Dialectics of Faith-Culture Integration Michael Muonwe, 2014-02-21 This book navigates the contours of cultural and theological hermeneutics in order to critique affirm as well as reconceptualise the vital underpinnings and subtleties of faith culture intercourse and reciprocation It questions claims to effective inculturation by theologians and church authorities even as it acknowledges the inevitability of the tension between inculturation process and syncretic formations It is an irresistible asset for teachers and students of theology cultural and religious studies for pastors and missionaries and for all Christians in need of finding Christian beliefs and practices more meaningful to them in their daily lives The hope is that it challenges the straitjacketed conceptual and pastoral frameworks that have often characterised the church's evangelisation initiatives and assists in making Christian faith a concrete and living possession of every age and culture Michael Muonwe is a priest of the Catholic diocese of Awka Nigeria He holds Licentiate and Doctorate in Theology and Religious Studies from the Catholic University of Leuven Belgium He obtained Bachelors in Philosophy from Bigard Memorial Seminary Enugu Nigeria Michael also holds Diplomas in Mass Communication and Education He has authored a number of articles and is an editor of a book His major research interest is the often convoluted relationship and interplay between religion and the contemporary culture His research on the relationship between Christianity feminism and culture will soon be published in two volumes On the present book Prof Annemie Dillen of the Catholic University of Leuven affirms This is a must read book for local church leaders theologians and everyone involved in pastoral work It challenges the reader to give up a longing for security and finding answers in fixed rules or the so called universal truths and invites him or her to an in depth study of cultural practices and beliefs The overview of the discussions on inculturation and the reality or sometime maybe phantom of syncretism is very illuminating and thought provoking Thomas F Magill asserts A timely and well balanced study of the theology of inculturation as understood in the Roman Catholic tradition offering new and fresh insights situated in the cusp between the Benedict XVI's emphasis on the relationship between faith and reason and the problem of relativism and Francis I's desire for a poor church for the poor T F Magill L S S Ph D parish priest of the Diocese of Motherwell formerly a Lecturer in New Testament

Faith Challenges Culture Paul O'Callaghan, 2021-10-25 The modern culture we live off and take for granted is an elevated sophisticated one containing a great variety of precious anthropological insights and strengths with a surprising adaptability and openness to absorb to clarify and to unite However in the present moment it comes across in many cases as a culture detached from the faith that gave life to it in the first place and without which it may simply not survive In fact it has become of late a fragile culture a culture less and less capable of adapting and absorbing and uniting This may be seen in the way many aspects of modern culture and public life have fallen into a pathology of rationalism individualism inequality discord ingratitude This may be seen in our attempt to live in isolation from our fellow humans unwilling to recognize the world we live in and the privileges we enjoy as God's gifts

Faith Challenges Culture A Reflection of the Dynamics of Modernity describes the process in two directions how culture challenges faith to provide answers that have not been previously given and how faith challenges culture not only by showing modern culture's fragility and ambivalence but also by posing new questions

Faith and Culture JIM SYMONS, 2013-12-23 How does faith impact culture What influence does culture have on faith These questions might seem academic limited to university religion or philosophy classes until we look at the morning headlines or listen to the evening newscasts Our lives are invaded daily by stories of extremists with yet another suicide bombing or protests for or against reproductive rights or scientific discoveries raising questions about the creation of the universe all based on conflicting faith commitments Like it or not these faith culture questions are part of all of our lives In this book six writers explore the juncture of faith and different dimensions of 21st century cultures The words faith and culture are dynamic not static Over time they take on new meanings In the Christian tradition for centuries faith meant the total life of a follower of Jesus But in the last three centuries of the Enlightenment many have come to see faith as a rational set of beliefs that are often separated from the way a person lives In the chapters of this book there is an effort to describe faith as a way of life that sometimes supports current dimensions of culture and sometimes opposes them Since faith is a personal response to God there are as many different expressions of faith as there are people Instead of seeing this as a problem each of our writers presents the juncture of faith and culture from their own personal experience and we are all enriched by the differences In this book we see the process of current cultures changing being shaped in new ways at least in part by faith communities Being aware of these changes makes it possible for each of us to join our writers to be a part of the change we seek in our world instead of being victims of forces beyond our control Captive of Culture Mathew P. Idicula, Roy Chicago, 2010 Captive of Culture focuses on the time Dr Mathew spent navigating several cultures while serving our Lord Jesus Christ in mission In this book the author uses his life experiences to help the reader understand the dynamics of the relationship between Christianity and Culture Captive of Culture is a timely addition to the ever growing literature on ministry in a multicultural and multireligious society

Disrupting Corporate Culture David G. White, Jr, 2020-08-17 Research in cognitive science over the last 30 years shows much of what we know about culture in the business world is based on myth wishful thinking outdated science or is just plain wrong This is why culture shaping and change programs in organizations often amount to little more than sloganeering with minimal impact on the lived experience of employees This book bridges the gap between the latest research on cognitive science and culture providing a valuable guide for change leaders CEOs and practitioners on how to sustainably work with and change this important resource It answers many of the major questions that have plagued culture work such as Why so many CEOs and management consultants preach culture change when so few culture interventions actually succeed Why CEOs persist in believing culture starts at the top when virtually no research in anthropology supports that claim Why most culture shaping approaches have no answer for how to affect culture in global companies Why culture doesn't cause us to do anything yet we persist in believing that somehow it does Why so many culture shaping projects focus on corporate values despite the fact modern science shows why changing personal values is exceedingly difficult What we are learning about culture from the last 30 years of cognitive science gives us the foundation for far more impactful and sustainable interventions than have been possible to date This book explains why showing how everyday business practices well beyond HR are key to culture change Why Because the brain's synaptic plasticity can only be altered through new sustained and widespread organizational habits and routines This groundbreaking practical guide will show you finally how to realize the full power of culture as a transformational empowering and competitive resource Importing Faith Glyn J. Ackerley, 2016-07-28 Many twenty first century evangelical charismatics in Britain are looking for a faith that works They want to experience the miraculous in terms of healings and Godsent financial provision Many have left the mainstream churches to join independent charismatic churches led by those who are perceived to have special insights and to teach principles that will help believers experience the miraculous But all is not rosy in this promised paradise and when people are not healed or they remain poor they are often told that it is because they did not have enough faith This study discovers the origin of the principles that are taught by some charismatic leaders Glyn Ackerley identifies them as the same ideas that are taught by the positive confession health wealth and prosperity movement originating in the United States The origins of the ideas are traced back to New Thought metaphysics and its background philosophies of subjective idealism and pragmatism These principles were imported into the UK through contact between British leaders and those influenced by American word of faith teachers Glyn Ackerley explains the persuasiveness of such teachers by examining case studies suggesting their

of law It searches for a curative for the pathological transformation of these institutions into so called political religions Along this line it explores the importance of spirituality and transcendence for political legitimacy democratic participation and international cooperation law and politics There being no general agreed upon definition of spirituality the authors examine what may be seen as spiritual dimensions of the political These dimensions have in common a focus on transcendence as a vanishing point of rationality and rational justification This vanishing point may become manifest for example in a primordial requisite of becoming an individual person in responding in freedom to the call of theocracy in the phenomenon of prophecy or political wisdom in the remaining shards of formerly all pervasive religious institutions in tenacious hope for a democracy to come in the courageous resilience and resistance of citizens of non or un democratic states etc The authors of this book philosophers theologians psychologists jurists and others are more or less suspicious of the Modern theories of the social contract allegedly justifying democracy It may turn out however that the inexhaustive and unfathomable dimension of faith which comes up as an alternative is not so easy to handle as a rational argument This impracticality of faith and transcendence might be the irreducible yet indispensable predicament of democracy Faith Schools Roy Gardner, Denis Lawton, Jo Cairns, 2005 Provides an accessible overview of the debates issues and practicalities of faith based education It sets out the challenges and opportunities of different approaches to faith schools and addresses the choices faced by parents International Handbook of Catholic Education Gerald Grace, Joseph, SJ O'Keefe, 2007-12-07 Knowledge of Catholic educational scholarship and research has been largely confined to specific national settings Now is the time to bring together this scholarship This is the first international handbook on Catholic educational scholarship and research The unifying theme of the Handbook is Catholic Education challenges and responses in a number of international settings In addition to analyzing the largest faith based educational system worldwide the book also critically examines contemporary issues such as church state relations and the impact of secularization and globalization Mixed Faith and Shared Feeling Musa Gurnis, 2018-07-31 Mixed Faith and Shared Feeling explores the mutually generative relationship between post Reformation religious life and London s commercial theaters It explores the dynamic exchange between the imaginatively transformative capacities of shared theatrical experience with the particular ideological baggage that individual playgoers bring into the theater While early modern English drama was shaped by the polyvocal confessional scene in which it was embedded Musa Gurnis contends that theater does not simply reflect culture but shapes it According to Gurnis shared theatrical experience allowed mixed faith audiences to vicariously occupy alternative emotional and cognitive perspectives across the confessional spectrum In looking at individual plays such as Thomas Middleton s A Game of Chess and Shakespeare s Measure for Measure Gurnis shows how theatrical process can restructure playgoers experiences of confessional material and interrupt dominant habits of religious thought She refutes any assumption that audiences consisted of conforming Church of England Protestants by tracking the complex and changing religious lives of seventy known playgoers Arguing against work that seeks to draw fixed lines of religious affiliation around individual playwrights or companies she highlights the common practice of cross confessional collaboration among playhouse colleagues Mixed Faith and Shared Feeling demonstrates how post Reformation representational practices actively reshaped the ways ideologically diverse Londoners accessed the mixture of religious life across the spectrum of beliefs
