Facing Violence:

Facing Violence Rory Miller,2023-09-06 Provides an introduction to the context of self defense It includes seven elements that must be addressed to bring self defense training to something approaching complete      Status Of Women Migrants

Kasturi Bhadra Ray,2016-09-01 The Partition of India resulted in a massive exodus of men women and children from both East and West Pakistan to India in 1947 Even after the emergence of East Pakistan as Bangladesh an independent democratic nation in 1971 the flow of migrants to the eastern states of India namely West Bengal Orissa Assam and Tripura was not stemmed The women among them not only came along with their families but also singly Very often forced to accept the burden of a new refugee life they began their struggle for survival and existence fraught more often than not with difficulty and adverse circumstances The challenge sometimes became so acute that there was a metamorphic change in their behaviour thinking and attitude The status of the women migrants under such circumstances is uncertain and precarious This book the outcome of the doctoral thesis at Jadavpur University Kolkata is an attempt to present a picture of the status of women migrants from Bangladesh who have settled in the two states of West Bengal and Orissa after 1971 specifically between 1971 2001 The position these women in the wider fabric of India society and their status at home and workplace have been studied based on a primary survey in selected areas of West Bengal and Orissa namely Nadia and Murshidabad in West Bengal and Kendrapara in Orissa where there are large settlements of migrants from Bangladesh It is sincerely hoped that this book will be useful to scholars and researchers in the fields of economics demography and women studies      Krav Maga Defense David Kahn,2016-06-28 Presents the essentials of krav maga the hand to hand defense system designed by the Israeli military forces to fend off any kind of attacker      Behavioural Addiction in Women Fulvia Prever,Gretchen Blycker,Laura Brandt,2023-06-28 Behavioural Addiction in Women gives insight into ongoing research efforts and clinical developments across the globe focusing specifically on women with behavioural addictions The book brings together an international network of clinicians and researchers to offer a unique transcultural female perspective on female specific aspects of addiction which is underrepresented in the available literature By compiling both research and clinical spotlights focusing on women with behavioural addictions across the six continents the book is an important first step towards building a shared knowledge base on the subject starting from the importance of female specific diagnostic criteria to new therapeutic strategies prevention programs and harm reduction approaches This book will help us gain a better understanding of ongoing work and where to allocate our attention and efforts for helping a vulnerable and in many areas of the world still underserved and economically disadvantaged population The book will be of great interest to researchers and clinicians in the field of addiction      Towards a Child-friendly Justice System in Latvia Implementing the Barnahus model OECD,2023-04-13 This report assesses the benefits of implementing the Barnahus model in Latvia as a child friendly and interagency one stop shop to support children exposed to violence or abuse as well as those who have witnessed violence It examines a whole of state approach to promote a justice system that is more people and child friendly incorporating sound governance mechanisms

Equity and Access Purendra Prasad, Amar Jesani, 2018-04-17 Equity and Access attempts to unravel the complex narrative of why inequities in the health sector are growing and access to basic health care is worsening and the underlying forces that contribute to this situation It draws attention to the way globalization has influenced India's development trajectory as healthcare issues have assumed significant socio economic and political significance in contemporary India The volume explains how state and market forces have progressively heightened the iniquitous health care system and the process through which substantial burden of meeting health care needs has fallen on the individual households Twenty eight scholars comprising social scientists medical experts public health experts policy makers health activists legal experts and gender specialists have delved into the politics of access for different classes castes gender and other categories to contribute to a new field health care studies in this volume Adopting an interdisciplinary approach within a broader political economy framework the volume is useful for understanding power relations within social groups and complex organizational systems

Women, Business and the Law World Bank, International Finance Corporation, 2013-01-01 Women perform 66% of the world's work produce 50% of the food but earn 10% of the income and own 1% of the property To shed light on why this grim statistic still holds true Women Business and the Law aims to examine legal differentiations on the basis of gender in 143 of the world's economies Women Business and the Law tracks governments' actions to expand economic opportunities for women across six key areas accessing institutions using property getting a job providing incentives to work building credit and going to court The report uncovers legal differentiations for women and married versus unmarried women such as being able to register a business open a bank account and work at night These issues are of fundamental importance When because of tradition social taboos or simple prejudice half of the world's population is prevented from making its contribution to the life of a nation the economy will suffer The empirical evidence does suggest that slowly but surely governments are making progress in expanding opportunities for women It is our hope that data presented in Women Business and the Law will both facilitate research on linkages between legal differentiation and outcomes for women and promote better informed policy choices on what governments can do to expand opportunities for women

A Difficult Transition Mandira Sharma, Seira Tamang, 2016-10-25 The Sexual Violence and Impunity in South Asia research project coordinated by Zubaan and supported by the International Development Research Centre brings together for the first time in the region a vast body of research on this important yet silenced subject Six country volumes one each on Bangladesh Nepal Pakistan Sri Lanka and two on India as well as two standalone volumes comprising over fifty research papers and two book length studies detail the histories of sexual violence and look at the systemic institutional societal individual and community structures that work together to perpetuate impunity for perpetrators The essays in this volume focus on Nepal which though not directly colonized has not remained immune from the influence of colonialism in its neighbourhood In addition to home grown feudal patriarchal structures the writers in this volume clearly demonstrate that it is the larger colonial and post colonial context of the subcontinent that has enabled the structuring of inequalities and power relations in ways that today allow for widespread sexual violence and impunity in the country through legal systems medical regimes and social institutions The period after the 1990 democratic movement the subsequent political transformation in the aftermath of the Maoist insurgency and the writing of the new constitution has seen an increase in public discussion about sexual violence The State has brought in a slew of legislation and action plans to address this problem And yet impunity for perpetrators remains intact and justice elusive What are the structures that enable such impunity What can be done to radically transform these How must States understand the search for justice for victims and survivors of sexual violence This volume addresses these and related issues Published by Zubaan

Women as Builders of Parity Democracy in Mexico Adriana del Rosario Báez Carlos, Adriana Ortiz-Ortega, Sergio A. Bárcena Juárez, Lorena Vázquez Correa, 2025-09-01 When Claudia Sheinbaum was sworn in as Mexico's 66th president and its first female leader, political analysts focused their research on the potential impact of her presidency on the advancement of social transformation and the deepening of gender equality. Featuring chapters from highly respected researchers whose work has been critical to promoting gender parity in Mexico, Women as Constructors of Parity Democracy in Mexico chronicles the evolution of women's integration into Mexico's public sphere during the nation's democratic transition, scrutinizing the tangible impacts of women's political representation within the initial years of the parity model while dissecting the political currents that either advanced or impeded the women's agenda. The book is divided into three parts and consists of nine chapters that follow a common framework highlighting how women politicians and activists operate within the legislative and executive branches to bring about change in the field of gender politics. Women as Builders of Parity Democracy in Mexico will be of interest to researchers and postgraduates studying gender and politics in Mexico.

Econometrics and Applied Economic Analyses in the Context of Health Ebru Çağlayan Akay - Merve Ertok Onurlu, 2021-12-17 Health is one of the most crucial parts of our lives. To a great degree, factors such as living conditions, income, education, age or even relations with our environment, health related policies and access to health services might have a potential impact on health related outcomes. Therefore, it is important to evaluate to what extent our health is affected by such factors using econometric and quantitative techniques. The application of such methods within the scope of health related problems provides a more robust approach to individuals along with policymakers and increases the efficiency of government policies. This book gathers selected studies addressing both quantitative economic and econometric applications within the scope of health with the intention of aiming at the graduate and post graduate students, researchers and academics of econometrics, economics and related social sciences. The book consists of ten chapters. The last chapter is a special chapter allocated to Young Researchers in order to support and encourage their studies.
