McCarthy,Walter Grûnzweig,Thomas Koebner,2004-04-01 With the fall of the Berlin Wall and the shifting of American foreign policy away from old Europe long established patterns of interaction between Germany and the U S have come under review Although seemingly disconnected from the cultural and intellectual world political developments were not without their influence on the humanities and their curricula during the past century In retrospect we can speak of the many different roles Germany has played in American eyes The Many Faces of Germany seeks to acknowledge the importance of those incarnations for the study of German culture and history on both sides of the Atlantic One of the major questions raised by the contributors is whether the transformations in the transatlantic dynamics and in the importance of Germany for the U S have had a major influence on the study of things German in the U S internally The volume gathers together leading voices of the older and younger generations of social historians literary scholars film critics and cultural historians Face of a Stranger Dan Roentsch,2004 A plague that thinks A hero afraid to dream For twenty years dictator Eric Sheel rules supreme in the Martian state of Edom while the plague takes his people Only Harold Sevillus Earth s premier scientist knows the secret of how the plague works Before he dies Sevillus leaves an encoded message in the brain of his five year old son Maric Sheel is convinced the message contains the truth about the plague but he is unable to break the code As Maric grows older the message begins to intrude upon his dreams and then his waking thoughts At last he is confronted with a choice Give Sheel what he wants and become part of a horrifying tyranny or give up everything to save Edom and his soul The Rural Face of White

Supremacy Mark Roman Schultz,2010-10-01 Now in paperback The Rural Face of White Supremacy presents a detailed study of the daily experiences of ordinary people in rural Hancock County Georgia Drawing on his own interviews with over two hundred black and white residents Mark Schultz argues that the residents acted on the basis of personal rather than institutional relationships As a result Hancock County residents experienced more intimate face to face interactions which made possible more black agency than their urban counterparts were allowed While they were still firmly entrenched within an exploitive white supremacist culture this relative freedom did create a space for a range of interracial relationships that included mixed housing midwifery church services meals and even common law marriages Women, Children, and the Collective Face of Conflict in Europe, 1900-1950 Nupur Chaudhuri,Sandra Trudgen Dawson,2023-10-17 Europe was in turmoil during the first half of the twentieth century The political stability that emanated from nineteenth century political liberalism began to break down reaching climaxes in the Great War the Spanish Civil War and the Second World War Revolutions in Russia and Spain threatened parliamentary governments and the Armenian genocide that began in 1915 foreshadowed the systematic destruction of European Jews in the 1930s and 1940s Dictators seized power and established authoritarian regimes that stymied democratic expression and censored the press Much of the scholarship on each of the conflicts has tended to focus on the military male and the civilian female binary Women and children experienced every conflict during this tumultuous period as civilians consumers victims exiles and combatants As histories of women and war suggest there are exciting new areas of research and scholarship that resist simplistic binaries Women were not simply civilians or victims They were actors in the minutiae of wars revolutions dictatorships and genocides Children were present in these conflicts and not invisible as many histories suggest They too were actors and often politicized by propagandist literature and sectarian education through their own experiences and the politics of their families This collection seeks to complicate the child adult distinction and examine the experiences of women and children as lenses to view a more collective face of conflict While the volume brings to attention conflicts in Europe the editors acknowledge the global ramifications of the revolutions wars and genocides as well as the multitude of individual experiences This collection seeks to expand understanding of the personal as the political in European conflicts from 1900 1950 We believe the focus on women and children offers a diverse perspective on five tumultuous decades of European history
