Factory Women In Taiwan:

Factory Women in Taiwan Lydia Kung, 1994 An important study of Taiwan's first generation of working women documenting their and their families' views of their employment and the effects that wage earning has on the status and lives of these women

Factory Women in Taiwan Lydia Kung, 1994-03-02 Women in the New Taiwan Catherine Farris, Lee Anru, Murray A. Rubinstein, An East Gate Book, 2020-08-26 Taiwan's rapid socio-economic and political transformation has given rise to a gender-conscious middle class that is attempting to redefine the roles of women in society to restructure relationship patterns and to organize in groups outside the family unit This book examines internal psychological processes and external societal processes as the feminist movement in Taiwan expands and new gender roles are explored The contributors represent a cross section of different disciplines history anthropology and sociology and different generations of China Taiwan scholars They place the issues facing Taiwan's women's movement in social political and economic contexts The book examines gender relations the role of women in Chinese society and issues related to women in China throughout history Feminism and gender relations are also viewed from the context of film and literature The authors look at the contemporary roles that women play in Taiwan's work force today how the sexes perceive each other in the workplace and more

Women's Movements in Twentieth-Century Taiwan Doris Chang, 2010-10-01 This book is the first in English to consider women's movements and feminist discourses in twentieth-century Taiwan Doris T Chang examines the way in which Taiwanese women in the twentieth century selectively appropriated Western feminist theories to meet their needs in a modernizing Confucian culture She illustrates the rise and fall of women's movements against the historical backdrop of the island's contested national identities first vis-à-vis imperial Japan 1895-1945 and later with postwar China 1945-2000 In particular during periods of soft authoritarianism in the Japanese colonial era and late twentieth-century autonomous women's movements emerged and operated within the political perimeters set by the authoritarian regimes Women strove to replace the Good Wife Wise Mother ideal with an individualist feminism that meshed social political and economic gender equity with the prevailing Confucian family ideology However during periods of hard authoritarianism from the 1930s to the 1960s the autonomous movements collapsed The particular brand of Taiwanese feminism developed from numerous outside influences including interactions among an East Asian sociopolitical milieu various strands of Western feminism and even Marxist Leninist women's liberation programs in Soviet Russia Chinese communism appears not to have played a significant role due to the Chinese Nationalists' restriction of communication with the mainland during their rule on post-World War II Taiwan Notably this study compares the perspectives of Madame Chiang Kai-shek whose husband led as the president of the Republic of China on Taiwan from 1949 to 1975 and Hsiu-lien Ann Lu Taiwan's vice president from 2000 to 2008 Delving into period sources such as the highly influential feminist monthly magazine Awakening as well as interviews with feminist leaders Chang provides a comprehensive historical and cross-cultural analysis of the struggle for gender equality in Taiwan

Factory Work, Women and the Family in Taiwan Lydia Kung, 1978 Health and Health Care in Developing Countries Peter Conrad, Eugene B. Gallagher, 2011

The volume covers a range of areas central Africa Nigeria Singapore Taiwan Indonesia Nepal China United Arab Emirates Oman and Mexico and a broad scope of topics from emergency care the AIDS epidemic and women's health care to public health programs and national health care policies Contributors address the central question of whether health systems in developing areas should emphasize the role of clinical medicine and individual physicians or community and preventive medical resources The major health problems faced by these societies inadequate sanitation infectious disease high infant child mortality and a lack of family planning indicate the greater need for health educators and public health workers despite many poor nations desire for Western doctors Other topics that are examined include the process of seeking medical aid the relationship between traditional and modern medicines medical education hospital care and communication between doctors and patients in developing countries and the relevance and application of sociology in Third World settings This volume seeks to draw attention to the significance of medical sociology for understanding Third World health problems and to show how examining developing societies may necessitate reframing or modifying some Western sociological notions

Island Tinkerers Honghong Tinn, 2025-01-07

How Taiwan rose to global prominence in high tech manufacturing from computer maker to the world's leading chip manufacturer How did Taiwan a former Japanese colony and the last fortress of the defeated Chinese Nationalists ascend to such heights in high tech manufacturing In Island Tinkerers Honghong Tinn tells the critical history of how hobbyists and enthusiasts in Taiwan including engineers technologists technocrats computer users and engineers turned entrepreneurs helped transform the country with their hands on engagement with computers Rather than engaging in wholesale imitation of US sources she explains these technologists tinkered with imported computing technology and experimented with manufacturing their own versions resulting in their own brand of successful innovation Defying the stereotype of the West innovates and the East imitates Tinn tells the story of Taiwanese technologists efforts over the past six decades Beginning in the 1960s they grappled with the black boxed computers that were newly available through international technical aid programs Shortly after multinational corporations that outsourced transistor and integrated circuit assembly overseas began employing Taiwanese engineers and factory workers Island tinkerers developed strategies to adapt modify assemble and work with computers in an inventive manner It was through this creative and ingenious tinkering with computers that they were able to gain a better understanding of the technology opening the door to future manufacturing endeavors that now include Acer Foxconn Asus and Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing Company TSMC

Haunted Modernities Anru Lee, 2023-07-31

In 1973 twenty five young women drowned in a ferry accident on their way to work in factories in Taiwan's Kaohsiung Export Processing Zone Their remains were recovered and interred collectively in what came to be called the Twenty five Maiden Ladies Tomb Without a husband's ancestral hall where they would have been laid to rest the spirits of these unmarried women were considered homeless and possibly vengeful and so the Maiden Ladies Tomb was viewed as a place to be avoided especially by young men traveling alone fearful of encountering a female ghost searching for a husband Over the years numerous plans were made to revamp the tomb site finally in 2008 at the urging of local feminist communities the Kaohsiung City government renovated the Twenty five Maiden Ladies Tomb and renamed it the Memorial Park for Women Laborers Haunted Modernities interrogates the nature of shared expressions of history sentiments and memory as it investigates the role of these women and other female workers in the shifting public narrative during and after the Maiden Ladies Tomb renovation By exploring the ways in which the deceased young women were perceived to haunt the living and the diverse renovations recommended the book illuminates how women workers in Taiwan have been conceptualized in the last several decades In their proposals to renovate the tomb the interested parties forged specific accounts of history transforming the collective burial site according to varying definitions of heritage as Taiwan shifted to a postindustrial economy where factory jobs were no longer the main source of employment Their plans engaged with acts of remembering communal and individual to create new ways of understanding the present The Twenty five Maiden Ladies Tomb as a heritage site elucidates how history and memory are not simply about the past but part of a forward looking process that emerges from the social political and economic needs of the present legitimized and validated through its associations with the past

Women In The Cities Of Asia

James T Fawcett,2019-03-20 Women in Asia are on the move The migration of women from village to city has increased dramatically in the past decade and many of these new migrants are young single women seeking jobs In several Asian countries women migrants now outnumber men by a substantial margin Along with the physical movement from rural to urban areas come new roles

The Indigenous Dynamic in Taiwan's Postwar Development: Religious and Historical Roots of Entrepreneurship Ian Skoggard,2016-09-16 Using Taiwan s third largest export industry shoe manufacturing as a case study this work contends that economic development can be tied to Taiwan s own cultural history as well as to the influx of foreign capital or the initiatives of the state government

In the Name of Harmony and Prosperity Anru Lee,2004-05-26 Since the 1980s Taiwan has grown into a global manufacturing powerhouse a model of success that has inspired emulation throughout the developing world Yet at the very peak of this expansion Taiwan began to feel squeezed by changes both domestically and internationally In the Name of Harmony and Prosperity examines Taiwan s economic restructuring since the late 1980s Anru Lee discusses the latest phase of Taiwan s socio economic development most importantly the dialectical relationship between its export oriented industrialization change in production processes and discourse on work ethics including the subject formation of women workers as it relates to conditions in the global economy At the center of this study is the process by which labor capital relations become fair and legitimate and how they contribute to our understanding of Asian capitalism and its role in the world economy

Korean Workers Hagen Koo,2018-09-05 Forty years of rapid industrialization have transformed millions of South Korean peasants and their sons and daughters into urban factory workers Hagen Koo explores the experiences of this first generation of industrial workers and describes its struggles to improve working conditions in the factory and to search for justice in society The working class in South Korea was born in a cultural and political environment extremely hostile to its development Koo says Korean workers forged their collective identity much more rapidly however than did their counterparts in other newly industrialized countries in East Asia This book investigates how South Korea s once docile and submissive workers reinvented themselves so quickly into a class with a distinct identity and consciousness Based on sources ranging from workers personal writings to union reports to in depth interviews this book is a penetrating analysis of the South Korean working class experience Koo reveals how culture and politics simultaneously suppressed and facilitated class formation in South Korea With chapters exploring the roles of women students and church organizations in the struggle the book reflects Koo s broader interest in the social and cultural dimensions of industrial transformation

The Other Taiwan, 1945-92 Murray A. Rubinstein,2016-09-16 Examines the effects of the socio economic post war transformation on Taiwan s political system environment religious structures the relationships between the sexes and the different ethnic populations A complex revisionist portrait of the country emerges

Patriarchy in East Asia Kaku Sechiyama,2013-03-01 The role and significance of patriarchy in East Asia varies greatly according to the interplay between deeply entrenched cultural norms economic change and government policy The aim of this book therefore is to offer an historical perspective on these issues combined with an analysis of the transitions and outcomes that have occurred in the status of women over the course of modernization and industrialization in five East Asian societies Japan South Korea North Korea Taiwan and China The narrative is interwoven with a discussion of contemporary issues such as the persistence of tradition and gender discrimination how gender roles undermine the development of healthier marriage and family relationships and better relations among the generations the lack of full equality for women in employment falling birth rates and rising divorce rates Patriarchy in East Asia is the first study of its kind undertaken by a sociology who is fluent in all of the local language thereby providing a rare level of access on terms of research of primary sources Book jacket Social Justice and Gender Equality Günseli Berik,Yana van der Meulen Rodgers,Ann Zammit,2012-10-12 The contributors to this edited volume explore the effects of various development strategies and associated macroeconomic policies on women s well being and progress towards gender equality Detailed analyses of major UN reports on gender reveal the different approaches to assessing absolute and relative progress for women and the need to take into account the specifics of policy regimes when making such assessments The book argues that neoliberal policies especially the liberalization of trade and investment make it difficult to close gender wage and earnings gaps and new gender sensitive policies need to be devised These and other issues are all examined in more detail in several gendered development histories of countries from Latin America and Asia (En)Gendering Taiwan Ya-chen Chen,2017-10-15 This book highlights the diversity and richness of non Mainland China and Taiwan oriented gender issues from a unique Taiwanese perspective in contrast to previous studies that have often placed Taiwanese gender issues under the huge umbrella of Mainland Chinese Communist Chinese or P R C women s and gender studies In a follow up dialogue to and with Liu s Karl s and Ko s The Birth of Chinese Feminism this book looks at the various metaphorical details of that birth and the different dimensions of Mainland Chinese versus Taiwanese feminism and gender issues Although Chinese heritage people share similar traditions different gender problems have occurred in and challenged various local conditions of Chinese speaking areas Taiwan s gender issues have reflected Taiwan s unique historical sociocultural economic political post colonial military and diplomatic backgrounds in ways unfamiliar to the many people with a Chinese background who are not Taiwanese This volume gives a historical outline of the people and events that paved the way for the rise of Taiwanese feminism and includes portraits of famous feminists gender issues in institutions and a variety of gender concerns The Feminist Economics of Trade Irene van Staveren,Diane Elson,Caren Grown,Nilufer Cagatay,2012-08-06 Unravelling the complex relationship between gender inequality and trade this is the first book to combine the tools of economic and gender analysis to examine the relationship between international trade and gender relations It brings together fourteen contributions from a variety of economic perspectives including structuralist institutionalist neoclassical and Post Keynesian by a range of authors including Lourdes Bener a William Darity Marzia Fontana and Mariama Williams to demonstrate what feminist economics has contributed to the analysis of international trade through theoretical modelling econometric analysis and policy oriented contributions It includes evidence from industrialized semi industrialized and agrarian economies using country case studies and cross country analysis Arguing that trade expansion and reduction of gender inequality can be combined but only if an appropriate mix and sequence of trade and other economic policies is implemented this book is key reading for all students of international economics gender and cultural studies and politics and international relations amongst other disciplines
