Facts on File Yearbook, 1995, 1996-12 The 1990s Richard Alan Schwartz, 2006 Traces the history of the United States during the 1990s through such primary sources as memoirs letters contemporary journalism and official documents

Literacy as a Moral Imperative Rebecca Powell, 1999 In this important new book on literacy and teaching practices education scholar and former schoolteacher Rebecca Powell argues that the decisions we make about literacy in a pluralistic society are fundamentally moral ones either supporting inequitable power relationships or seeking to transform them Powell explores the underlying ideological assumptions of Oschooled literacyO and examines the ways teaching practices create tensions in the lives of students tensions that often result in alienation and educational failure particularly among those whose cultural knowledge and language tends to be marginalized in our nationOs schools While primarily ground in critical theory this volume also draws from multicultural and holistic perspectives in the teaching of written and oral language and addresses the link between whole language and critical pedagogy Thus the text is both theoretical and practical Powell effectively argues that literacy instruction should encourage social responsibility and civic action should enable students and teachers to understand the transformative potential of language and should nurture a culture of compassion and care

Beyond Gunboat Diplomacy James O. Tubbs, 1997 Military intervention short of full scale war is not a new phenomenon as a means of pursuing national interests However with the end of the cold war military intervention has taken a new twist in the form of peace operations The U S Air Force in particular is being used as a tool of national policy in peace enforcement operations with increasing regularity Currently the USAF is involved in the conflict in the former Yugoslavia and maintains an air presence in both Turkey and Saudi Arabia to control the Iraqi repression of its civilian population This raises a fundamental question about when and how airpower should be used as an effective coercive force in peace enforcement operations Peace enforcement is a military intervention in an on going conflict which uses military force to coerce one or more belligerents to comply with mandated restrictions The purpose of this intervention is to create the proper security conditions such that other peace efforts such as humanitarian relief and diplomatic peacemaking can help the belligerents resolve the conflict without the use of force This thesis uses PROVIDE COMFORT in northern Iraq and UNITAF UNISOM II in Somalia as case studies to examine how airpower influences peace enforcement operations Abstract The 1995

Abirached, Houghton-Mif, 1994-11 The Presidential Difference Fred I. Greenstein, 2001-02-28 As Americans choose and install a new president for a new century they could do no better than to read this work by one of our keenest observers of the modern presidency Drawing on a quarter century s immersion in the presidential record and scores of interviews Fred I Greenstein provides a fascinating and instructive account of the qualities that have served well and poorly in the Oval Office from Franklin D Roosevelt s first hundred days to the end of the Clinton administration Greenstein offers a series of bottom line judgments on each of his eleven subjects and a bold new explanation of why presidents succeed or fail Previous analysts have placed their bets on the president's political prowess or personal character Yet by the first standard LBJ should have been our greatest president and by the second the nod would go to Jimmy Carter Greenstein surveys each president's record in public communication political skill vision cognitive style and emotional intelligence He concludes that the last is by far the most important According to Greenstein FDR provides endless positive lessons but is a source of warnings Truman let his bizarre readings of history lead him astray Eisenhower was wise but failed to communicate a vision Kennedy had no vision Reagan was Carter in reverse It is Ford who is most unappreciated and genuinely interesting Ford balanced many conflicting demands kept his poise and left the office much stronger than he found it Presidents can avoid failure if they are willing to accept the warnings of failures past and act accordingly But it is not only presidents who should read this book with care Some flaws cannot be overcome no matter how otherwise talented the man Only three of Greenstein's eleven modern presidents were fundamentally free of distracting emotional perturbations When we choose our presidents we will do well to listen to Greenstein and Beware the presidential contender who lacks emotional intelligence In its absence all else may turn to ashes
