Room Behavior Rob Kovitz, 2013-11-01 A woman sits alone in a darkened boiler room A man enjoys hanging suspended from the ceiling A dirty room indicates the secret sexual proclivities of its occupant A curtain rustling in the breeze portends fear and paranoia The purpose of a room derives from the special nature of a room A room is inside This is what people in rooms have to agree on as differentiated from lawns meadows fields orchards Room Behavior is a book about rooms Composed of texts and images from the most varied sources including crime novels decorating manuals anthropological studies performance art crime scene photos literature and the Bible to name a few Kovitz shapes the material through a process of highly subjective editing ordering and juxtaposition to create an original fascinating and darkly funny rumination about the behavior of rooms and the people that they keep Like the rooms he depicts the pages of this book are host to an evocative and thought provoking life of their own Uptown Magazine Strange and clever Globe Mail The book is a unique mini coffee table paperback beautifully designed Much more than a gift book Room Behavior is something to pause and reflect on whenever you think about rearranging your furniture Fast Forward This is a book to keep to review again and again Funny but deep Umbrella Treyf 25th Anniversary edition

Animal Writing Danielle Sands, 2019-08-21 Combining recent insights from animal studies critical plant studies and the new materialisms Danielle Sands reads fiction and philosophy alongside each other to propose a method of thinking of and with animals that draws on a bestiary of affects She challenges the claim that empathy should be primary mode of engagement with nonhuman life Instead she looks at the stories that we tell and are told by insects beings at the edges of animal life The indifference even disgust that these creatures evoke in us forms the basis for a new ethics not limited by empathy Along the way she encounters fiction writers Yann Martel Karen Joy Fowler Han Kang and Jim Crace beside the philosophy of Graham Harman Donna Haraway Jacques Derrida and Roger Caillois

Stories in Letters - Letters in Stories Rebekka Schuh, 2021-10-04 This book deals with letters in Anglophone Canadian short stories of the late twentieth and the early twenty first century in the context of liminality It argues that in the course of the epistolary renaissance the letter which has often been deemed to be obsolete in literature has not only enjoyed an upsurge in novels but also migrated to the short story thus constituting the genre of the epistolary short story

Encyclopedia of Post-Colonial Literatures in English Eugene Benson, 2004-11-30 Documents the history and development of Post colonial literatures in English together with English and American literature and includes original research relating to the literatures of some 50 countries and territories In more than 1 600 entries written by more than 600 internationally recognized scholars it explores the effect of the colonial and post colonial experience on literatures in English worldwide Space, Place and Hybridity in the National Imagination Christine Vandamme, André Dodeman, 2021-10-26 This volume explores space place and hybridity in today s multicultural societies with a strong emphasis on the role of art and spatial representations in order to map out the complexity of modern nations and celebrate the creative powers of their highly dynamic communities and cultures It considers how the very idea of the nation has evolved since the emergence and development of the idea of the nation state at the end of the eighteenth century and how art can reinvigorate representations of nation states worldwide without relegating their minorities to the margin Instead of merely focusing on the role of place and land in national representations the book adopts a wider and more critical approach to space in the arts by investigating the notions of both hybridity and Bhabha s Third Space in the fields of aesthetics film studies and literature with a particular emphasis on postcolonial literature Translating Canada Luise von Flotow, Reingard M. Nischik, 2007-10-25 In the last thirty years of the twentieth century Canadian federal governments offered varying degrees of support for literary and other artistic endeavour A corollary of this patronage of culture at home was an effort to make the resulting works available for audiences elsewhere in the world Current developments in the study of translation and its influence as cultural transfer have made possible new assessments of such efforts to project a national image abroad Translating Canada examines cultural materials exported by Canada in addition to those selected for acquisition by German publishers theatres and other culture brokers It also considers the motivations of particular translators and the reception by German reviewers of works by a wide variety of Canadian writers novelists and poets playwrights and children s authors literary and social critics Above all the book maps for its readers a number of significant though frequently unsuspected roles that translation assumes in the intercultural negotiation of national images and values The chapters in this collection will be of value to students teachers and scholars in a number of fields Informed lay readers too will appreciate the authors insights into the different ways in which translation has contributed to German reception of Canadian books and culture Translating Canada examines cultural materials exported by Canada in addition to those selected for acquisition by German publishers theatres and other culture brokers It also considers the motivations of particular translators and the reception by German reviewers of works by a wide variety of Canadian writers Published in English Engaged Philosophy David Braybrooke, 2007-01-01 David Braybrooke is one of the most important figures in North American philosophy His work in political philosophy is both prolific and significant and he has contributed to the philosophical corpus books on topics as diverse as utilitarianism natural law and moral objectives Engaged Philosophy is a collection of original essays written in honour of Braybrooke by some of his colleagues and students at Halifax s Dalhousie University Arts & Humanities Citation Index , 1994
