Ebook: Urban Economics O'SULLIVAN, 2012-01-16 Ebook Urban Economics Urban Horror Erin Y.

Huang, 2020-02-28 In Urban Horror Erin Y Huang theorizes the economic cultural and political conditions of neoliberal post socialist China Drawing on Marxist phenomenology geography and aesthetics from Engels and Merleau Ponty to Lefebvre and Rancière Huang traces the emergence and mediation of what she calls urban horror a sociopolitical public affect that exceeds comprehension and provides the grounds for possible future revolutionary dissent She shows how documentaries blockbuster feature films and video art from China Hong Kong and Taiwan made between the 1990s and the present rehearse and communicate urban horror In these films urban horror circulates through myriad urban spaces characterized by the creation of speculative crises shifting temporalities and dystopic environments inhospitable to the human body The cinematic image and the aesthetics of urban horror in neoliberal post socialist China lay the groundwork for the future to such an extent Huang contends that the seeds of dissent at the heart of urban horror make it possible to imagine new forms of resistance City, Climate, and Architecture Sascha Roesler, 2022-06-21 The publication rethinks climate control a key concern of the discipline of architecture through the lens of city climate phenomena over the course of the 20th century Based on a history of climate control on urban scales it promotes the integration of indoors and outdoors in order to reduce environmental and thermal loads in cities Just as heating and cooling practices inside the buildings are affecting the urban climate outdoors urban heat islands are influencing the energy requirements and thermal conditions inside the buildings While the first part of the book focuses on the interwar period in Europe the publication's second part considers examples from all over the globe tracing the growing significance of ecological thinking for the design of urban environments

Introduction to Cities Xiangming Chen, Anthony M. Orum, Krista E. Paulsen, 2018-04-03 The revised and updated second edition of Introduction to Cities explores why cities are such a vital part of the human experience and how they shape our everyday lives Written in engaging and accessible terms Introduction to Cities examines the study of cities through two central concepts that cities are places where people live form communities and establish their own identities and that they are spaces such as the inner city and the suburb that offer a way to configure and shape the material world and natural environment Introduction to Cities covers the theory of cities from an historical perspective right through to the most recent theoretical developments The authors offer a balanced account of life in cities and explore both positive and negative themes In addition the text takes a global approach with examples ranging from Berlin and Chicago to Shanghai and Mumbai The book is extensively illustrated with updated maps charts tables and photographs This new edition also includes a new section on urban planning as well as new chapters on cities as contested spaces exploring power and politics in an urban context It contains information on the status of poor and marginalized groups and the impact of neoliberal policies material on gender and sexuality and presents a greater range of geographies with more attention to European Latin American and African cities Revised and updated Introduction to Cities provides a complete introduction to the history evolution and future of our modern cities Touring Topics, 1915 Fire and Water Engineering, 1919 How Life Writes the Book Thomas

Lahusen, 2019-05-15 A gripping unsettling and highly original book that turns the making of a Soviet socialist realist classic Azhaev's Far from Moscow into a detective story and sheds as strange and ambiguous a light on the Stalin era from gulag to Writers Union as one could hope for Lahusen is a disarmingly low key scholarly virtuoso who performs simultaneously as an archive based historian an interpreter of texts including Azhaev's own self organized archive and a gently relentless biographer whose stalking of his prey is reminiscent of Nabokov The final chilling paragraph typically economical and understated is a reminder that the author investigator too is a collaborator in the multiple reworkings of Azhaev's text and of his life that How Life Writes the Book has so finely analyzed Sheila Fitzpatrick University of Chicago This is a wonderfully original work a history of a book a literary analysis of an age a montage of a life Lahusen writes with a postmodern sensibility but without the postmodernist jargon Yuri Slezkine University of California Berkeley Thomas Lahusen has written an imaginative and archivally grounded book that presents the most fascinating picture to date of the literary process that produced canonical works of Socialist Realism and the people who wrote them How Life Writes the Book is alternately chilling and funny as it demonstrates the interpenetration of literary institutions massive construction projects and the Soviet system of prison camps and slave labor With this study as with his earlier Intimacy and Terror Lahusen continues his own project of revolutionizing our understanding of the Soviet subject and Soviet subjectivity Eric Naiman University of California Berkeley Lahusen's case study marks a new genre of inquiry into the very nature of socialist realism a genre which became possible after archives and memory in Russia regained their voice It shows how life is transformed into Soviet myth Hans G. Nether editor of The Culture of the Stalin Period Annual Report of the State Dairy Commissioner to the Governor of the State of Iowa, for the Year ... Iowa. State Dairy Commissioner, 1898 Future Asian Space Erwin Viray, Davisi Boontharm, Limin Hee, 2012-01-01 Rapid technological economic social and cultural changes are transforming the idea of Asian space With the shift to a global economy and an urban population explosion Asian cities have become a mainstay of progress national pride identity and positioning on the global stage The extraordinary pace and intensity of the changes have created a situation unique in the history of urban development Despite the immense diversity of Asian countries Asia-ness is often treated as a distinctive quality that has emerged from unique recent circumstances affecting Asian urbanizations as a whole In Future Asian Space 15 authors explore broad concepts relating to the creation and re-creation of Asian space and contemporary Asian identity and their examination of different sites and research approaches highlights the difficulty of pinpointing what Asia-ness is or might become Appropriate design and planning of cities is a critical element in building a sustainable future and coping with environmental social and cultural problems Future Asian Space is designed to stimulate interests and engagement in discussions of the Asian city and its trajectories in architecture and urbanism but the authors' conclusions will intrigue anyone interested in the future of cities and urban life in Asia Behemoth: A History of the Factory and the Making of the Modern World Joshua B. Communication from an Artificial Intelligence Perspective Andrew Ortony, Jon Slack, Oliviero Stock, 1992-11-10 Castel Ivano originally built in 1375 is one of many beautiful and impressive castles strategically placed atop hills in Trentino s Valsugana in Northern Italy It was in this castle on a series of brilliant sunny crisp November days in 1990 that an international group of computer scientists and cognitive scientists met at a workshop to discuss theoretical and applied issues concerning communication from an Artificial Intelligence and Cognitive Science perspective About forty people representing nine countries participated in the workshop either as speakers discussants or observers The main motivation for the workshop was to address the question of whether and how current computational approaches to communication can or might be able to accommodate the range of complexities that characterize both human human and human machine communication The chapters in this book are based on the papers that were presented at the workshop They are presented in an order that is determined primarily by the specificity of the topics they address The initial chapters are more theoretical in nature with an emphasis on formal approaches to communication The middle chapters focus on particular application issues such as the generation of multimedia documents and the role of planning in building systems to support human human or human machine interaction The final few chapters consider more general issues relating to communication such as the influence of social structure on and the role of affect in communication
