Psychology, Religion, and Spirituality James M. Nelson, 2009-02-17 Over a century ago psychologists who were fascinated with religion began to study and write about it Theologians and religious practitioners have responded to this literature producing a fascinating dialogue that deals with our fundamental und standings about the human person and our place in the world This book provides an introduction to the important conversations that have developed out of these interchanges The dialogue between psychology and religion is difficult to study for a number of reasons First it requires knowledge of both psychology and religion People with a background in psychology often lack a solid understanding of the religious traditions they wish to study and theologians may not be up to date on the latest developments in psychology Second it requires conceptual tools to organize the material and understand the basic problems involved in any attempt to connect the science of psychology with religion These concepts can be found in many places for instance in the writings of philosophers of science but they are complex and often hard to follow for those without a proper theological and philosophical ba ground Finally authors who write on the topic come to the study of psychology and religion from a variety of academic and personal backgrounds This makes for wonderful diversity in conversations but it makes understanding and mastery of the material quite difficult Aging in Spirit Karen Kaigler-Walker, 2023-03-14 Does God expect women who ve lived faithfully most or all our lives to continue to grow in Christ as we age into our later decades Absolutely Not only does God want us to keep on maturing but God provides the path to spiritual growth God hardwired us to blossom into a new realm of spirituality as we age Aging in Spirit provides a blueprint for developing the type of greater love compassion understanding and acceptance that Jesus taught as we move into our elder years so we can continue to be the hands and feet of God until the end of our lives Aging, Spirituality and Palliative Care Rev Elizabeth Mackinley, 2006-10-24 Gain greater depth of understanding of end of life spiritual issues for older adults The period of time when a person approaches death is always difficult both for the patient and the caregiver Aging Spirituality and Palliative Care discusses best practices in aged and palliative care while addressing patients diverse spiritual

Principles and Practice of Geriatric Psychiatry Marc E. Agronin, Gabe J. Maletta, 2012-03-28 Many elderly patients suffer from psychiatric conditions that result from or are made worse by existing medical conditions This new edition integrates clinical expertise needed to evaluate and treat psychiatric medical and neurologic disorders in the older patient Both scientific foundations of and clinical approaches to psychiatric disease are discussed by a range of experts who rely on evidence based clinical guidelines and outcomes data Most chapters include case studies that illuminate the approaches to diagnosis and treatment The book's five sections include basic principles of evaluation and treatment for specific disorders appendices offer further insight into pharmacotherapy and neuroanatomic foundation of psychiatric diseases The Living Church, 2004 Older Americans, Vital Communities W. Andrew Achenbaum, 2005-12-23 This thought provoking work grapples with the vast range of issues associated with the aging population and challenges people of all ages to think more boldly and more creatively about the relationship between older Americans and their communities W Andrew Achenbaum begins by exploring the demographics of our aging society and its effect on employment and markets education health care religion and political action Drawing on history literature and philosophy Achenbaum focuses on the way health care and increases in life expectancy have transformed late life from a phase characterized by illness frailty and debility to one of vitality productivity and spirituality He shows how this transformation of aging is beginning to be felt in programs and policies for aging persons as communities focus more effort on lifelong learning and extensive civic engagement Concerned that his own undergraduate students are too focused on the immediate future Achenbaum encourages young people to consider their place in life's social and chronological trajectory He calls on baby boomers to create institutional structures that promote productive vital growth for the common good and he invites people of all ages to think more boldly about what they will do with the long lives ahead of them Sir John Templeton Robert Herrmann, 2013-11-04 The biography of the Wizard of Wall Street who has dedicated his life to advancing the scientific study of spiritual realities has been revised and updated Sir John Templeton was an inspiring and motivational force both through his personal example and through the foundation that bears his name and is dedicated to his mission This volume reviews the life of this man of vision from his childhood in rural Tennessee to his education at Yale and Oxford to his legendary years on Wall Street the birth of his children and the development and growth of humility theology science Interwoven with the stories and facts are the roots of his faith and the values that he credits for his financial success and are the catalyst for his lifelong mission Sir John's biography updates the growth of the many and varied programs of the John Templeton Foundation that support this mission It also introduces some of the scientists theologians philosophers writers and fellow investors who now serve as staff and advisors to the John Templeton Foundation striving toward Sir John's goal of one hundred fold more spiritual information gained through the application of scientific methodology and analysis Spirituality and Health Research Harold G Koenig, 2012-01-15 In Spirituality and Health Research Methods Measurement Statistics and Resources Dr Harold G Koenig leads a comprehensive overview of this complex subject Dr Koenig is one of the world's leading authorities on the relationship between spirituality and health and a leading researcher on the topic As such he is distinctively qualified to author such a book This unique source of information on how to conduct research on religion spirituality and health includes practical information that goes well beyond what is typically taught in most undergraduate graduate or even post doctoral level courses This volume reviews what research has been done discusses the strengths and limitations of that research provides a research agenda for the future that describes the most important studies that need to be done to advance the field and describes how to actually conduct that research design statistical analysis and publication of results It also covers practical matters such as how to write fundable grants to support the research where to find sources of funding support for research in this area and what can be done even if the researcher has little or no funding support The information gathered together here which has been reviewed for accuracy and comprehensiveness by research design and statistical experts has been acquired during a span of over twenty five years that Dr Koenig spent conducting research reviewing others research reviewing research grants and interacting with mainstream biomedical researchers both within and outside the field of spirituality and health The material is presented in an easy to read and readily accessible form that will benefit researchers at almost any level of training and experience

The Tapestry of Health, Illness and Disease Vera Kalitzkus, Peter Twohig, 2009 Human suffering and illness as well as health and healing are topics of ongoing actuality In a world of growing complexity and interrelatedness a broader perspective on these topics is needed The global conference project on Making Sense of Health Illness and Disease is a forum for scholars from various countries who are interested in deepening the interdisciplinary discourse on the subject This book is the outcome of the 5th conference held at Mansfield College Oxford in July 2006 It combines essays that transgress traditional disciplinary boundaries in the field of health care delivery and medicine It thus will be of interest to students in the medical humanities researchers as well as health care providers who wish to gain insight into the various perspectives through which health illness and disease can be understood

Ageing and Spirituality Across Faiths and Cultures Elizabeth MacKinlay, 2010 This book examines ageing in the context of the many faiths and cultures that make up Western society and provides carers with the knowledge they need to deliver appropriate care to people of all faiths Chapters are written by authoritative figures from each of the world's major faith groups about the beliefs and practices of their older people

The Fallible Body: Narratives of Health, Illness & Disease Vera Kalitzkus, Peter L. Twohig, 2020-09-25 There is perhaps no subject that lends itself to interdisciplinarity better than corporeal finitude and it is a recognition of this fact that from 12 to 15 July 2006 a group of international scholars policy makers and practitioners were brought together for the 5th annual conference Making Sense of Health Illness and Disease

Sixty, Sexy, and Successful Robert Schwalbe Ph.D., 2008-05-30 As a psychotherapist who focuses on working with the issues that challenge midlife and older men Robert Schwalbe feels that the 60s and beyond can be the most rewarding or the most miserable period in a man's life. An aging male baby boomer looking at 60 encounters very specific psychological and physical changes. The impact of these changes can be felt in relationship to others and in how a man sees himself in his world. Does he continue to fit in? In particular, how a man adapts to being in his 60s is an indicator of how he feels about living the rest of his life. Dr. Schwalbe knows from personal experience as well as from his patients the challenges produced by anxiety and depression in dealing with aging in a youth-oriented society. He looks at competition in the gym, sports field, financial and business arena, the political world, to the social and sexual world, and urges men to adapt to the outside forces. The key is in the expectations and how to recognize and plan for them. Candid and straightforward talk with vignettes drawn from Dr. Schwalbe's practice illustrate problems and solutions related to marriage, relationships, career, retirement, don't he urges divorce, death of a partner, fitness, nutrition, sexual behavior, dealing with adult children, lifestyle changes, financial planning, ageism, and many other topics. Schwalbe presents a heart-felt and therapeutically tested guide to keeping things in perspective in order to maintain self-confidence and self-esteem. Most importantly, this book is directed to the aging male baby boomer and to those who love him, know him, or live with him. It tells him that he is not alone and that the intimate thoughts that he has about his aging body and mind are shared by millions of men who are in their 60s and are dealing with their new age.

Building Healthy Communities Through Medical-Religious Partnerships Richard G. Bennett, W. Daniel Hale, 2009-09. This innovative approach to the development of community-based health education and patient advocacy programs offers valuable guidance for religious and medical leaders interested in developing partnerships between health systems and religious congregations. Richard G. Bennett and W. Daniel Hale discuss a range of medical topics and provide practical information on establishing partnerships, identifying resources that can be obtained from local and national organizations, and training volunteers to assist others in navigating our complex health system. In showing that these programs can be successful in bringing appropriate care to people who are often overlooked, the authors pay special attention to the challenges and opportunities presented by our aging and increasingly diverse population.
