The Fathers of the Church in Christian Theology Fedou, 2019-06-26 The main purpose of The Fathers of the Church in Christian Theology is to argue that Patristic studies still has much to contribute to theological reflections in our time Throughout history the reading of the Fathers of the Church has made major contributions to Christian thinking This fecundity was notably verified in the 20th century through the work of theologians like Henri de Lubac and Hans Urs von Balthasar It was as well manifested broadly in the life of the church that with the Vatican II council drew from the patristic tradition a source of inspiration for its own renewal However even though the research and work on early Christianity has experienced considerable growth for several decades Christian theology is today confronted with new questions Thus what status to recognize in the exegesis of the Fathers Has not the distance from the heritage of patristic thinking been widened More radically do not the demands of contextual theologies on diverse continents compel a distancing away from some traditions that formerly were principally limited to Mediterranean and European regions. If these questions must be taken into account, they nevertheless cannot dispense with Christian theology being today as yesterday inspired and made fecund by the writings of the Fathers. Michel F. Dou attempts to shed light on what in our own era justifies the necessity of a patristic theology. He shows how the reading of the Fathers contributes to the understanding of the faith in the different fields of Christian thinking. It highlights the importance of their writings for the spiritual life and the valuable nourishment that they thus offer to our times.

The Christian Faith Michael Horton, 2011-01-04 Theology, the study of God, is a concern for every believer, not just theologians or those in ministry. It is the goal of good theology to humble us before the triune God of majesty as we come to understand him better. This is a book of and about good theology. Award-winning author, theologian and professor Michael Horton wrote The Christian Faith as a book of systematic theology and doctrine that can be preached, experienced and lived as well as understood, clarified and articulated. It is written for a growing cast of pilgrims in ministry and laity who are interested in learning about Christ as a way of living as a Christian. Who understands that knowing doctrine and walking in practical Christianity are not competing interests? The Christian Faith is divided into six parts, five of which each focus on an aspect of God, while the first part sets up an understanding and appreciation for the task of theology itself, addressing topics like the source of theology, where the idea of theology comes from and what its limits are. The origin of the canon, how the modern Bible came about and why we can trust it. The character of theology is the nature of theology: practical, theoretical or can it be both? In a manner equally as welcoming to professors, pastors, students and armchair theologians, Horton has organized this volume in a readable fashion that includes a variety of learning features: A brief synopsis of biblical passages that inform certain doctrines, surveys of past and current theologies with contemporary emphasis on exegetical philosophical practical and theological questions Substantial interaction with various Christian movements within the Protestant Catholic and Orthodoxy traditions as well as the hermeneutical issues raised by postmodernity Charts sidebars questions for discussion and an extensive bibliography divided into different entry levels and topics At the heart of this book is a deep love for and curiosity about God Its basic argument is that a personal relationship with God goes hand in hand with the pursuit of theology It isn't possible to know God without studying him Christian Science Sentinel, 1908 *CSB I'm a Christian—Now What?
