Facing Death:

Facing Death F. David Martin, 2006 If we do not at some point in our life face death thinking hard and straight about it we turn away from our authenticity If that facing rejects irrational faith dogmas mystifications and personal immortality is there yet a path free of despair Facing Death Robert Kavanaugh, 1974 Facing Death James Warren, 2004-06-17 The ancient philosophical school of Epicureanism tried to argue that death is nothing to us Were they right James Warren provides a comprehensive study and articulation of the interlocking arguments against the fear of death found not only in the writings of Epicurus himself but also in Lucretius poem De rerum natura and in Philodemus work De morte These arguments are central to the Epicurean project of providing ataraxia freedom from anxiety and therefore central to an understanding of Epicureanism as a whole They also offer significant resources for modern discussions of the value of death one which stands at the intersection of metaphysics and ethics If death is the end of the subject and the subject can not be benefited nor harmed after death is it reasonable nevertheless to fear the ceasing to be If the Epicureans are not right to claim that the dead can neither be benefited nor harmed what alternative models might be offered for understanding the harm done by death and do these alternatives suffer from any further difficulties The discussion involves consideration of both ethical and metaphysical topics since it requires analysis not only of the nature of a good life but also the nature of personal identity and time A number of modern philosophers have offered criticisms or defences of the Epicureans views Warren explores and evaluates these in the light of a systematic and detailed study of the precise form and intention of the Epicureans original arguments Warren argues that the Epicureans also were interested in showing that mortality is not to be regretted and that premature death is not to be feared Their arguments for these conclusions are to be found in their positive conception of the nature of a good and complete life which divorce the completeness of a life as far as possible from considerations of its duration Later chapters investigate the nature of a life lived without the fear of death and pose serious problems for the Epicureans being able to allow any concern for the post mortem future and being able to offer a positive reason for prolonging a life which is already complete in their terms Facing Death Sandra L. Bertman, 1991 This work draws upon material from the visual arts poetry fiction drama and pop culture to help lead the reader to a heightened awareness of the universal nature of the issues that face the dying and those who care for them The author argues Facing Death August Strindberg, 1911 Facing Death Christina L. Scott, Heidi M. Williams, Siri Wilder, 2022-06-16 Facing Death Downward Facing Death Michelle Kelly, 2016-01-19 After ten years away Keeley Carpenter is excited to be back in Belfrey the traditional English village hometown she fled as a shy teen with a plan to reopen her father s neglected butcher shop as a yoga caf where she will sell delicious vegetarian food by day and teach yoga classes at night However the more traditional residents of Belfrey do not take kindly to this idea or really anything they deem even remotely New Age y Within an hour of her arrival Keeley comes face to face with Detective Constable Ben Taylor who tells her that someone has just tried to burn down her shop When officers arrived to stop the blaze a body was found upstairs Horrified by this news Keeley is also startled to be reintroduced to Ben as DC Taylor as he was her high school crush In spite of her instant attraction to him Keeley is determined to keep Ben at arm's length As she settles back in to Belfrey and makes plans for her opening day she soon finds herself embroiled in a murder investigation When Keeley starts being threatened herself she realizes someone may be out to kill more than her business prospects but can she and Ben find the culprit before it's too late A warm intriguing cozy debut that includes recipes from Keeley's caf Downward Facing Death is perfect for fans of Laura Childs and Cleo Coyle Facing Death Sarah K. Pinnock, 2016-12-05 What do we learn about death from the Holocaust and how does it impact our responses to mortality today Facing Death Confronting Mortality in the Holocaust and Ourselves brings together the work of eleven Holocaust and genocide scholars who address these difficult questions convinced of the urgency of further reflection on the Holocaust as the last survivors pass away The volume is distinctive in its dialogical and introspective approach where the contributors position themselves to confront their own impending death while listening to the voices of victims and learning from their life experiences Broken into three parts this collection engages with these voices in a way that is not only scholarly but deeply personal The first part of the book engages with Holocaust testimony by drawing on the writings of survivors and witnesses such as Elie Wiesel Jean Améry and Charlotte Delbo including rare accounts from members of the Sonderkommando Reflections of post Holocaust generations the children and grandchildren of survivors are housed in the second part addressing questions of remembrance and memorialization The concluding essays offer intimate self reflection about how engagement with the Holocaust impacts the contributors' lives faiths and ethics In an age of continuing atrocities this volume provides careful attention to the affective dimension of coping with death in particular how loss and grief are deferred or denied narrated and passed along Facing Death with Hope David Powlison, 2008-10-31 Is a life threatening illness a major life change or just plain old age forcing you to face your own mortality Probably like most of us you'd rather not think or talk about your own death But ignoring your death won't stop it from happening the mortality rate is still 100% David Powlison explains why you don't have to take this Facing Death Howard Marget Spiro, Mary G. McCrea Curnen, Lee Palmer Wandel, 1998-10-01 While technology for keeping death at bay has advanced greatly people are less well informed about how to face death and how to understand or articulate the emotional or spiritual need of the dying This work aims to help medical personnel and patients to view death as a defining part of life Facing Death, Finding Love Dawson Church, 1994 In Dawson Church's story of the loss of an unborn child he leads the reader to a deepening of spiritual insight and faith and a renewed commitment to happiness Facing Death: Images, Insights, and Interventions Sandra L. Bertman, 2016-01-08 Facing Death is a unique handbook for educators healthcare professionals and counselors It uses materials from the visual arts excerpts from poetry fiction drama and examples from popular culture to sensitize the reader to important universal issues confronting the dying and those responsible for their care (Inter)Facing Death Sam

Han,2019-10-16 In modern times death is understood to have undergone a transformation not unlike religion Whereas in the past it was out in the open it now resides mostly in specialized spaces of sequestration funeral homes hospitals and other medical facilities A mainstay in so called traditional societies in the form of ritual practices death was usually messy but meaningful with the questions of what happens to the dead or where they go lying at the heart of traditional culture and religion In modernity however we are said to have effectively sanitized it embalmed it and packaged it but it seems that death is back In the current era marked by economic political and social uncertainty we see it on television on the Internet we see it almost everywhere Inter Facing Death analyzes the nexus of death and digital culture in the contemporary moment in the context of recent developments in social cultural and political theory It argues that death today can be thought of as interfaced that is mediated and expressed in various aspects of contemporary life rather than put to the side or overcome as many narratives of modernity have suggested Employing concepts from anthropology sociology media studies and communications Inter Facing Death examines diverse phenomena where death and digital culture meet including art online suicide pacts the mourning of celebrity deaths terrorist beheadings and selfies Providing new lines of thinking about one of the oldest questions facing the human and social sciences this book will appeal to scholars and students of social and political theory anthropology sociology and cultural and media studies with interests in death Facing Death in Cambodia Peter H. Maguire,2005 This book is the story of Peter Maguire s effort to learn how Cambodia s culture of impunity developed why it persists and the failures of the international community to confront the Cambodian genocide Written from a personal and historical perspective Facing Death in Cambodia recounts Maguire s growing anguish over the gap between theories of universal justice and political realities Maguire documents the atrocities and the aftermath through personal interviews with victims and perpetrators discussions with international officials journalistic accounts and government sources *Comrades. Martin,2006-02 If we do not at some point in our life face death thinking hard and straight about it we turn away from our authenticity If that facing rejects irrational faith dogmas mystification and personal immortality is there yet a path free of despair David Martin argues that participatory pantheism the experience of the secular and the sacred both as a unity and as a mystery provides such a path As we age the future shortens and the past lengthens But if we face death more and more memories especially the involuntary are stirred up and cohere into stronger as well as new unities What paradise there is for the elderly is not so much in what is happening but in remembering what happened in a meaningful way For Dr Martin transformation of memory into the memorable is the transcendent meaning each of us can wrest from our coming to death Since nature is our home Dr Martin reasons the more we think participatively thinking from rather than only objectively thinking at the more we are aware of the mystery and the majesty of that home The more we know about our world and ourselves the more we can understand how much we don't know This kind of thinking is a thanking It brings us within the sacred We are anchored and the churning of change no longer sweeps us away Facing Death Together Margaret Smith, 1998 A guide for celebrating the Order of Christian Funerals in a context of pastoral care
