The Classical Marxist Critiques of Religion: Marx, Engels, Lenin, Kautsky D.B. McKown,2012-12-06 In view of the enormous number of works on Marxism in general and in light of the many books and articles touching on the relationship of Marxism to religion in particular it may fairly be asked why yet another such work should be produced My reply is that in eliciting answers to the kinds of questions posed by the methodology I have used it was necessary to go to the primary sources almost exclusively This is not to bemoan a sad fate but to affirm that there are notable deficiencies in the secondary sources relevant to my topic By way of general indictment I contend that the major difficulty with existing studies of the Marxist critique of religion is that their authors whether expositors or critics have failed both to specify their own presuppositions concerning religion and to approach the subject with an adequate comprehension of its many dimensions Since in most cases the reader is equally unprepared anthropologically sociologically psychologically and historically for clear and informed thought in this vast and nebulous area the result has been widespread confusion As if this were not enough numerous writers with little more than polemical interests have compounded the confusion by failing to distinguish between religion in general and their own brands of faith in particular Others have not discriminated between the concepts of metaphysics and the supernatural items of religious belief Frantz Fanon, postcolonialism and the ethics of difference Azzedine Haddour, 2019-07-26 Fanon postcolonialism and the ethics of difference offers a new reading of Fanon's work challenging many of the reconstructions of Fanon in critical and postcolonial theory and in cultural studies probing a host of crucial issues the intersectionality of gender and colonial politics the biopolitics of colonialism Marxism and decolonisation tradition translation and humanism It will be of particular value to advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students as well as to academics interested in Fanon and postcolonial studies generally Colonial Psychiatry and the African Mind Jock McCulloch, 1995-01-12 In this first history of psychiatry in colonial Africa Jock McCulloch describes the clinical approaches of well known European practitioners including Frantz Fanon and Wulf Sachs They operated independently of one another Yet despite their differences they shared a coherent set of ideas about the African Mind based on the colonial notion of African inferiority By exploring the association between settler ideology and psychiatric research this study examines colonial science as a system of knowledge and power

The Palgrave Handbook of Critical Social Psychology Brendan Gough, 2025-05-19 This handbook is the second edition of a highly cited and impactful collection which was the first to bring together the latest theory and research on critical approaches to social psychological challenges Edited by a leading authority in the field the volume helped to establish critical social psychology as a discipline of study distinct from mainstream social psychology The book helps to explain how critical approaches to social processes and phenomena are essential to fully understanding them and covers the main research topics in basic and applied social psychology including social cognition identity and social relations alongside overviews of the main theories and methodologies that underpin critical approaches This second edition adds four new chapters from two UK authors one US and one from New Zealand on the subjects of Indigenous Psychologies M ori communities Deleuze and arts based research It also adds a new introduction from the editor This volume features a range of leading authors working on key social psychological issues and highlights a commitment to a social psychology which shuns psychologisation reductionism and neutrality It provides invaluable insight into many of the most pressing and distressing issues we face in modern society including the migrant and refugee crises affecting Europe the devaluing of black lives in the USA and the poverty ill health and poor mental well being that has resulted from ever increasing austerity efforts in the UK Including sections on critical perspectives critical methodologies and critical applications this volume also focuses on issues within social cognition self and identity This one stop handbook is an indispensable resource for a range of academics students and researchers in the fields of psychology and sociology and particularly those with an interest in social identity power relations and critical interventions Contesting Psychiatry Nick Crossley, 2006 Building on his extensive research the author explores the key social movements and organisations who have contested psychiatry and mental health in the UK between 1950 and 2000 The Critique of Psychology Thomas Teo, 2006-07-18 Closely paralleling the history of psychology is the history of its critics their theories and their contributions The Critique of Psychology is the first book to trace this alternate history from a unique perspective that complements the many existing empirical theoretical and social histories of the field Thomas Teo cogently synthesizes major historical and theoretical narratives to describe two centuries of challenges to and the reactions of the mainstream Some of these critiques of content methodology relevance and philosophical worldview have actually influenced and become integrated into the canon others pose moral questions still under debate All are accessibly presented so that readers may judge their value for themselves Kant's critique of rational and empirical psychology at the end of the 18th century The natural scientific critique of philosophical psychology in the 19th century The human scientific critique of natural scientific psychology The Marxist traditions of critique Feminist and postmodern critiques and the contemporary mainstream Postcolonial critiques and the shift from cross cultural to multicultural psychology This is not a book of critique for critique's sake Teo defines the field as a work in progress with goals that are evolving yet constant In emphasizing ethical and political questions faced by psychology as a discipline this visionary book points students academics and practitioners toward new possibilities for their shared future

The Last Man Takes LSD Daniel Zamora, Mitchell Dean, 2021-05-25 How Michel Foucault drugs California and the rise of neoliberal politics in 1970s France are all connected In May 1975 Michel Foucault took LSD in the desert in southern California He described it as the most important event of his life one which would lead him to completely rework his History of Sexuality His focus now would not be on power relations but on the experiments of subjectivity and the care of the self Through this lens he would reinterpret the social movements of May 68 and position himself politically in France in relation to the emergent anti totalitarian and anti welfare state currents He would also come to appreciate the possibilities of autonomy offered by a new force on the French political scene that was neither of the Left nor the Right neoliberalism For this paperback edition the authors have written an afterword responding to the debate occasioned by the book's first publication
