetuating conflict and asks whether a narrow vision of transitional justice underpinned by a strictly normative or doctrinal concept of law can undermine the promise of justice Drawing on case material as well as on perspectives from a range of disciplines including law political science anthropology and philosophy this book will be of considerable interest to those concerned with the theory and practice of transitional justice     The Ulster Question since 1945 James Loughlin,2017-03-14 This major work of synthesis presents an up to date assessment of the issues at the very root of the troubles in Northern Ireland Framed against the background of Ulster history since the early 17th century the major factors in the development of the Ulster question since 1945 are examined These include The evolution of Ulster Unionism and the Nationalist and Republican traditions The role of Britain The increasingly important part played by external actors especially the USA Since the outbreak of the present troubles in August 1969 a thriving academic literature on Ulster and its history has emerged Based on the most authoritative texts this thoroughly revised and updated edition includes new materials on the period as a whole and an assessment of the developments since the signing of the Good Friday Agreement in 1998     Transforming Politics S. Roseneil,2016-07-27 This volume examines the transformation of politics and social movements at various levels Starting with a transformation of identity within social movements it goes on to discuss changes in the scale of social movement mobilisation The impact of social movements on the state is also considered with a particular focus upon the ways in which the state is able to incorporate apparently radical political agendas Finally the book examines those intellectual and theoretical debates stimulated by recent political transformations     Religion Meredith B. McGuire,2008-04-10 In this insightful examination of religions in their local and global context the author shows how analyzing religions social context helps us understand individuals lives social movements national and ethnic politics and widespread social changes Well researched and theory based the text is filled with intriguing anecdotes empirical data thought provoking discussions of both mainstream and nonofficial religions and historical and contemporary examples that illustrate the interplay between religion and society across cultures This volume takes an integrated approach to examining religion and includes cross cultural historical and methodological viewpoints Readers will learn to identify the complex interactions between religion and societal contexts as well as the ways in which these interactions shape individuals communities national politics and the world

Ethnographies of Movement, Sociality and Space Milena Komarova,Maruška Svašek,2018-07-20 Exploring the complex dynamics of twenty first century spatial sociality this volume provides a much needed multi dimensional perspective that undermines the dominant image of Northern Ireland as a conflict ridden place Despite touching on memories of the Troubles and continuing unionist nationalist tensions the volume refuses to consider people in the region as purely political beings or to understand processes of placemaking solely through ethnic or national contestations and territoriality Topics such as the significance of friendship gender and popular culture in spatial practices are considered against the backdrop of the growing presence of migrants refugees and diasporic groups
