Faith in the Midst of Faiths Stanley J. Samartha, 1977 Christians and Muslims Jutta Sperber, 2017-04-24 No detailed description available for Christians and Muslims The Problem with Interreligious Dialogue Muthuraj Swamy, 2016-03-24 Muthuraj Swamy provides a fresh perspective on the world religions paradigm and interreligious dialogue By challenging the assumption that world religions operate as essential entities separate from the lived experiences of practitioners he shows that interreligious dialogue is in turn problematic as it is built on this very paradigm and on the myth of religious conflict Offering a critique of the idea of dialogue as it has been advanced by its proponents such as religious leaders and theologians whose aims are to promote inter religious conversation and understanding the author argues that this approach is elitist and that in reality people do not make sharp distinctions between religions nor do they separate political economic social and cultural beliefs and practices from their religious traditions Case studies from villages in southern India explore how Hindu Muslim and Christian communities interact in numerous ways that break the neat categories often used to describe each religion Swamy argues that those who promote dialogue are ostensibly attempting to overcome the separate identities of religious practitioners through understanding but in fact they re enforce them by encouraging a false sense of separation The Problem with Interreligious Dialogue Plurality Conflict and Elitism in Hindu Christian Muslim Relations provides an innovative approach to a central issue confronting Religious Studies combining both theory and ethnography Modern Western Christian Theological Understandings of Muslims Since the Second Vatican Council Mahmut Aydin, 2002 Robinson Crusoe tries again Werner Ustorf, 2010-09-15 The Christian experience in modern Europe is fragmented It shows great diversity in various geographical contexts and historically a considerable alternation of extremes high or low tides of engagement One aspect of the Christianity in Europe s past is its mission history The spread of Christianity from the West as one of its most important results into the continents of the Global South has been deeply ambivalent in character On the one hand the mission from the West helped to build the historical foundations for Christian education adolescence and maturation to responsible adulthood in a global diverse segregated and pluralistic world As a mature global player Christianity was in a prime position to contribute to peaceful conflict resolution in the religious social and political fields On the other hand the darkness and utter insufficiency of the encounter between the European Christian self and the many others worldwide brought along problematic projections of different beliefs attacked in a hostile way as alien and inevitably as conquered The consequences particularly for the primal other the indigenous people were often disastrous Werner Ustorf has been a leading missiologist worldwide for thirty years This book not only analyses the interaction between mission and individual the construction of the self and the other in a mission context but also proves the analytical strength of theology in conceptualizing future Christian experiences in Europe Ustorf illustrates that apart from traditional dimension of faith a non religious interpretation and critical trust in transcendence is crucial for the formation of the new interculturalization of Christianity in Europe Thus this book demonstrates how mission history can be transformed to a research concept for a global and pluralistic Christianity A World United or a World Exploited? Peter Price, 2014-09-01

The processes of globalisation are reshaping our world dramatically and rapidly The great issues of our day emphasise that we are all in this together startling inequalities pressures on the environment continuing hunger and poverty climate change economic integration mass migrations instant communications and recurring armed conflicts The Centrality of Christ In The Theology of Lesslie Newbigin, Reflecting Diversity Péter Losonczi, Géza G. Xeravits, 2007 The term interreligiosity is a characteristic invention of the postmodern discourse of religious studies But the feature it denotes the mutual connections between religions whereby they can share new viewpoints and paradigms is not modern at all One can say that religiosity and interreligiosity are correlative conceptions when speaking of religion as a social entity one is immediately and everywhere confronted by interreligious aspects The present volume contains various essays exploring such interreligious aspects found within the history and traditions of Judaism and Christianity Intercultural Theology, Volume Two Henning Wrogemann, 2018-01-09 In this second volume of his three volume Intercultural Theology Henning Wrogemann turns to theologies of mission Tracing developments across a range of Christian traditions movements themes and regions of the globe Wrogemann provides an overview of the theological underpinnings rationalizations and visions for mission and its practice

Witness To The World David J. Bosch, 2006-10-01 A great deal of uncertainty exists in the church as to what mission really is The shifts in political power away from the traditionally Christian West the call for a moratorium and the other critical voices from the Third World churches and the increasing self assurance and missionary consciousness among adherents of non Christian religions all these have given rise to the question whether Christian mission work still makes sense and if it does what form it should take Is mission identical to evangelism in the sense of proclaiming eternal salvation Does it include social and political involvement and if so how Where does salvation take place only in the Church or in the individual or in society or in the world or in the non Christian religions The picture is one of change and complexity tension and urgency The answers we give to these questions must be consonant with the will of God and relevant to the situation in which we find ourselves Landmark Essays in Mission and World Christianity Robert L. Gallagher, Paul Hertig, 2009 Gallagher and Hertig have collected a range of seminal articles and papers that offer students insight into thinking by the makers of modern mission and world Christian studies This is a priceless book for the classroom bringing between two covers the most important reflections on these issues in our age This marvelous book answers the prayers of teachers who have struggled for a generation with the problem of providing their students a resource that will offer an entre into the best thinking on the nature of mission and the emergence of world Christianity The Georgetown Companion to Interreligious Studies Lucinda Mosher, 2022 The Georgetown Companion to Interreligious Studies is a comprehensive authoritative creative and cutting edge anthology of fifty essays that taken as a group provide insight into and food for further thought about sub categories of a field of academic inquiry that has developed rapidly in recent decades Interreligious Studies is an academic field in which scholars deliberately draw on at least one other religion in addition to their home tradition when reflecting on worldview questions an arena in which at least one religious discourse is involved with some other discourse Hence Interreligious Studies is inherently multi disciplinary bringing together the study of religion s with methodologies from the fields of anthropology sociology psychology political science history women s studies ecology and more Interreligious Studies gives pride of place to relational intersectional and dialogical approaches as it seeks theoretical and practical insights through the examination of how religions relate to each other to their own internal diversity to various social systems to society at large A recent assessment of Interreligious Studies programs in universities and theological schools indicates that they make wide but not exclusive use of comparative and critical methods that their purposes include cultivation of religious literacy promotion of dialogue fostering of citizenship and professional preparation for leadership in multireligious contexts expectations for the destiny of history and faith Practices of Dialogue in the Roman Catholic Church Bradford E. Hinze, 2006-01-01 One Christ--Many Religions S. J. Samartha, 2015-06-29 Here is a wise radical and illuminating book on the obstacles that a rigid interpretation of orthodox christological doctrines presents to dialogue with persons of other faiths One Christ Many Religions examines religious pluralism today and in the light of its implications for the global community suggests the contours of a revised christology more credible to Christians and their neighbors of other faiths Samartha argues that the problem with the christological dogmas of the first Ecumenical Councils is not their truth so much as their interpretation and the un Christian zealotry they seem to engender in Christians Sensitive to charges of sentiments of racial and cultural superiority that stem from Christians believing themselves uniquely authorized agents of God Samartha challenges us to admit the truth of these accusations and to revise our understanding of Jesus Without such christological revisions Samartha fears Christianity may cease to be Christian may become enfeebled in the pursuit of justice for the oppressed alienated from the deeper challenge of Jesus sealed off from the truths of other religions and ultimately may be barred from experiencing the rich and mysterious encounter of God Historical Dictionary of Ecumenical Christianity Ans Joachim van der Bent, 1994-12-01 This historical dictionary covers the major trends in the 20th century ecumenical movement until today It deals with developments in the realms of church unity mission and evangelism laity women in church and society and many other ecumenical subjects It also covers many programs and activities of the World Council of Churches since its inception in 1948 The longer articles survey important theological themes while short articles provide quick reference on a precise question The bibliography is not exhaustive some 50 000 titles have been published since the beginning of this century but very helpful for major bibliographical information The dictionary is particularly strong in American subjects and includes a great number of ecuminical personalities which cannot be found in other reference works This publication is not only an indispensable tool of research for university and seminary libraries but also for individual persons belonging to whatever Christian church who are interested in knowing more about reflections relations and activities in the several regions of the ecumenical world A helpful description of the most important ecumenical assemblies and conferences is provided To take stock of the past to interpret the present and to look forward into the third millenium of Christian existence are exciting and challenging enterprises
